ABOLISH THE BY-LAWS

REGARDING MARKET FORESTALLING AND TOLLS.

Two Merchants Give Their Views—Forestalling By-Law a Detriment to the City and Should Be Repealed. Kingston, Aug. 4.—(To the Editor): I read Ald. Gaskin's letter regarding the forestalling by-law, with considerable interest.

Probably in no other city in Canada is such a by-law allowed to exist. Other cities are going ahead in all lines.

Abolish By-Law And Tolls. Kingston, Aug. 4.—(To the Editor): Regarding the forestalling by-law and the market tolls which read in much these days, I do not think that the real condition of affairs is rightly put.

More than this, the majority of these sales are made a further menace to the merchant from the fact that when the goods are disposed of, the seller pays the money thus obtained in his home for at the present time groceries of all kinds can be purchased at nearly any village as good and as cheaply as in the city.

Can't Get Sunday Drinks. Liquor selling on Saturday night and Sunday has decreased to a great extent in late on account of the local license inspector having been notified by the Toronto powers that he get busy and earn his salary, by having a conviction once in a while.
