CRIME IS FEARED

RESIDENTS EXCITED OVER A MURDER MYSTERY.

Blood Found on Hat—Was Laid: Seen Riding a Bicycle on Way to Place Where He Lived.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The cure of the village of Chateaux, Abbe Delarue, has mysteriously disappeared, and despite the careful and anxious search of his parishioners, no clue has been found to the mystery of what is, no doubt, a deliberate murder.

On Monday, July 23rd, at five o'clock in the morning, the Abbe Delarue left his house on his bicycle for the station of Sainville, to take the train for Paris to receive certain subscribers of the charities of his parish. He was only to be gone forty-eight hours.

On Wednesday evening he arrived from Paris in Etampes, and as it was too late to catch the train from Etampes to Sainville, Abbe Delarue mounted his bicycle to return to Chateaux by road. Since that moment he has completely disappeared.

His sister, who lives with him at Chateaux, not seeing him return, telegraphed to the woman in Paris, an old friend of the family, with whom he always stopped when in Paris. She received a telegram that he had left on Tuesday. Abbe Delarue had in his possession a sum of about $170. The people of Chateaux and the neighborhood were convinced that their cure had been the victim of foul play, and organized search parties. The first result was the finding near the village of Longueville of a priest's hat pierced with a knife and stained with blood. This was recognized as the hat of the unfortunate abbe. This is regarded as a proof that he has been assassinated.

In the neighborhood of the spot where the hat was found is a deep pool known as the Etang de Mouligneux. It is supposed that some of the doubtful characters that the harvest season always attracts to the Beaune had laid in wait for Abbe Delarue, attacked and robbed him and made away with the body.

It is certain that the assassination could only have taken place in the wild and picturesque part of the country between Etampes and Chalo-Saint-Mars. Here there are masses of trees, thickets and especially numerous ponds. One of them, which bears the sinister name of the Abime (Abyss), is nearly sixty feet deep.

For the last week the local gendarmerie and large bodies of peasants have made a thorough batime of the whole countryside. The cure of Sainville, the commune alongside Chateaux, put himself at the head of his parishioners and made a thorough search all round the spot where the missing priest's hat was found. Men armed with scythes cut the long grass, but nothing was found.

MADMEN STOP BALLOON.

Felt Man With Ballast, But Without Effect.

Milan, Aug. 18.—A couple of aeronauts had a quiet adventure while passing over Giandola yesterday. They were travelling low down preparing for a descent when they happened to cross some fields attached to a lunatic asylum in which several of the patients were working.

At sight of the airship the lunatics set up a shout, and one of them seized the trail rope and clung on. Others joined him and then tried to haul down the aeronauts.

The balloonists, fearing mischief, began to pelt them with ballast to make them release their hold, but the lunatics appeared to enjoy the excitement and a great joke, and continued hauling.

The uproar they made finally attracted the keepers, who ran to the assistance of the aeronauts and the packing over several of the more stubborn patients, released their hold of the rope. The balloon then shot away, carrying from the ground one lunatic who had become entangled. He fell several yards on another inmate, but neither appeared to be much the worse for the encounter.

THREE DAYS "DEAD."

Narrowly Escaped Fate of Being Buried Alive.

London, Aug. 18.—A man who was said to be eighty-three years old, told an extraordinary story to the magistrate at Old Street police court, yesterday. He stated that he had been found unconscious in the street, conveyed to a hospital, and thence to a workhouse infirmary, where he was pronounced dead.

He lay three days in the mortuary vault, he said, before he revived. His purpose in narrating the circumstances to the magistrate was to learn how to get the benefit of a pension from a society of which he is a member. The rules provide that no one who has been in a workhouse is entitled to a benefit, and the old man said the trustees asserted that his involuntary detention in the infirmary invalidated his claim.

The magistrate told him how to proceed, and he went away without leaving his name and address.

STUDENT SWIMS SWISS LAKE.

FAILS TO LOWER RECORD OF WOMAN.

Geneva, Aug. 18.—Two young English students, Messrs. H. Walker and Story, staying at Neuchatel, attempted to lower the record held by Mile. B. Robert, a Swiss girl of nineteen, who recently swam across Lake Neuchatel in two hours and fifty minutes.

After covering about three miles, Mr. Story had to give up, owing to an attack of cramp, but Mr. Walker passed the cold zone in the centre of the lake with safety, and swam the distance of five and a half miles in three hours and six minutes.

Mile. Robert made her record toward the end of the summer, when the water of the lake is much warmer, and Mr. Walker intends to try again toward the end of August.

SPIDER RINGS A BELL.

Alarm Lead Police to Suspect Burglars.

London, Aug. 18.—A remarkable story of how a spider rang an electric bell came from Hanley. While a North Staffordshire policeman was on duty the other night he heard an electric alarm bell ringing in a top at his beat. He suspected burglars, and a watch was set while the manager was summoned. Then the premises were entered, but nobody was discovered, and still the bell kept ringing.

At last, when the bell was examined, it was found that a spider had spun its web from the bell to the battery that a circuit was established, the bell at once began to ring, continuing to do so until the web was broken.

SHOT BY COSSACK.

Drags Body Into Territory of the German.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—A Russian smuggler was shot and killed on Prussian soil, recently, near Lurahuethe, by a Cossack frontier patrolman, who crossed the frontier and dragged the body into the Prussian territory.

When the Cossack saw that persons working in the forest were watching him he disappeared. Another version says that the dead man was a book-keeper on his way to the customs house. He was pestered by Cossack patrols without reason, and when he tried to flee they shot him down.

ESCAPE IN SACKS.

Reveals Secret of Disappearance of Dangerous Character.

Madrid, Aug. 18.—The authorities of the prison in Melilla, Spanish North Africa, have been much concerned over the escapes of dangerous convicts from the prison. A dangerous convict named Casnova, who escaped a few days ago, was found by a sergeant in a black sack, which was usually placed outside the prison.

Casnova explained that a number of convicts had escaped in this way. When the guards were not looking at the prisoners engaged in manual work outside, a man hastily got into the sack, and was carried out to await a favorable opportunity to escape.

TOO HOT FOR SERVICE.

Fall Asleep While "Knot" is Being Tied.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—A wave of intense heat is passing over the greater part of Germany. Most of the rivers flowing north and east are swelling rapidly, and in some cases navigation is seriously impeded. Cases of sunstroke are numerous.

In Berlin the lime and plane trees have assumed a coppery hue for want of water, and only with the greatest difficulty the grass in the parks is kept green. Some idea of the heat may be had from the fact that 500 pigs arrived yesterday at the Central market dead from the heat and thirst.

A more amusing instance of the effects of the heat, occurred in Saxony at a marriage, where both the bride and bridegroom, overcome by the stifling heat, fell asleep in the midst of the clergyman's address to them.

BOY'S DARING FEAT.

Climbs to Top of Steeple 250 Feet High.

London, Aug. 18.—One of the boys of Oundle school accomplished a daring feat recently.

Without the aid of mechanical appliances of any kind, he climbed to the top of one spire of Oundle church, 250 feet high.

The boy climbed by the aid of the stone crevices, or projections, on the steeple, and to prove he had accomplished his handiwork perfectly and safely.

Twenty years ago another pupil of the school named Bailey—now a well-known doctor—climbed the steeple and tied his boot laces to the spire, as when he came down he received a sound thrashing and a sovereign from Mr. Reads, the head master.

GOLD MINES IN IRELAND.

Discovery of Nugget Big as Egg Reported.

Dublin, Aug. 18.—Much interest has been aroused in Ireland in a discovery of gold in the west.

The discovery was made during quarrying operations at Boho, near Castlebar, in County Roscommon. Workmen found between two layers of rock a lump of virgin gold said to be about the size of a goose egg.

A Dublin analyst has confirmed the fact that the nugget is composed of the precious metal.

Such a sensation has been caused in the district by the discovery that people are flocking to the spot from all parts.

RAILWAY TUNNEL THROUGH BUILDING.

Manchester, Aug. 18.—One of the warehouses erected alongside the new dock at Manchester exhibits the singular detail of a railway tunnel, about 250 feet long and provided with two lines of rails, passing through the ground floor of the structure in an oblique direction, so as to permit goods trains to be run direct from the quay to the goods yard at the other side of the buildings.
