> IMPROVEMENTS IN PEKIN. Great Advance in China in Last Two Years.

London, Aug. 25 .- A competent authority on things Chinese, states that during the last two years China has made more real advancement than in the previous millenium. That his judgment is sound is apparent to those who enjoy the vantage point of a residence in Pekin. It has long been predicted that changes would be surprising in their speed, but the most sanguine had not hoped for what is taking place. In passing through Pekin, the streets seems to be the most striking phenomenon. Three years ago there seemed little hope that the black mud, and the disgusting sights and stenches, would ever give place to anything better. The board that had been appointted to repair the streets was consider ed to have an Augean task and was the butt of many facetious remarks. Now the broad thoroughfares are fast being converted into handsome avenucs. The central portion, a strip of about seven yards in width, is being well acadamized with the aid of steam rollers. This is flanked on each side shallow drains of brickwork, a row to his neighbors, Lord Amherst yestrees, an unpaved strip of five yards good repair, then a curbed sidewalk and retirement will be necessary for of varying width, cheaply cemented with pounded lime and earth. The wilding line has been straightened, necessitating the rebuilding of many shops, the rehabilitation of which is in keeping with the rest. Long forgotten sewers have been reopened, and laces of conveniences erected, the use were endless, "Every man who works of which is made compulsory, Innumerable unsightly sheds which have occupied half the roadway are being removed, forever, it is hoped, and the squatters have sought other fields in Lord Amherst will spend the winter which to ply their trades. The new roadways are guarded by uniformed police in their sentry boxes, and kept in order by numerous laborers. Fine telephone poles, strong and countless opper wires, replace the topsy-turvy line of the last few years. The tele phone is no longer a curiosity, but is
