THE GAME ON THE CRICKET FIELD A DRAW.

It Was Quite An Interesting Event—A Fair Exhibition of the Soccer Game—The Latest Sporting Notes.

The Soccer game at the cricket field, yesterday morning, was a very fair exhibition of the sport and attracted a good number of spectators. The score stood two all at the end of the match and is a very fair indication of the respective merits of both teams. The play was spectacular at times and good individual plays were by no means scarce on either side. The game was inclined to be scrappy, however, and this may be partially blamed on the referee who was a little erratic. The teams lined up:

Sunbury—Back, W. Cuddy; full-backs B. Balls, T. Fisher; half-backs, G. Garrett, H. Shannon, A. McDonald; forwards, T. Cuddy, W. McDonald, S. Fisher, F. Hanley, A. Patterson.

Kingston—Back, Fleet; full-backs, C. Stuart, G. Hart; half-backs, Smith, M. Hart, Watts; forwards, Wilkinson, McLeod, Hamilton, Hershaw, Batty.

Umpire—James Fisher.

He Was The Hero.

In a baseball contest at Oswego, between Oswego and Geneva, "Chaucer" Elliott is reported as the hero, for his swishing, singing double to left which sent three men over the plate.

To Play Polo.

The Kingston Polo Club is playing in Montreal, this afternoon, against the members of the club representing the metropolis. Most of the Kingstonians went down Sunday at noon. The ponies, sixteen in number, are in charge of Messrs. John McLaughlin and Frank Haskett. The Limestone city will be represented by Col. Williams, Major Mozely, F. McParland, Russell Brown, Kirkland, and W. Harty. The last named will not be able to play in all probability, owing to injuries received in the back from the throw at the Rochester-Kingston game. His services will be decidedly missed by the visiting four if he is not in the line-up. Russell Brown and Kirkland are both members of the Kingston club, and said to be strong players. One or both may play against the metropolis.

Ready To Meet Them.

The outcome of the ball game, yesterday afternoon, was a brag on the part of the Gananoque baseball manager that the team from the factory town could defeat anything in Kingston, for fun, money or marbles. It wasn't many moments before he was overwhelmed with offers. He talked too big and when it came to money all he could raise was $25. This was covered, but the option left with the enthusiast of Gananoque to raise it to $100 if he cared. The game will be played in Kingston next Saturday.

Sporting Notes.

Peterboro will be represented in the senior series of the O.R.F.U. this season.

In the N.L.U., Toronto beat the Shamrocks in Montreal. Montreal won at Cornwall, 6 to 5.

Barker, the Australian sprinter, who competed in the Olympic games at Athens, will compete in the Canadian championship events at Montreal.

The Soccer game, yesterday, makes the second match in which Sunbury and the Locomotive Works' teams have competed. Both resulted in a tie.

The first hockey shift is noted in the reported removal from Brockville of Marks, of the Brockville Federals, who has signed to play in New Glasgow, N.S., next season.

The lacrosse match, Capitals vs. Tecumsehs, will be played at Toronto if the championship depends upon it. This is the game Hugh Nickle tried to secure for Lake Ontario Park.

Ottawa College Football Club may drop out of the intercollegiate series. The university athletic association feels that under present conditions of playing only undergraduates it cannot successfully maintain a team in the series against Queen's, McGill and Toronto.

The Thousand Island Park baseball team defeated Edgewood at Cape Vincent, N.Y., on Friday, by a score of five to four. Three thousand persons saw the game. The park team won the title of Northern New York and St. Lawrence river champions and likewise a purse of $250.

At Readville, Mass., Ecstatic went the second heat in the free-for-all in 2.01¾, and the third in 2.02¾. The first is the fastest, by a second, ever made by a pacing mare in a race, while the combined time of the two heats averaged faster than before made by a pacing mare in competition. Ecstatic is owned by J. P. Holder, of Yonkers, N.Y.

IN MARINE CIRCLES.

Steamer Kingston Smashed Her Fenders.

The steamer Kingston was unfortunate in some of its river landings yesterday afternoon. There was a stiff breeze blowing directly against the Thousand Island wharves on the south side, and the result was that when the Kingston came into the Alexandria Bay landing most of the fenders on the port side were smashed into kindling. A large crowd of people were standing close to the edge of the wharf as the big steamer approached. Small boats covered each end of the landing, forcing the Kingston to take about a curved hundred feet in the centre, the worst place possible for her. With steam off, the wind carried the Kingston in with great force. Some one yelled to the crowd to keep back as it was seen there would be a crash. The warning came just in time, as some people would have been injured had they remained where they had been standing. Had the lower part of the wharf been kept clear of boats Capt. Esford could have landed the Kingston with much less damage. There was a delay of half an hour in replacing the broken fenders. At Clayton wharf one fender was smashed.

The Caspian To Run.

The steamer Caspian will run during September this season, instead of the steamer North King. Next Saturday the latter will return here to go into quarters. The Caspian has proved a faster boat than the King this season. She runs a fifteen mile clip with ease, and Mr. Hickey, the chief engineer of the line, will accept a brush with any passenger boat between Toronto and Alexandria, outside the big steamers Toronto and Kingston.

Marine Notes.

The schooner Marianett cleared, light, yesterday, for Charlotte.

The sloop Laura D., returned, yesterday, from Bath, with a load of hay.

The SS. Plummer, from Fort William to Montreal, passed down last evening.

Richardson's: The schooner Queen of the Lakes cleared for Sodus with feldspar.

The schooner Acacia arrived, Sunday, from Sodus, with coal for the Locomotive Works.

At Alexandria Bay, this winter, a big passenger boat will be built for daily service from there to Ogdensburg.

The steamer Varuna is to be fitted out with a new engine of modern improvement after the excursion season is over.

Crawford's: The schooner Clara Youell, from Oswego, with coal; the schooner Lizzie Metzner, with coal, from Fairhaven.

The steamer Dundurn, on her trip down from Hamilton to Montreal, unloaded iron at the Locomotive Works. She was two days delayed.

The steamer Belleville went down the river as far as Prescott, on Sunday, transferred her freight and passengers and returned to Toronto, yesterday.

The steamer Quebec will, this winter, be entirely rebuilt, lengthened thirty feet and run between Montreal and Quebec as a sister boat to the Montreal.

The tug Cardinal and tow barge Flora Carveth arrived, Saturday, from Prescott. The Cardinal is undergoing repairs at the Kingston foundry marine railway, after which she will clear for Oswego to load coal for the Cardinal Starch Works.

There is a possibility of the Folger line having a new boat. Recently Howard Folger remarked that could a sufficiently long-time contract guaranteeing a certain amount of business be secured with the New York Central railroad to warrant a new boat, one capable of carrying 1,000 passengers would at once be built. This new boat would be used on the St. Lawrence's trip, the "Saint" being placed on the Islander's run and the latter being sold to some Bay of Quinte parties now desirous of purchasing it.

M. T. Co.: The tug Bronson and four barges from Montreal; the tug Glide and four barges from Montreal; the tug Hall and four barges from Montreal; the tug Emerson and three coal barges from Charlotte; the tug Emerson, with three grain barges and one coal barge, for Montreal; the tug Bronson and four grain barges for Montreal; the tug Glide and three grain barges for Montreal; the tug Hall and three grain barges for Montreal; the tug Thomson and four barges from Montreal; the steamer Rosemount, from Fort William, with 80,000 bushels of wheat.

BROKE INTO HOUSE.

Thieves Gain Entrance, But Take Nothing.

Some time between Saturday afternoon and Monday, the home, 242 Wellington street, of William McCrae, Q.M.S. armourer, O.S.C., was broken into. The police received the report last night.

One of the windows was smashed and the inside catch which held it fast was unhooked, so that by raising the lower half a person or persons could be admitted. The family was in Barriefield camping.

As yet it is not known what was stolen, if anything, as nothing has been missed.

NO PLACE FOR HIM

THE VERDICT TOUCHING AN OLD MAN'S DEATH.

Which Occurred in the County Jail—He Had Committed No Crime, But the Jail Was His Final Abode on Earth.

The man Stone, who figured much of late in the police court, on charges of vagrancy, died at the county jail at noon, Sunday. He was committed to jail on August 25th, for two weeks.

Monday at ten o'clock the following jury was empanelled to enquire into his death, under the direction of Coroner Mundell: Edgar Hiscock, foreman; John Ballantyne, Dr. Cliff, F. Sleith, A. E. Shannon, W. Newlands, H. Hodgins, T. Ballantyne, A. McMahon, F. Davis, J. Davis, J. Harrigan.

Governor Corbett, of the jail, stated that the deceased had been old and feeble. He thought it cruel to send a poor old man, under such circumstances, to a criminal institution. Everything had been done that was possible for the old man's comfort.

Dr. Sands declared that the old man's death was due to weakness of old age.

A. Lee, turnkey, D. Doubert, a prisoner and Miss Brooks, the matron, all gave evidence that deceased had been well cared for.

The jury delivered this verdict:

"The jury are of the opinion that William Stone came to his death of old age and general debility, and also think that though he received every care and attention while in the jail, yet that institution is not the proper place for an old man who had committed no crime."

A point strongly dwelt upon by the coroner was that the county jail should not be the place to send old men of no means. He advocated the need of an infirmary ward attached to the House of Industry and supported by the government. Here the old and infirm could be attended to, by a nurse attached, and they would receive the proper medical attendance. It was not right that because a man was without means of support, he should in his old age be hustled off to die in a criminal institution when he had done no wrong.

Following the coroner's inquest Archdeacon Macmorine read the burial service over the deceased octogenarian.

Did Not Arrive Here.

Owing to some want of connection on the New York Central railway, on Saturday, Mrs. Ludgate (Nellie Ryerson) was unable to reach Kingston to address the meeting at the Salvation Army barracks on Sunday afternoon. Many old friends were present to greet her and were disappointed. The officer in charge conducted the meeting and delivered an interesting address.

Bitten By Dog.

C. Miller, carter for Sowards, while endeavoring a humane act, Monday, was severely bitten on the right hand by a dog. The dog had been run over and the unfortunate man went to lift up the canine, when the animal turned on him and put his teeth through his would-be helper's hand. Dr. R. Hanley hopes to prevent blood poisoning though the bite is a serious one.

Took In The Trip.

Eager for another trip before the season closed fully two hundred town folk went down on the steamer North King for her ramble among the islands on Sunday. She carried as large a crowd as on any day this summer. The day was very pleasant on the water, despite the fact of it being the windiest of the season. The wind blew twenty-two miles an hour.

Died Of Fever.

John Wilkins, son of Rev. W. T. Wilkins, of Trenton, who left Kingston with Hugo B. Craig, for the G.T.P.R. survey service near Fort William, died in hospital in that town, on Monday, after a siege of typhoid fever. He was unusually robust, had never before been ill, and was near the prime of life, twenty-nine years of age. The untimely calling is very sad. He was nephew of Alderman Craig, of Kingston, and was a favorite here, while assistant in the city engineer's office.

Rev. Dyson Hague Preached.

At Sunday morning service in St. James' church, a very excellent sermon was delivered by Rev. Dyson Hague, of London. There was a fair-sized congregation. The speaker took for his text Isaiah liii, 6, "All we like sheep have gone astray." Particular stress was laid on the opening word—all. We have all gone astray. The simile was made of the sheep going astray so easily under a wrong leader; so men! But Christ set a splendid example and we should follow His steps.

LABOR DAY EVENTS

THE LABOR PARADE WAS A LARGE ONE.

Sports at the Fair Grounds—Irishmen Beat Triple Linkers at Baseball By 12 to 11.

Labor day passed off quietly and peacefully. Weather conditions considered the day was a pleasant one, a trifle cool. There were no outside excursions of any proportions.

During the early part of yesterday afternoon the principal city streets were crowded with citizens to see the parade. About four hundred members of the local labor unions were in marching line. Music was furnished by the 14th Regimental band and the Battersea musicians. The procession proceeded to the fair grounds where a good sized crowd had gathered.

The fans had gathered in goodly numbers to witness the diamond attraction—Irishmen vs. Triple Links. In a highly exciting game of ball the "green" won out 12 to 11.

The end was rather unexpected as the eventual losers led all through, at one time the score standing 9 to 6 in favor of the "Triples."

The teams lined up:

Triple Links.—Laird, s.s.; Appleton, l.f.; Lappen, 1b.; McCammon, p.; Vanhorne, 2b.; S. Saunders, c.f.; F. Saunders, 3b.; Burke, c.; Birch, r.f.

Irishmen.—Lumb, s.s.; Williams, l.f.; Hunt, 1b.; Sullivan, p.; Dehaney, 2b.; Young, c.f.; Stokes, 3b.; Meacham, c.; Reilley, r.f.

Umpire—William McParland.

Various sports were run off. Following are the results:

100 yards run—H. Little, Gunner Bilodeau.

200 yards dash—Little, Bilodeau.

Half mile—Bilodeau, Wilkinson.

75 yards for married women—Mrs. J. Hunt.

Dog race was by the canine driven by Master Boyer.

One-quarter mile—Little.

Fat man's race—Henderson, Wilson, Arniel.

Men's race—Mullinger.

Those not sportily inclined indulged in the light fantastic to the music of Crosby & O'Connor's orchestra. Dancing was kept up in the evening.
