A good deal of feeling has been aroused in Kingston over the appointment of Major L. W. Shannon, one of the owners of the Kingston vews, which has always been vilely abusive of the liberal party, to a prominent position in the permanent militia force. It does not appear that Mr. Shannon had any special qualification for the office, and the King-ston liberals are justly incensed that patronage legitimately theirs, should be given to a man whose partizanship There has been a good deal of plain speaking over this appointment, but not half enough. Going right down to the bottom of matters, it does seem that Sir William Mulock had very ening the Toronto industrial exhibition the other day, he put in a strong plea against militarism in Canada. There is altogether too much of it, and officers have been multiplied beyond all necessity.
