ARTILLERY IS HOME

"A" BATTERY BACK FROM PETAWAWA CAMP.

Return, 240 Strong, With 200 Horses—Fifty-Five Men and Thirty-Six Horses of "B" Battery Come to Toronto.

The second artillery practice camp at Petawawa has come to a close with the return of "A" battery, R.C.H.A., yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. If the camp held at Petawawa this year, it can be truly said that it was the most successful from an artillery point of view of any yet held in Canada.

The artillery are of the service in Canada, although in many respects the most efficient of any, has been greatly handicapped by the lack of a suitable range for active practice under service conditions. The old artillery range at Deseronto was deficient in this respect, so it became an absolute necessity to look elsewhere for another and the Petawawa site on the Ottawa River, a distance of 200 miles from Kingston, was selected. The sparsely settled, wild and mountainous nature of the country for many miles made the camp site at Petawawa an ideal one, particularly to artillerists. From the standpoint of health also the camp at Petawawa is a natural sanitarium. The smell of the pines and heavy undergrowth, combined with the bracing air, means health in every breath, while the almost unequalled scenery up and down the Ottawa river, as seen from "Cupid's Nest," the official residence of the commandant, and the highest surrounding point, completes the chain. The foregoing description of the natural advantages of Petawawa as a central camp and artillery range is wholly insufficient and inadequate, and a visit to the camp, combined with some technical knowledge of military matters, is necessary to a just appreciation of the place as a training ground for the Canadian militia.

The work at Petawawa was largely of the nature of pioneering, even the land had to be brought from the surrounding settlers, and hard work early and late was necessary on the part of "A" and "B" batteries to prepare the ranges, make targets, build horse shelters, without assistance from the engineer's branch. This year on reaching Petawawa the officers and men of the local batteries were greatly surprised to find numerous buildings already erected for the accommodation of the troops, principally men's quarters, offices and stables. All these buildings were lighted throughout with acetylene gas and a regular network of pipes, carried the best of spring water to all points of the camp. Two of these large buildings were converted respectively into what were known as the "dry" and "wet" canteens, the former dispensing groceries, dry goods, etc., and the latter liquid refreshments. Since the only inconvenience experienced was the distance supplies had to be procured from, the most of them coming from Pembroke on the C.P.R., a distance of twelve miles.

The previously stated, the commandant occupied a high knoll, overlooking the Ottawa valley, the whole of the camp building thereon being used as the commandant's residence and office. General routine work was carried on in the camp, the buildings being erected by contract, while the laying of the water pipes, the lighting and the telephone system were all the work of the Royal Canadian Engineers, and they reflect great credit upon that branch of the Canadian service. There was, however, much hard work for the local batteries, especially on the ranges and many of our young officers and men have graduated in the use of the axe. Gun practice was carried out by all the permanent and militia artillery from Halifax to Winnipeg, with very gratifying results.

Rumors that one of the local batteries was to be removed to Toronto, pending the contemplated alterations to the barracks here, was confirmed at the close of the camp by "B" battery being ordered to Toronto, leaving Petawawa at ten o'clock. At six o'clock a.m. on the 10th, "A" battery entrained for Kingston, being delayed two hours at Pembroke by the breaking down of the engine, another having to be telegraphed for. The battery reached here one hundred and sixty strong, all ranks, and about one hundred horses. The strength of the battery going to Toronto, was fifty-five all ranks and thirty-six horses. The officers and men thoroughly enjoyed the camp and after two months' hard work under sun and wind, look fit for anything.

On the way in one of the horses, which was in a common box car, was kicked by another animal, and a nasty wound inflicted on its front leg. Veterinary Capt. Marvin was called, and dressed the wound up. Nothing happened to any of the horses that were brought in in the palace horse cars. It would pay the government to hereafter provide the best of cars for the horses, which are a most valuable asset, and they are liable to be injured in travelling in near cars.

INHUMAN CRUELTY

To Horses Seems Common—A Revolting Case.

Attention has again been called to the fact that near an Barriefield encampment there are still a number of horses which have apparently been turned out by their owners to die, and unless they secure co-operation from some of the authorities, whether city or country, the Humane Society feel that they are powerless to do much.

As one illustration of the cruelty which has been practised by men towards his best friend, it is claimed that for over a week one horse was left dying on the commons, where it had been left by its owner. Some person had entreated to kill it with an axe, but failed, and left the poor beast in a worse condition than ever, as a blow from the axe had gorged out one of the eyes, and it lay there moaning with pain. The incident was finally reported to one of the ladies connected with the society, who took immediate steps to have the poor animal put out of its misery. It is said that there are other cases equally as bad.

AN ELOQUENT MAN

REV. DR. TUCKER GIVES A STIRRING ADDRESS.

His Tale of the West a Glowing One, and His Appeal For Men and Means a Moving One.

Glowing with romance, and told with an Irish richness of imagery and vividness of description, Dr. Tucker Tucker's tale of the Golden West on Sterling, his call for men and means to plant the Church there a moving one. The audience which listened to the eloquent general secretary of the Canadian church, in St. George's hall, was more distinguished for quality than quantity, the lack of numbers being due to the inclemency of a rural clime who had forgotten to notify the clergy of Rt. Tucker's coming, that their congregations might in turn be notified.

The secretary spoke of the importance of getting the country's geography well fixed in the mind, for on the political divisions were largely built the ecclesiastical divisions. Some of his figures and some of his facts are startling. Into New Ontario the united church of Canada has sent two clergymen, and less than $3,000 per annum. Up in the North-West there are thirty towns in a row supplied with every need of social and commercial life, with every desire for the spread of evil, and not one church, not one clergyman. The cry of the bishops in the west is: "Send a man and not a dollar," and the land filling with settlers by the thousands every month. There may be a sad day coming for old Ontario, and Canada in the east when the sons of New Ontario and the west come down to beleaguer at Ottawa, and because the church has not furnished to go to them, to feed them, to care for them, to teach them in the faith, and in righteousness, they will bring with them their materialism, their agnosticism, and sweep since the heritage which protect the morality of our dominion's life.

Canon Starr thanked Dr. Tucker, most cordially for his speech, mentioning the pleasure with which Kingston always listened to him.

W. A. BOARD MEETING.

President and Two New Officers Welcomed.

The W. A. Board of Ontario diocese opened its monthly meetings on Monday, the new president, Miss Macaulay, in her place. The new treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, and the new recording secretary, Miss Isabel Bigham, occupied with the president, a very warm welcome.

Miss Macaulay said she hoped all members would unite to the meetings in a spirit of devotion, that they would be meeting under their regular attendance, that they would always strive to be on time. She promised her hearers that the board is the centre of work, and the spirit which generally flows outlying to the branches. She trusted that the same spirit of harmony and good-will which has hitherto prevailed will continue, and the work be thereby advanced.

Mrs. J. O. Cringe, who has lately come back from the west, gave a graphic account of visits she had paid with her husband to the Blackfoot and Blood reserves and of a meeting with Ontario's poet, the Hawkeley boys, at "Carrig School," where they are being educated.

Rev. Dr. Parker gave a short and much appreciated address to the meeting.

Satisfied With The Purchase.

Alderman Gaskin says he is quite satisfied with the purchase of the recovery-fire tube-vault generator at the light plant. He thinks it a great bargain. The generator, he points out, has been tested for two years, and proved satisfactory. In his opinion it is as good, if not better, than a new generator. It cost Mr. Campbell $1,500 two years ago, and he is selling it to the city for $1,000.

Annual Meeting.

The Queen Street Methodist church auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society held its annual meeting Monday afternoon, and elected these officers: Honorary president, Mrs. C. F. Wilson; president, Mrs. W. H. Spankling; vice-presidents, Mrs. Oliver, W. Craig, Mrs. W. Baker; treasurer, Mrs. C. Wright; secretary, Mrs. S. J. Kilpatrick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Wentworth. The past year's work was of a highly gratifying character.

The beauty lies in a money-maker. It "hungers" up one's thoughts; it sweetens one's life; it's better up one's sleeve, and drops, sip by sip, into one's heart when Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is used. Tea or tablets, 35c. Halkett's drug store.

Still In Prison Hospital.

Hope To Have Good Opening.

The opening of Queen's new gymnasium promises to be quite an event. It is likely to take place on University day, October 20th, and if arrangements can so be made the speaker of the occasion will be Dr. Talt Mackenzie, of Philadelphia. The iron girders for the roof arrived to-day and a large staff of carpenters was immediately put at work on the roof.

Pleasant To Hear.

It will be a pleasure to the congregation of St. George's cathedral to hear that their new rector, Canon Farthing, and in his own town, Woodstock, after his visit to Kingston some years ago, that he had never been at such a beautiful service as that in which he took part in our cathedral. It will be remembered that Canon Farthing preached in the cathedral a few years ago.

Park Should Be Lighted.

Caretaker of Parks Phillips is of the opinion that an electric light should be placed at once in the new park on Clarence street between the post office and the customs house. At night there is not the least particle of light in the square, and it is impossible to see the rear of it at all. The result has been that it is already being made the rendezvous of a number of low characters and loafers who stay there until all hours of the night.

Will Assume The Duties.

William Kelly, chairman of the board of education, and local correspondent of the Dominion Labor Gazette, has received an offer from the Canadian Information Bureau to act as their representative. This concern acts in conjunction with the Montreal board of trade, and points out to those desirous of investing capital the resources of the different points. Mr. Kelly has notified the company of his intention of taking over the work in this vicinity.

What Will The Third Be?

Ingot Hannah, who is employed on the gas extension on Union street, thinks that yesterday must have been one of his unlucky days. While boating with a companion a knife, which the latter had in his hand, struck Mr. Hannah in the face, the blade penetrating the upper lip. Shortly had he got back to work after having the wound dressed, than he was hit on the head with a hammer and badly cut. He is looking forward with considerable alarm to see what the third of the series will be.

Has Bought An Auto.

Several times Alexander Tye has expressed to his friends his determination of purchasing an auto, and true to his word he arrived in town, yesterday afternoon, from the exhibition at Toronto, with a fine-looking car of a prominent make. The city dads, he says, was made in record time under the guidance of Timothy Taylor, a representative of the firm from whom he purchased the car. Mr. Taylor is taking a course of instruction in the workings of the machine, and expects soon to be an expert.

A Large Prize Winner.

W. H. Reid, Union street, is a big winner in poultry and pigeons at the fairs this season. At Sherbrooke, Que., he won $250 and three silver cups, at Toronto, where his entries were one-quarter of those at Sherbrooke, he cleared about $100. This week he is exhibiting at Ottawa fair, and afterwards takes his exhibit to Halifax. Mr. Reid has perhaps the best lot of pigeons and poultry in the country. He goes into their breeding for pastime, and manages to clear up about $650 a year thereby.

William Wallace O'Brien, Fort William, has been appointed by the Ontario government police magistrate for the territory in the district of Thunder Bay, not including the town of Fort William, along the line of the Superior section of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, also for such portion of the territory in the district of Lenny River, along the main line of the said railway as is accessible to Fort William, "as such salary as may be provided by the legislature for the purpose."

OPENING OF SEASON

AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE LAST EVENING.

A Large Audience Witnessed the Production of "Daily Variety."

—Harry's Orchestra to Be Strong This Season.

The local theatrical season opened last evening at the Grand Opera House with "Daily Variety" as the production. Last year the opening was much earlier, but this present period in the season seems to be quite early enough for theatricals. There was a good-sized audience in attendance. The house was in fine order. A few improvements of a minor nature were noticeable, adding to the further completeness of the house, which is one of the most up-to-date and comfortable in the province. Mr. Brandigan's management is all that could be desired, the staff under him being most efficient.

The company producing "Daily Variety" is one of merit. It has a tuneful and well-balanced chorus and good principals. It will be impossible to find another Belle Gilmer for the title role. Her successor, Miss Lillian Spencer, is a much younger girl, being only twenty years of age. Miss Spencer dances as well as Miss Gilmer, but hasn't the strength or the magnetism. However, by the time she attains the age of Gilmer, she may perhaps be fully her equal. The part of the leading lady being less of a star, more responsibility falls upon the other principals, and they certainly show strength. Klaus Farm, as "Letty Fairfax," has a superb soprano voice, and W. H. Rice, as "Jack Fairfax," has an equally powerful and sweet bass. The part of "Lord Gaspark" was taken by Harry Chesman, in a very creditable way. The production was richly staged.

The orchestra was again under the leadership of Mr. Berry, who has such a creditable organization last spring. He entertains this season having the best local orchestra that ever played in the house.

RALLY DAY.

Well Celebrated in Brock Street Methodist School.

Sunday was the day celebrated by the school as rally day, and if the interest manifested by the officers, teachers and children is an indication of success, there is every prospect of excellent work being done during the coming season. A capital programme was beautifully rendered and Rev. Dr. Ely gave an address.

The annual meeting of the Sunday school committee was held Monday evening, Rev. Dr. Ely presiding, when the following officers were elected:

Superintendent, William Kemp; assistant superintendent, C. B. Pepall; secretary, Miss H. Barney; treasurer, Miss C. Bingham; organist, C. Smith; librarian, E. Orser.

During the past year the school has adopted the graded system of Bible study, and it is confidently expected to continue in accordance with a graded curriculum during the coming season.

How She Understood It.

They tell this story on the flag of Quinte: Two Belleville women were spending the day in Picton, and chanced to see the advertisement of a watch attached on a board: "Belleville vs. Picton."
