GANANOQUE TIDINGS

TROUBLES OF A HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Agree to Separate, the Wife to Receive Support—A Liquor Violation Case Likely to Be Appealed.

Gananoque, Sept. 17.—The case of David Deryaw against his wife, for assault, came up before Police Magistrate Heaslip on Friday afternoon. After a preliminary hearing they were advised to settle the case out of court. A satisfactory settlement was arrived at, whereby Deryaw agreed to pay to his wife $1,000 for her future support and the maintenance of her child. The case brought to light a very shocking condition of affairs.

It is said that William Haly, convicted in the local police court on Wednesday last for a violation of the license act and fined $50, has made an appeal to a higher court against the decision of Police Magistrate Heaslip.

The Gananoque Rugby Club held their first practice at the fair grounds, Saturday afternoon. There is sufficient available material for a strong aggregation of kickers, and by the end of the month, when the season begins, the red and white may show to better advantage than it did last year.

The coal schooner Theodore Voges cleared for Oswego, Saturday. The schooner Collier cleared for Charlotte Saturday evening.

Rev. Reuben Calvert, B.D., of Pittsburg, officiated at both services in Grace church, Sunday. His work was looked after by Oscar Lloyd.

Miss Gladys Yule, who has been supplying in the Stone street school since the opening of the term, in the place of Miss Lloyd, has been compelled to retire on account of ill-health. The educational committee has secured the services of Miss Florence Carpenter, Wellington street, to fill the vacancy.

Joseph Mills, Hickory street, spent Thursday with friends in Brockville. Burton Churchill, district manager of the Scranton schools, for the province of Quebec, is spending a short vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peleg Churchill, Brock street.

A. Hudson, King street, spent some time with friends in Brockville during the past few days. Mrs. Hax, of Redwood, N.Y., is here to spend a few days with Mrs. F. Bowman, King street. Arthur Elliott and daughter, Cora, visited in town part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. William Rews, North street, and in company with Miss Nellie Rews, spent Thursday with friends in Brockville. Miss Eva Raymond, King street, spent some time with friends in Brockville during the past few days. Mr. and Mrs. William Allan and daughter, Clara, who have been spending the past week with friends in Kingston, returned home, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Pennock, King street, visited with friends in Brockville during the past few days. Mrs. Ira W. Harrison, Church street, spent a few days with friends in Brockville during the past week. Miss Bessie Middleton, who has been visiting in Brockville for a few days, has returned. J. J. Moore, corner North and Charles streets, is spending a short holiday season with friends at Evans' Mills, N.Y. John Connor, King street west, visited with friends in Brockville during the past few days. Miss Essie Orser, of Brockville, who has been visiting with friends and relatives here for the past week, has returned. George Applin, in charge of the baking department for Mr. Hudson, is enjoying a week's holidays in Syracuse, N.Y. Mrs. Nicholson, of Portsmouth, is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. George Smith, Arthur street.

The Bridge Habit.

Detroit Journal.

A family passionately devoted to bridge whist was plunged into mourning by the loss of the father. A discussion arose as to whether the deceased would have chosen to be buried or cremated. The decision was left to the eldest son, who, looking at his mother, said, "I will leave it to you," to which the lady replied, "I make it spades."

Piles positively cured with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. It's made for piles alone, and it does the work to perfection. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles, disappear like magic. Sold by all druggists.

The property belonging to the various livery companies of London is estimated to be worth at least fifteen millions sterling.

FASHION'S FORM.

A Tasty Gown in Silk or Satin.

Afternoon or evening gown of silk or soft-finished satin. The skirt, which was laid in very fine tucks about the hips, was made with a train, as are a great many of the more elaborate gowns among the new models, the trimming consisting of a six-inch-wide band of handsome lace set in at knee depth. The model frock was of amber-colored satin, the lace being quite heavy and of a yellowish tone, the material being cut away from under this lace empiecement.

The corsage was made with a round yoke of the lace, below which was a little pointed yolk of the satin hand embroidered in silk of the same shade, the top of this little yolk being finished by a bias band of the satin edged on each side by strands of the embroidery silk couched on. Below this satin yolk the material was shirred, the effect of puffs being given by straps of bias velvet of the same color and a slightly deeper tone, put on as shown in the sketch. These bands were finished on each side of the front by tiny bows of the velvet, which were slipped into little oval buckles of sparkling rhinestones. The lower part of the waist was inlet by a band of the wide lace to match the skirt, the material from under these bands being cut away to show an interlining of pale yellow chiffon, which veiled the white taffeta underslip. The sleeves were short puffs of the satin finished about the lower part of the lace and strapped by bands of the velvet.

Interesting Exhibition.

Middleburg, Holland, Sept. 17.—The interesting exhibition of Dutch gold and silver objects of vertu held here is attracting a great deal of attention in widest circles. Among the objects exhibited are the smallest book ever printed and the smallest commemorative medal in the world. The Lilliputian volume is the size of a bean. It contains a poem, entitled "Bloemhofje," or "The Little Flower Garden," and was printed in 1674 by C. Van Lange. Its binding is of red morocco, tooled in gold, and it is adorned with two of the tiniest silver clasps. This curiosity is the property of a Paris connoisseur who possesses a library of 400 diminutive booklets, which find ample room in a case the size of a cigar box. But, Bloemhofje is the smallest of the collection.

The microscopic medal is of gold, and may be compared in size with the head of a moderately large pin. It was struck in 1810, on the occasion of the birth of Napoleon's son, the king of Rome. On the obverse side a child's head appears, while the reverse shows the Capitoline she-wolf, suckling the twin babes Romulus and Remus. This medal is extremely rare and very valuable.

Military Tactics.

New York Tribune.

A good story is told of a beater on a grouse drive on a Yorkshire moor. He had observed the ineffectual efforts of a soldier who shot a great deal but killed nothing. A solitary old grouse approached his butt at a leisurely pace, giving the gunner ample time to miss with his first barrel, and after taking very deliberate aim with the second, he allowed the bird to pursue his way unscathed. "Now, draw your sword to him, captain," the Yorkshireman encouragingly shouted. The gun was ineffective, and there seemed time to repair the failure of hot lead with cold steel.

How He Knew.

New Orleans Picayune.

In a Kentucky court room, a prominent lawyer of that state was defending a prisoner charged with horse stealing, and a witness was swearing as to the identity of the stolen horse.

"How do you know this is the same horse?" asked the lawyer.

"Why, I just know it is," said the witness.

"Well, how?" again asked the man of law.

"I can't tell exactly how; but I know it-ze as well as I know that you are General H——"

"Well, how do you know that I am General H——"

"Because just before dinner I heard Mr. C—— say, 'General H——, let's go and take a drink,' and you went."

No Tail For Salt.

Manchester Guardian.

A Manchester man writes to the Guardian to tell how he caught a sparrow on the wing. He was running for a car. A few yards in front of him was a sparrow pickine un a bread crust. Up sprang the bird, and with a cricketer's instinctive action when the ball is bounding near, out went his hand. He caught the sparrow and held him prisoner until he reached the car. The writer felt compelled to add that the bird was not strong on the wing. He was moulting and lost all his tail feathers, and, further, was heavily handicapped by the bread in his bill.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORS

WHAT WHIG CORRESPONDENTS TELL US.

The Tidings From Various Points In Eastern Ontario — What People Are Doing And What They Are Saying. Husking Parties Numerous.

Trafford, Sept. 15.—Husking parties are numerous. H. Keech returned from Picton on Tuesday. C. Clancy, Enterprise spent a few days fishing at the lake last week. Mr. and Mrs. King attended the funeral of W. Baker at Marlbank, on Tuesday. Mrs. Howell, Montreal, spent Wednesday, with her sister, Miss E. Murphy. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. W. Keech in the sad death of their little son, Rev. Mr. Allin preached the funeral sermon. A number were at the box social on Friday night.

News From Stoco.

Stoco, Sept. 17.—The Rashutte brothers have added to their threshing outfit, a fine specimen of a portable engine. Miss Sullivan is now in charge of the Stoco school, Miss Graham having severed her connection with it at the summer holidays. Paul Cournoyer is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever. Another shed is in course of construction at the Roman Catholic church. Rev. J. S. Quinn was absent from his parish last week. A short line of railway is being built from the C.P.R. track into the Black Creek mine, near Bogart. The company is starting to build in the mining property. A large plant, it is said, will be erected. Francis Allore has returned from his trip beyond the seas. The breezes of the Atlantic seem to have had an invigorating effect on him. Farmers are now busy cutting corn. It is a good crop this year.

Harlowe Happenings.

Harlowe, Sept. 15.—Most of the farmers are through threshing. Mr. and Mrs. J. Hillier have returned from Huntsville. The ice cream social held in the hall last Saturday evening was well attended. Joel Thompson, Tweed, spent Sunday at J. Thompson's. A number of the people of this vicinity spent a very enjoyable time at a husking bee at Mr. McCausland's last Friday evening. Miss Sadie Scott has returned from Toronto. Mr. White and family, Plevna, have moved into the house vacated by J. Bott in the spring. J. Rombough is drawing timber from Dead Creek to Arden this week. The young people of this place were present at an apple cut at Mrs. E. Palmateer's, on Monday evening. Mrs. Phillips and children, Watertown, are visiting at C. Bott's. Messrs. E. Woods and J. Cook made a business trip to Arden, Thursday. George Bradshaw spent Sunday with S. Wheeler.

Crab Apples Galore.

Flinton, Sept. 14th.—Corn-cutting and potato digging are the order of the times. Corn is a middling crop, good for the season, which was not a good corn year. Potatoes turn out well, but there are a great many small ones. Apples are not plentiful, but crab apples are; the country seems flooded with them. September has proved beneficial to the cutters of marsh hay, which, in some places, is quite a good crop. Men are daily going into the shanties; wages are good, being $26 and $28 per month. Men seem to be very scarce at that. A firm from Sudbury sent a man here to hire men for the shanties; he said he would pay their way there if they agreed to stay until Christmas. Many are on the sick list. Mrs. James Vance is very low. Mr. and Mrs. George Killer, Dead Creek, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. D. Pringle. Mr. Wood has his fawn yet; it has grown finely. Nathen Bamb, when at the Forks, saw an old bear and six cubs. The harvest home, under the auspices of the Methodist church, was held at Flinton, September 12th. The day was beautiful and all seemed to enjoy themselves. School is once more opened, under the able management of O. M. Perry, who is a very efficient teacher. Mrs. Hasler and her son, Frederick, late of Alaska, are visiting at Wolfe Island and Picton. Frederick has been gone some ten years, and has seen some very rough times while away. He will retrace his steps to the North-West. Gold mining is not such easy work as many represented it to be, and at times a failure. Rev. Thomas Wallace is the Methodist minister here. The proceeds of the harvest festival amounted to about $60. A baby boy has come to brighten the home of Michael Brushey. Rev. R. W. Irvine is building a large addition to the rectory.

Stripe Gunners At The Fort.

Toronto Star.

In addition to the officers and non-commissioned officers of "B" battery, R.C.H.A., mentioned, last Saturday, there are several others who have good records, and will likely take an important part in the barrack and military life of the city during the coming winter months.

The senior non-commissioned officer of the battery is Sergt.-Major Birbeck, who fought at Paardeburg with the first contingent. Quartermaster-Sergeant Shipton was in Africa with "C" battery, and fought at Mafeking, Klip Drift, Rustenburg, and sundry other engagements. Sergt. Peppiatt, Acting-Sergt. Vincent, Corpl. Curry, Corpl. McDonald, and Br. Huberley also wear the Boer war medal ribbon. Other qualified non-commissioned officers of the battery are Sergt. Fowler, Corpl. Hart, Corpl. Palfrey, Brs. Carruthers, Bell, Mahon, Lyons, Miller, Hepbourne, and John Hart.

Many of these non-coms. will be remembered by men who soldiered at Kingston, or in South Africa.

The Canadian Northern is thinking of building, either at Toronto or Montreal, large repair shops, costing $1,000,000. The Winnipeg shops, in course of erection, are costing $850,000.

Many a man may have a good disposition and still be of no earthly use to the community in which he dwells.

The quickest-acting poison is prussic acid. It causes almost instant death.

WOLFE ISLAND DOINGS.

New Lease of Ferry Dock—Telephone Extension.

Wolfe Island, Sept. 17.—At the last council meeting the contract was closed with James Swift & Co., whereby the township has secured the present dock for a further term of three years, the lessor agreeing to erect a waiting room, twelve by twenty-four feet on dock, to light, and heat it, and telephone to be installed therein for $100 per year.

Workmen will commence at once upon the improvements. The earnings for the boat for the past month were close on $1,200. About twenty men are engaged erecting telephone poles, cable crosses at Ferguson's Point, through to Cold Springs, and out the eighth concession to Alexander Point. About one-half the poles have been erected.

Maxim Greenwood and bride have returned from their trip. The banns were published yesterday of Frank Conley and Miss Mary McCallister.

Three new hay presses came on to the island this week. Hiram Davis is moving on to the farm occupied by Wilmur Boyd.

John Brideland arrived home yesterday after a two weeks' stay in Toronto. Mrs. Edward O'Reilly arrived home last week from Winnipeg. Miss Cuff, Watertown, is visiting for a few days on the island. Miss Rose O'Reilly and her uncle, Thomas O'Reilly, were visitors of Patrick O'Reilly during the past week. Mrs. Patrick O'Reilly is visiting in Railton. It looks as if the supply of coal would be short on the island, as it is rumored that local dealers do not intend to store any. Why does not some enterprising citizen take it in hand, as there is a good market here for the above commodity?

Browbeating Of Witnesses.

Deputy Chief Stark touched a responsive chord when he condemned the methods of a class of lawyers in the court room. One's blood has often boiled at the badgering to which some honest man has been subjected in the witness box by some pompous and bombastic lawyerette invested with a little brief authority. The attempt to confuse a witness so as to lead him to apparently contradictory statements in the hope of making capital for the client is essentially immoral, and should be sternly frowned upon by the self-respecting judge. It is gratifying that the number of the really prominent lawyers who adopt these methods of securing evidence is very small. The type cannot become extinct too soon. In a country permeated by the spirit of enlightened democracy the methods of the past will not be tolerated. It may be difficult to extract the truth from the hardened and shifty witness, but the honest man must not be made the scapegoat for the sins of others.

To Prevent Accidents.

American railroads kill off their passengers twenty-two times as fast as do the railways in Great Britain—and still the American public submits to the outrage. But they are beginning to awake to the terrible truth, and a popular outcry for protection is growing in strength daily through the activity of the press. And close upon the heels of this demand comes the announcement in the Technical World Magazine, of a new system of automatic cab signals for locomotives. A simple and practicable system has been devised by two German engineers for the protection of trains through the delivery, by means of an electric contact rail, of audible or visible signals in the locomotive cab. The device is fully described, and photographs show how the system works in actual operation.

A WARM SUBJECT

There's nothing in the world we're so much interested in as Coal at this time of the year. It may sound queer to speak of coal buying and selling as a science, but that's what we've made it. Two important discoveries we have made are that complete satisfaction to our customers pays best, and that the way to win business is to deserve it.
