GRAND DUKE AND GRAND DUCHESS OF BADEN WITH OTHER MEMBERS OF ROYAL FAMILY

Prince Frederick of Baden.

Street in Baden-Baden.

Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden.

Prince and Princess Frederick of Baden.

THE THREE EVENTS

THAT GRAND DUKE OF BADEN CELEBRATES.

Was Fifty Years on Throne on September 6th, Was Eighty Years Old September 9th, and on September 20th, He and Grand Duchess Celebrated Golden Jubilee of Wedding.

Carlruhe, Sept. 21.—The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden celebrated the golden jubilee of their wedding on Thursday.

Frederick I, the venerable ruler of the grand duchy, was born on September 24th, 1826, so that he attained his eightieth birthday anniversary on the 9th of this month, and celebrated, on the 5th, the fiftieth anniversary of his birth, his accession and his marriage.

Hohenzollern Sigmaringen (head of the non-reigning and Catholic branch of the house of Hohenzollern), by virtue of his being the grandson of Prince Josephine of Baden, who died five years ago.

It was by reason of his prospects of succession to the throne of Baden that Prince William of Hohenzollern, after being duly proclaimed Crown Prince of Roumania, and heir to the crown of his father's young brother, King Charles of Roumania, waived his rights at Bucharest, in favor of his younger brother, Ferdinand, the present Crown Prince of Roumania.

Prince William preferred the grand ducal throne of Baden-Baden in point of size the fourth most important of the federal states of the German empire—to the throne of Roumania. Prince William's mother is a Portuguese Infanta, a sister of the late King of Portugal, and his father, Prince Leopold, was that scion of the house of Hohenzollern, whose election to the throne of Spain, in 1870, brought about the war between France and Germany.

Both the grand-duke and grand duchess are very fond of Baden, where they make a long stay each year. It has been said that no reigning family in Germany, not even the Hohenzollerns, possess so many beautiful situated residences as does that of Baden. Charming palaces are dotted about the grand duchy, and the grand duke and grand duchess are extremely hospitable, especially to English visitors.

Several years have elapsed since Prince Max of Baden, after having been fitted on the very eve of the day appointed for the wedding by Grand Duchess Helen of Russia, now Princess Nicholas of Greece, consoled himself by marrying the Duke of Cambridge's daughter. He has now a son and daughter, but should the son die and the prince leave no male heir, the worthy people of Baden, who are almost to a man strict Lutherans, would once more be confronted with the prospect of the advent of a Catholic ruler to the throne.

WILD WOMAN CAPTURED.

She roamed Forest as Did Mother Eve.

Geneva, Sept. 22.—The mayor of the French commune of Serravallo, a few miles from Geneva, across the frontier, accompanied by many gentlemen entered the forest near the village yesterday in search of a "wild" woman who has been living for the last few months in a savage state.

She is a mystery to the French villagers. She does not remember her name, but calls herself Eve, and lives in the same way as her original ancestor. She is about fifty years of age, is well built, and of more than average height, carried herself like a soldier, and has beautiful white flowing hair.

She lives on fruits, berries and roots that she finds in the forest, and has a shaggy, three-footed, black and white dog in a tree. She has on many occasions refused bread and meat, and also shelter and clothes, of which she is innocent.

Love laughs at locksmiths, but it's different with goldsmiths.

PROMISED $80,000

GIRL "PIP" WILL RECEIVE A BIG FORTUNE.

Tramp Whom She Fed Eighteen Years Ago Grateful For Her Kindness—His Remembrance of Her.

London, Sept. 22.—A charming little creature, which reads more like a fairy tale than an actual fact, has come to light at Cardiff.

Nellie Hawkins, a young woman who resides in the town, is to receive a fortune of $80,000 from Harold Swadlow, a rich German, whom she befriended when he was penniless and starving.

Eighteen years ago several little boys and girls were playing near the old slaughter house in Cardiff when a man, ragged, tired and hungry, approached them.

GIVES WIFE CHOICE

Whether She Would Take Poison or a Bullet.

Paris, Sept. 22.—A man of independent means, named Eslan, living with his wife in the villa La Jolie, near Binard, killed himself last night after trying to force his wife to drink poison.

His wife endeavored to reason him out of his delirium, but Eslan refused to listen and attempted to force the mixture down her throat.

Then, clutching the bottle of poison, he swallowed the entire contents and rushed out into the country, where he was discovered in fearful agony.

Death Claims Probably Oldest Man in Europe.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—The death is announced at the age of 121, of Christian Driedrich Bierthum, proprietor of a country inn near Jena.

TO RETIRE AT LAST.

To Sing For Last Time on December 1st.

London, Sept. 22.—The wonderful voice with which Miss Patti has delighted millions of people in all parts of the world will be heard for the last time in London on December 1st, the famous singer having finally decided to bid farewell to the concert stage.

Her final concert in London will take place at the Albert Hall, and in the autumn of next year she will give a series of farewell concerts in the principal towns and cities.

It is just fifty-six years ago that Miss Patti, then seven years of age, first sang in public in New York. Her next appearance was nine years later, when, after a course of study, she played the role of Lucia, on November 24th, 1850, and achieved a tremendous success.

Two years later she crossed the Atlantic to sing at Covent Garden, beginning a career at London's principal opera house which lasted for twenty years. During those twenty years her annual earnings are stated to have ranged between $150,000 and $170,000.

Tours of North and South America and Argentina have brought her even greater monetary rewards, and it is in no way overrating the facts when it is said that during the four and a half decades in which she has been singing to the world her voice has earned her $3,750,000.

For many single engagements in London she has received $4,000, while it is on record that in New York, when playing in opera, she once received a sum of $5,000 for each presentation, paid in her dressing room before she went on the stage.

CRIME MADE EASY

THE POLICE OF PARIS ARE QUITE POWERLESS

Authorities in Paris Have Difficulty With "Apaches," Who Spread Terror Around Women With Weapons.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The murders which are being perpetrated almost daily by "Apaches" are causing the Paris papers to devote columns to the necessity of giving the police greater powers to deal with the evil.

Under present circumstances the police are certainly not to be held responsible for the large amount of crime and the comparative immunity of the criminals. Numbers of "Apaches" are arrested every day, but unless they are taken in the act it is very difficult to punish them.

There is, of course, a law in France against the carrying of weapons without a permit, but the police have no right to search for such weapons, and even when caught using them the offender can only be punished with a small fine, unless he has wounded his victim.

Desperate fights between men and women in the slums of Paris are of daily occurrence, and not a day passes without one or more victims being taken to the hospital.

It is said that a proposition will be made before the new chamber early this session for a new law to cope with the "Apache" terror, which is exceeding all limits.

MRS. ELIZABETH TOPFERWAIN.

The wife of a prominent pigeon shot of San Antonio, Tex., proved herself a remarkable shot at the rifle contest at San Diego, N.D., and puzzled the authorities no little by qualifying for enrollment as a member of the National Marksmen's Society.

DECLARED A FAILURE.

Behring's Treatment Does More Harm Than Good.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The eminent Paris specialist, Dr. Bernheim, describes Behring's alleged cure for tuberculosis as a complete failure, and others declare that it even produces the most deplorable effects on the patient.

MAN FATALLY STABBED.

Arrests Murderer and Held Him Fast Until Help Arrived.

Lyons, Sept. 22.—M. Montal, one of the police magistrates at Lyons, was stabbed to death in the street yesterday by an anarchist named Melani.

Melani had vowed vengeance against M. Montal for getting him a term of imprisonment some years ago, and when he saw the magistrate in Lyons yesterday he ran up stealthily from behind and plunged a dagger into the unfortunate man's back.

Spotted Fever From A Well.

London, Sept. 22.—The medical officer of the local government board, in a report to the Bowditch market (Norfolk) district council on the recent outbreak of spotted fever at Fincham, expresses the opinion that the infection was spread by a well, the water of which was used for washing the utensils of a local dairyman.

J. C. A. Ward, the veteran sculptor of New York, recently married Mrs. Rachel M. Ostrander Smith, a widow, thirty years his junior. He is 76 years old.
