A SHED BURNED

On Victoria Street-Owner Lost Some Chickens.

This morning at 4:21 o'clock a call was received by the fire department from box No. 29, corner of Prock and Albert streets. A shed in the rear Charles Attwood's residence, on Vi toria street, was afire, and burning briskly. A waggon and a number of chickens were burned. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Some time before the alarm , was the lever which sends the call was not touched, hence the fire department did not respond until the later call Mistakes of this kind might easily by avoided if citizens would only read in structions on the alarm boxes. This was the second fire in a week on Vi toria street.
