THE COLONIES EXCLUDED

From International Wireless Telegraph Bureau.

London, Oct. 25.—A proposal of the British delegates to the international wireless telegraph conference that the autonomous colonies of the great powers be represented in the proposed international bureau, with a proviso that no colonial power should command more than seven votes, was rejected by the conference.

Subsequently the conference adopted a scheme postponing the question of colonial representation for the present. The colonies will be entirely excluded from representation until some future congress assemblies.

More Light Is Needed.

It is agreed that there should be better lighting along the G. T. R. tracks in the vicinity of the foot of Johnson street, where the tracks cross each other. The places, as altogether, too dark. The coroner's jury summoned to investigate the death of Frankman Francisco will, no doubt, consider this matter.

What Should Be Said.

A dear, religious friend in St. George's says a recent Whig skit was not complete: "You should have said that it was to guide its people to that far away land where Peace, Niche or Farthing will have no market value, but where all poor souls, White, Black and Brown, will have quarters."

A Lively Runaway.

A horse owned by John M. Theobald, barber, 297 King street, ran away this afternoon and created a good deal of excitement in a short time. The animal was attached to a light rig and took fright when entering near the British-American hotel. The angry steed galloped west along King street, and it is somewhat of a miracle that no one was injured. On running into a cinder pile on the roadway, the shafts of the rig were broken and the horse became free from the rig, and ran a block or two farther, where it was caught.

HIS INDIGNATION

WAS JUST A LITTLE PREMATURE--JOHN O'MEARA

Wrathy at Being Accused of Bribery is Now Up on a Charge of Perjury—Several Witnesses Identify Him.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The second act in the comedy in which John O'Meara, the witness from London in the conspiracy-to-bribe-waters' case, as the leading character, was enacted in the police court, this morning.

Upon the previous occasion on which Mr. O'Meara appeared in court he was indignant at having been subjected to the indignity of arrest on a bench warrant. His denials were so explicit and vigorous that the crown counsel frankly expressed regret, and admitted that an error had been made, and asked that O'Meara be discharged from custody. After a brief and expensive and a letter of apology was tendered him.

To-day O'Meara appeared again in the dock, with a charge of perjury hanging over his head. He was positively identified by three witnesses as the Bramford personator, and a fourth thought he was the man, but was not positive. O'Meara was held on a charge of perjury, bail being refused.

The Reason Why!

It is only by reason of the makers intimate, thorough knowledge of women's tastes and the requirements of her feet, that Dorothy Dodd shoes have achieved their marvelous success. FIRST—they satisfy the eye and lend real distinction to the foot. SECONDLY—they fit women's feet as only Dorothy Dodd's can fit. THIRDLY—their large sale permits them to be sold at a moderate price. This store secured and controls the sale of these splendid Shoes, because it believes them to offer the wearer more real value and satisfaction than any other possible to procure.
