

HONEST MEN AND WOMEN WHO ENDORSE PERUNA

MISS DELLA STROEBE

MISS MARIE L. MEUNIER

PRINCE JONAH KALANIANO'OLE

Recommends Per-na Highly.

Miss Marie L. Meunier, 995 Ontario street, Montreal, P. Q., Can., writes: "I take pleasure in stating that I have been cured of catarrh by Peruna. This disease made my life miserable, especially in the morning, when I had to cough and spit and make every effort to clear my throat several passages. This remedy cured me promptly and I recommend it most highly to persons afflicted with this terrible disease."

Health Restored By Per-na.

Miss Della Stroebe, 710 Richmond street, Appleton, Wis., writes: "For several years I was in a run-down condition, and I could find no relief from doctors and medicines. I could not sleep at night. I had heavy dark circles about the eyes. My friends were much alarmed. I was advised to give Peruna a trial and to my joy I began to improve with the first bottle. After taking six bottles I felt completely cured. I had been too much for Peruna as a medicine for women in a run-down condition."

The Utmost Confidence in Per-na.

Hon. G. C. Brooks, Mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also Attorney for Farmers' Bank and Sunbury Building & Loan Co., writes: "I have the utmost confidence in the virtue of Peruna. It is a great medicine. I have used it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Peruna too highly."

Colds in Head, Throat and Chest.

Mrs. Lucy Hoey, 616th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I am thoroughly convinced that Peruna is everything that it is said to be. It cured me of a cold which hung on for over two months and which had me gradually worried. Peruna, though, acted like magic and I earnestly recommend it to all sufferers."

Per-na For General Debility.

Mrs. M. W. Seffel, 312 Matagorda St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "I have used Peruna for general debility and have found it very beneficial."

Mr. William H. Switzer, 235 E. 53d street, New York City, writes: "I was troubled with catarrh of the throat particularly and suffered considerably as a result thereof for a period of about five years, and my general health was affected. Three years ago I was forced to give up business, and took up my residence in the Western country, looking for relief in a change of climate as well as a change in the method of treatment for my ailment. I had known of Peruna before, but I believed none to lie in private treatment. After much expense, both here and in the West, I was induced by a friend in Chicago to try Peruna. I began the use of same whilst there and continued it for about five weeks, at the end of which time I returned to New York, both well and happy."

no longer taking Peruna, but, if the necessity should again arise, I shall remember its friendliness. Furthermore, I shall always be glad to speak in its favor to any one suffering from this excellent remedy."

Miss Theresa A. Lund, Sec'y Alpha Lodge, No. 1103, M. E. A., Marinette, Wis., writes: "I have used your Peruna for catarrh and have found it to be all that you claim for it. I cheerfully recommend Peruna to any one suffering from catarrh, as I believe that, as in my case, it will prove a sure cure."

Mr. James D. King, Alamo Hotel, Colorado Springs, Colo., member Y.M.C.A., writes: "I had to come here on account of

Mr. James D. King, Alamo Hotel, Colorado Springs, Colo., member Y.M.C.A., writes: "I had to come here on account of long trouble and found that my recovery was very slow. A friend suggested that I try Peruna and I did so. I began to improve very rapidly and I kept right on using it. In four months my lungs were all healed and my cough all gone. I feel that much of the credit is due to Peruna and I am pleased to endorse it."

Neglected Catarrh Becomes Chronic.

THERE are some things which are as sure as fate, and can be relied on to occur to at least one-half of the human family unless means are taken to prevent. First, colds not promptly cured are sure to become chronic. Second, catarrh, if properly treated is sure to make life short and miserable. The Destructive Power of Catarrh. Catarrh spurs no organ or function of the body. It is capable of destroying sight, taste, smell, hearing, digestion, secretion, assimilation and excretion. It pervades every part of the human body, head, throat, stomach, bowels, bronchial tubes, lungs, liver, kidneys, bladder and other pelvic organs.

The Curative Power of Per-na. There is no fact in popular medical science better established than that a teaspoonful of Peruna before each meal will surely lessen the danger of catching cold.

Now, since this is true, and experience bears it out most forcefully, thousands of lives would be saved, and tens of thousands of cases of chronic catarrh prevented by this simple precaution within reach of every one.

Peruna is not simply a palliative to relieve some of the distressing symptoms. It brings permanent relief.

Gained Fifty Pounds in Weight. Mr. John C. Russell, 830 County St., Portsmouth, Va., writes regarding his wife's case, as follows: "I thought I would be doing but justice to your great medicine to tell you what it has done for my wife. "Two years ago the doctor called at our house on an average of three times a week in attendance upon my wife who was suffering from acute indigestion. "While on a visit to some friends she had an attack and I prepared to go for the doctor when our friend proposed Peruna. "I gave her a dose, repeating it in a half hour and her pains passed away. Since that time my wife has gained thirty pounds. "We are never out of Peruna. When the children or I have a cold we take some of mamma's Peruna. "I had that it has cut my doctor bills down to almost nothing."

Thousands of Testimonials. We have on file thousands of testimonials like the ones given here, and we can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month.

Probably no other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

A MAN OF ALIASES

A CANADIAN WOMAN SUES FOR DIVORCE.

The Man Who Married the Knowlton Girl Really Had a Strange Mania.

Boston, Oct. 27.—Carrie M. Show, formerly Carrie M. Miller, daughter of Henry Miller, of Knowlton, P.Q., entered suit against her husband, John M. Show, alias Lieut. A. Cox, alias Lieut. A. Cranshaw, alias Lieut. Capron, of the United States navy, for divorce, yesterday, in the superior court here, and was given permission by the judge to resume her maiden name.

Mrs. Show gave evidence that she had married Show in Knowlton, P.Q., on January 3rd, 1899, and they had immediately removed to Boston, where Show obtained employment as a waiter at the Puritan club at $50 per month. In spite of having steady employment, he never supported her, and she never coming to Boston, and on August 21st, 1904, she was starving on a crust of bread in their home in Wakefield, a suburb. Dr. Montague gave evidence at the hearing of the case that on October 21st she had visited the woman and had found her in a serious condition as the result of want of food. Mrs. Show had twice fainting during the day.

While Mrs. Show was staying in a garret her husband was posing as Lieut. Cranshaw with the members of the G.A.R., who were in convention in Boston and was being royally entertained at dinners and banquets. He has assumed the role of a naval officer at various times, having, according to his own confession, an ironing board longed to be one; and as Lieut. Capron, Lieut. Cox and Lieut. Cranshaw not only put up at fashionable hotels in various cities and towns in the neighborhood of Boston, but was entertained lavishly by some exclusive clubs and many wealthy people of the towns he visited. At the reception to the graduating class of the State Normal school in June last, Mrs. Show was posing as Lieut. Capron of the U.S. battleship Kentucky, was lionized by the fair sex of Salem, but was later arrested for tampering with the Essex hotel out of board by false pretences. He was sent to jail in Salem, was later released, and is now being diligently sought for by the police of Gloucester on a similar charge. While in Gloucester, he passed himself as being engaged in the pursuit of the yacht Frolic, which was being hunted for smuggling Chinamen into the United States. Mrs. Show got a reception there as every one who went, and was the social lion of the week.

TRAVELLER FINED. He Was Accused of Violating By-Laws.

A case of an unusual nature came before Magistrate Farrell in the police court this morning. J. Wheaton, Toronto, was charged with selling goods in Kingston to persons not in the wholesale or retail business, thereby violating the by-laws of the city. He was found guilty, and the magistrate imposed a fine of $50 and costs, with the option of one month in jail. A prominent local doctor and two bank clerks were called as witnesses, and the case caused much interest. A. B. Cunningham appeared for the prosecution and T. J. Hickey as counsel for the accused. During the case a Chinaman wanted for the court, because of a debt, his place beside a good natured Irishman. The Chinaman did not understand what was going on, but appeared greatly interested in the proceedings. The audience outside the railing was composed of six people. In the case against J. Wheaton, T. J. Hickey admitted the alleged by-law in regard to the license. The first witness called was Dr. A. Winnet, dentist, of Kingston. He was not engaged in any retail or wholesale business of any kind. He knew the defendant who had canvassed him. Defendant did not offer evidence anything for sale, but was in order for goods. He had purchased goods from the defendant before. It was on Thursday last that the accused had called and told him that he was stopping at a local hotel. Witness called at the hotel on Friday, where Wheaton had collars, cuffs and underwear. "Did you give him an order?" asked counsel for prosecution. "Yes, I gave him an order for some collars, cuffs and socks." The magistrate asked witness if Wheaton had made a memorandum of the sale. Witness said that he had not. Witness further stated that he had not paid for the goods at the time, and that the understanding was that he was to receive the goods later on. He said Wheaton represented the J. Wheaton company, of Toronto. O. Roger, a bank clerk, stated that he was not engaged in the wholesale or retail business. Accused had called on him at the bank and he had told him that he would call and see him at the hotel. Witness did not purchase any goods from the Wheaton company on this occasion. City Treasurer Ireland, who was called, testified to the fact that no license had been issued to the J. Wheaton company. Hugh Taylor, another bank clerk, gave evidence. He said he was not engaged in any wholesale or retail trade. Wheaton had asked him to go to the hotel and see him. "Did he tell you that he had some good things with him this time?" asked counsel for prosecution. "Yes, he did." Wheaton said that he had dealt with the accused before. To counsel for accused it was said that Wheaton had not asked him to buy goods. There was no further evidence, and the magistrate pronounced a fine of $50 and costs or one month in jail, with the option of one month in jail, if the fine was not paid. The license required by him had to be secured from the city clerk and cost $100.
