NEW YORK'S MONEY. Henry Clews Weekly Banker's

New York, Oct, 29.-The world's money markets continue to show large increase in the world's supply of gold, all great financial centres are agerly endeavoring to strengthen heir reserves. The reasons are obvious. There is world-wide activity development. Even in Asia, there is a great awakening. China, Japan and while Australia, New Zealand, Africa and Canada are expanding wonderfuly. The only nation at a standstill is Russia, which is groaning under its terrible struggle for political freedom. An element of strain is the great waste of capital from the Boer and Russo-Japanese war. In the United States the supply of gold is materialbe quite sufficient for ordinary yet the strained condition of credit We have practically used up all our hausted by extravagant living and heavy expenditures. In short, it time that a halt be made in the mands upon our credit system, unless We have recently dragged, through smart methods, over $40,000,000 of gold from London by paying high rates for it, which has resulted in the Bank of England suddenly putting its rate up to six persent. This has forced liquidation in American securities abroad. While we still have the $40,000,000 of European gold, they have equalized it by making us carry the American stocks which they have thrown back upon us. This proves that it never pays to be too smart.

COOLIE BURIED

Under a House and Lived Months Without Food. London, Oct. 29.-News from South Africa tells of a Chinese coolie, who had been found alive after being half buried for five months under a house. In all that time he was without food or water! He had not an ownce flesh on him. His bones were merely covered with skin. The only possible explanation of his being alive after the fast of five months is given by come or trance throughout the period.

The story is told in detail by the South African News, On April 17th last, a Chinese coolie wanted by the police for robbery was missing from the Cason mines, Johannesburg. On September 19th, Mr. Anderson, manager of the New Comet Mine, heard groans under his house. He informed the controller of Chin ese in the adjoining mine, from which some coolies were missing, and a gang of men took up the verandah boards and also the floor of one of the rooms. This disclosed the groaning Chinaman. He was a veritable fiving their victim, brigands are holding skeleton. His eyes were glassy. His a state that the searching party could hardly go near him. He was able to groan. The man was lifted out and hurried to the hospital. He could barely say a few words, explaining who he was and when he crawled under the forthcoming.
