He Was Out Rowing When it is Supposed He Was Stricken With Apoplexy-He Was a Successful Lawyer.

Joseph Bawden, the well-known barister, lost his life on Tuesday afteroon. The circumstances under which the accident occurred are shrouded in nystery. He had been on the lookout or two row boats to send to Fort William; two weeks ago he bought one and he was trying another when he lamentable accident occurred. After lunch on Tuesday Mr. Bawder black's boat livery was close by went around and talked with the caretaker about a boat. He said would go for a row and try it. He took off his overcoat and with his mbrella put them in another skiff. After the row boat was put in the water he pulled off his coat and with his hat put it in the craft. He did not say so but he did this evidently to facilitate rowing. He started off at a good stroke. He went westward. Edward Ferris, on King street, toted a man rowing and a minute later when he looked the boat was empty. Employees at the knitting a joy forever, and vet it's within the means of most people. CHAIRMAN TOYE ON STATE-MENT OF CITY AUDITOR.

Auditor Was in Error in Stating That Estimated Expenditure of Civic Light Committee Had Been Exceeded.

At a meeting of the light, heat and power committee held Tuesday afteran explanation in regard to a statement given by City Auditor Miller, at the last meeting of the city council, that the committee had exceeded the estimated expenditure by 85,000. The chairman stated that he had in vestigated the matter with other of ficials of the department, and had found the errors that had led to th statement given by the auditor. Auditor Miller wrote the committee referring to his letter to the city council at its last session, re the ex penditure on gas mains, services and meters, stating that he had found that owing to an error Hats, 49c. to 79c.; wings, etc., 5c, to cation presented to him, that too much had been charged to this ac count. The result was that the estimated expenditure of this account was not exceeded.

Ald. Bassam said that the error should be enquired into, and it should the committee and give a further ex-

Water For Plant. The question of securing a supply of clear water from the Queen street slip for use at the light plant came up for consideration. On September 14th, the committee made applications for the privilege of running a pipe across Crawford's wharf, the property of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Several communications were subsequently received from J. B. Walkem, solicitor for Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and one gested the nurchase by the city of the wharf. This proposition had been reported against by Mr. Campbell of the light plant. A later communication from MF. Walkem had offered the privilege for $25 per annum. Ald, Bassam moved that the chairman, Mr. Campbell and the city soli citor be appointed a sub-committee with power to act in the matter. The motion carried.

Some Minor Business. A communication was received from J. W.
