Another Rare Chance to Buy 'Xmas Handkerchiefs

Beautifully Initialed and Hemstitched Effects At Half-Price To-morrow Morning

MISTAKE in the Old Country was the real cause of this offer A One of the big Toronto stores ordered a lot of ladies' fir hemstitched initialed handkerchiefs from an Old Country maker (through his Canadian agency in Montreal), and an inspection when it arrived showed that one handkerchief out of possibly every dozen was imperfect. The Toronto store refused them unconditionally. We were offered the lot at a little less than average half-price, and we took it. We tell you this, candidly, because we would rather have you know the truth (and be delighted to find them better than you expected probably) than to be disappointed because of these slight imperfections. The sale is from 9 30 till 12 o'clock only two hours and a half-Wednesday morning. If you come early you'll have no trouble in getting just what you wish and the very best, too, for remember, there are only about one hundred out of the whole lot that are not strictly "O.K."
