A WARM SUBJECT

There's nothing in the world we're so much interested in as Coal at this time of the year. It may sound queer to speak of coal heating and selling as a science, but that's what we've made it. Two important discoveries we have made are that complete satisfaction to our customers pays best, and that the way to win business is to deserve it.

Turning Against Mr. Borden.

When a certain election was on in Montreal, in St. Antoine division, the conservative candidate, H. B. Ames, threw his leader down, or discovered his attitude on the autonomy bills. The grievance which some men were working up against the government had its foundation in the charge that too much consideration was being shown to the Roman Catholics in the new provinces.

In Montreal that position could not be safely taken, and Mr. Ames saw the necessity of opposing his leader, and inferentially of repudiating him. It was all for effect, of course, and pharisaically, since in the commonsense, which Mr. Ames was elected, he became Mr. Borden's most obsequious servant.

There is a repetition of the by-play in St. Ann's division of Montreal where there is an election to fill the vacancy caused by the recent appointment of Mr. Piche to the bench. The conservative policy with regard to the new transcontinental railway is against the construction of it by the Grand Trunk Pacific company. But St. Ann's division embraces the interests of the Grand Trunk company, and the conservative candidate is not in accord with his leader. Upon this subject he has seen the wisdom of giving the electors some assurance on this point, and he has passed the word.

A conservative paper has discovered that Mr. Curran is a son of Judge Curran who was a member of parliament and of the government. It is not Judge Curran's record that is under review, however, but his son's, and it is his father's record, the sponsorship of Mr. Ames, M.P., and gentleman of leisure.

Discipline In The Schools.

The question of discipline in the schools has been made conspicuous by a recent experience. A scholar was sent to the principal for punishment, and for an offense which called for correcting. Corporal treatment with the regulation strap is not generally encouraged, but in this case the strap could be completely dispensed with, but that is not possible.

There are some pupils who will invite chastisement and it must be applied. Either that or the offender must be suspended, which is another way of driving him out of school. The one who has to be "punished" is likely enough so constituted that he would regard anything which severed his school connection as a special favour. Suspension, therefore, is not desired unless the parents can be depended upon to apply at home the correction the school cannot do without physical discipline.

The discipline of the school must be maintained. Violence or extreme punishment is not, however, endorsed or countenanced, but in the absence of the order which cannot otherwise be secured a resort to the regulation strap is permissible. Kingston has had its experiences along this line. The disorder in a school has been at times very trying, and the hesitation of the teachers about stamping it out has resulted from the fear that the trustees and parents would not support the teachers as they were expected to do.

The appeal to the court in one case will have the effect of making both parents and teachers more considerate. The one has recourse to the board, when anything happens of which complaint should be made, but he has no recourse to the teacher, under certain circumstances, since any disturbance of school is subject to the heavy penalty which the law provides.

Time Word of Advice.

J. M. Courtney, who was deputy minister of finance for some years, who was indeed the working head of the department, and has the reputation of being a very able man, spoke seriously at the Canadian Club, not being in office, and so free to express the sentiments of his heart, he has given some very sound counsel to the party in power. Said he, in the course of his address:

"Three sets of people were concerned in the public expenditure—the givers, the finders and the spenders. Certain classes of expenditures, properly regulated, are eminently desirable to the state, as, for instance, the bringing into the Dominion a good class of immigrants, the working out of the schemes connected with agriculture, the watching over our forests, all productive expenditures which should be encouraged."

"He could even allow that in the recent great development there may be excused a little swagger and extravagance, but, allowing all this, he was afraid Canada was spending too much."

"It seemed to him that Mr. Gladstone's favorite formula might be applied. Canada, out of its abundance might reform its indolence or might reduce its taxation, or it might, without adding to its debt, pay for its great national works. At the present time every effort should be made to save."

There are large maturing liabilities to be met of loans made some twenty-five or thirty years back, and it will require all the wisdom of the government to meet the future and preserve our high credit. For these reasons he thought that expenditure should be critically examined, and that a halt should be called in many instances.

The speech of Mr. Courtney has revived the situation as it has been presented in the budget speeches for several years. There has been an increase of revenue, and also an increase of expenditure. The public debt has been reduced somewhat—there has not been an annual addition to it—but the Whig has joined others in saying that in boom time the public debt should be reduced as much as possible. A growing country may call for a growing expenditure, but the fact that the budget has doubled in ten years gives emphasis to the deep and serious thoughts of Mr. Courtney. "It is time there was a halt," he adds, referring no doubt to the upward tendency of the public debt account.

Editorial Notes.

The mayor of Belleville visits office for a third time. Is the material office of which mayors are made becoming scarce?

A Toronto controller is fearful lest the press should lose its influence. If it ceased to help him, the man with the whiskers would be miking about New Year's day.

Mr. Borden has not so far ventured into Montreal, where two by-elections are in progress. What is the matter with him? Is he afraid of compromising himself or the party candidates?

Hearst says he is out of politics. It is time to decide upon this course when a quarter of a million dollars have been vainly spent in trying to secure a $10,000 a year job, good for two years.

The publisher of the North American, New York, says he will not be a candidate for anything again, but he will advocate his cherished reforms. Collier urges him to take up a new subject the reform of himself.

The government of Ontario has not sold the mining rights of the Gillies reserve at Cobalt, because it cannot, at present, if it would. The lumber lessees have not removed all the wood they desire.

Mr. Courtney wants to know if Canada is not living a little too fast. May be, but it cannot be blamed if it seeks to make up for the loss of prestige and progress suffered during the long period of tory misrule.

About $4,000 was taken at the gates and grand stand when the Tigers played the Montreals at football. The clubs divided $3,000, and the union got $1,000 for expenses. So that there is money as well as broken legs and heads in football.

Senator Vidal, that good old man who has gone to his rest, was a consistent temperance worker. He wasn't looking for applause or thanks. The man who succeeds him in the senate should possess, if possible, some of his distinguishing virtues.

Budget From Strathcona.

Strathcona, Nov. 20.—The rainy weather has stopped fall ploughing on many farms. They bring a good variety and seem to be on the rise. Hogs went about five and one-quarter cents. They are slowly rising again. T. Bray has a sale this week to dispose of his stock and farm implements. He does not intend to farm. John Boyer, who has held a good situation at Point St. Charles weeks since the works here closed, moved his family to Belleville, last week. They have a pretty home here and have resided here for years. They will be greatly missed in the church as well as socially. One of the daughters has been organist in St. Jude's church. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lott, of Owen Sound, have been visiting his mother for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Berson, of Rose were guests of Edward Rook, Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. J. Madden entertained a few friends Tuesday evening last. Peter McGuire, who left this country many years ago for Pennsylvania is here visiting old friends and relatives. He is a brother of James McGuire of this place. The railroad company have given the station a coat of paint which improves its appearance greatly.

Leland Items.

Leland, Nov. 19.—On Sunday there was only one service. Mrs. T. Young, suffering for a few days with sciatica, is convalescing. William Kernish, who went to Regina, three months ago, returned last week, and speaks in glowing terms of the place. He intends moving there in the spring. Daniel Ferguson is feeling a little better since going to see Dr. Towell, Sutherland. Mr. and Mrs. L. Young returned from visiting their daughter at Brockville. Our cheese factory has closed for this season, having given satisfaction to all. A meeting of the school trustees was called for Saturday night to consider remodeling the school house in the near future. Mrs. Gampson is visiting friends in Kingston.

Now is the best time to buy winter strips. Come and see our assortment, Strachan's hardware.

Hon. C. S. Hyman has been ordered by his doctor to take a complete rest and will go south for his health.

DEATH OF DAVID TAYLOR ACCIDENTAL

He Was Under the Influence of Liquor—A Boat House and Launch Burned—A Small Fire in a Shoe Shop.

Ganouque, Nov. 21.—The boat house of William Reid, Charles street, situated on a small island just east of the town, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done. The building contained Mr. Reid's gasoline launch which was destroyed. The cause of the conflagration is unknown. Building and contents were a total loss and it is said there was no insurance.

An alarm of fire was sounded about 9:15 o'clock last evening, the scene being Andrew Shields' shoe shop, corner King and Charles streets. The blaze caught from the stove, but had not gained much headway, and was extinguished by neighbors with buckets.

The "Scarlet Mystery" company held the boards of the Opera House last evening, playing to a good house. The Skinner Manufacturing company, limited, has fallen in line with the rest of the town, in working at night, business being extra brisk almost in every line.

The meeting of the Ganouque branch of the Bible Society in St. Andrew's lecture room, last evening, drew out a fair attendance. Rev. A. Coates, a returned missionary from China, delivered an address on the work in the Holy Kingdom.

Miss Katherine Stewart, after after spending the past few weeks in western Ontario, has returned to town. Mr. Harold H. Baker, who has been attending the law two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, Garden street, has gone to join her husband in Orillia.

The mysterious death of David Taylor last Wednesday evening, has on investigation turned out to be accidental. The man was seen in an intoxicated condition during the afternoon of the 17th of the month, in some condition at the station house. Leaving there he was on the railroad track and the engineer had to stop his train and have him taken off the track.

News From Steco.

Steeco, Nov. 19.—Elihu Trudeau has returned from his deer hunting trip to the country. He reports game quite plentiful. Miss Della Mulvooney, is recovering from her recent illness. The Kingston men who bought P. Allen's stock, continue making sales. The Police continue making their herd of fat cattle. James Rush also disposed of his herd. The above are the principle cattle dealers in this section. Operations are unseasonably brisk in the neighborhood of Bogart. William Dufos has returned from his western trip to Manitoba. A mine, which is being opened up by Andrew Stewart on the Oliver farm, is very promising. The several cheese factories operating in this vicinity, are winding up their season's operations. The several Catholic churches, are about completed. G. C. Mulvooney, president of Steco cheese factory, is paying off the net-royalty, preparatory to having the books audited. Herbert Parks, who was laid off through illness, has again resumed his duties at the Tweed post office. Being a young man of an affable and cheerful disposition, he is a favorite with the public, especially. He is a son of Conductor Parks of the Bay of Quinte railway.

Latter Ledger.

Latter, Nov. 18.—An account of the bad weather there has no record held in our church, on Sunday, but a few of the young people attended and were very happy. Rev. Mr. Fokee preached. Friends here left on Monday, to visit friends in Parham, N.Y., and M. Taylor, left last week for Montreal, where he has secured a supply of coal for this winter's season. The collector was around gathering taxes last week. A Christmas entertainment is to be held at Carman. Visitors: Mrs. Abbie Whattam; at A. Collier's; Mrs. Mary Rose, at L. A. Ostrander's; Mrs. Amanda Ostrander, at Isaac Head's; Mrs. M. Head, of Royal street, at J. D. Collier's.

Mrs. U. Tobey, Picton, has sold her brick residence in Nanapan to A. J. McGuire for $275.

Indigestion.

There is no sense in warily words against indigestion. We know that it causes terrible suffering, and the dull aching pains are enough to drive one mad. What a sufferer wants is relief. He wants the pain to stop. He wants to be well and happy again. The way to get relief and be cured of indigestion is by taking Hutch. It goes to the very spot where the trouble lies. Take one just after you eat. Then two or three at bed-time to open the bowels. It will meet the condition of the stomach. It will give gratifying relief. It will sweeten your breath. It will overcome and banish pain. Plenty of people doubt this, but their doubts are done not change the fact. Hutch is a doctor for ten cents. One gives instant relief.

Backache, "The Blues"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement in Women—Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts?" These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention.

Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some derangement of the organs. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all these peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years and the ablest judges agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for women's ills known to medicine.

Read the convincing testimonials of Mrs. Oakes and Mrs. MacNamee.

Mrs. J. P. Oakes of Prince of Wales Hotel, Head of St. Margaret's Bay, near Halifax, Halifax County, Nova Scotia, Canada, writes:

"After what your Vegetable Compound did for me, I am a firm believer that it is a wonderful medicine, and that any woman who is troubled with any of the ills we suffer from should try it and she will soon be convinced of its worth. Six bottles changed me from a nervous, dependent, sickly, ailing woman to a sweet-tempered, healthy one, who rarely ever has a pain now, and who before was rarely without one. As a regulator, strengthener and a tonic, I think it has no superior and I certainly endorse it."

Mrs. Anna R. MacNamee of corner Queen and Wellington Streets, Kingston, Ont. writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done all the good in the world for me. I have been suffering with backache and severe pains all through my body, and was very nervous and blue. I think I used a dozen different kinds of medicines, some prescribed by the doctor and some recommended by friends, but one bottle of your Compound was worth more to me than all the other medicines put together. My general health began to improve as soon as I began to use the Compound, and in three weeks I was a perfectly well woman."

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacements or ulceration, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the female organs, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine has seen a record of cures of female troubles. No other medicine in the world has received this widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse to buy any substitute.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it. Her advice and medicine have restored to health innumerable women. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Henrietta A. S. Marsh, 700 W. 34th St., Los Angeles, Cal., President Woman's Benevolent Ass'n, writes: "I suffered with grippe for seven weeks, and nothing I could do or take helped me until I tried Peruna. It fell at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and I kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored, and I am glad that I gave that truly great remedy a trial. I will never be without it again."

In a letter dated August 31, 1904, Mrs. Marsh says: "I have never yet heard of the efficacy of Peruna questioned. We still use it. I traveled through Kentucky and Tennessee three years ago, where I found Peruna doing its good work. Much of it is being used here also."—Henrietta A. S. Marsh.
