LONDON NEWS

First Attempt to Exclude Chinese.

Lively Little War

When Europe's Terms are Forced on Morocco.

James Bryce the Man Likely to Be American Ambassador—Salvation Army is Bringing Out Many Immigrants.

London, Nov. 22.—The first attempt to exclude Chinese from landing in Great Britain is now occupying the attention of the Immigration Board.

Thirty-two Chinamen, from Hong Kong, who arrived at Gravesend, on Monday, en route to Liverpool, were refused permission to land, the immigration officers besting their refusal on the Chinamen lacking means to support themselves. They appealed to the immigration board.

Lively Little War.

London, Nov. 22.—The Tannier correspondent of the Express says the situation is exceedingly serious. France and Spain have agreed to combine and force Europe's terms on Morocco, and in order to do this they will have to land troops and fight. This means another little war, which will be lively and serious while it lasts, although the outcome is certain.

James Bryce the Man.

London, Nov. 22.—An interesting rumor was current in the lobby of the House of Commons, last night, to the effect that James Bryce, the author of "The American Commonwealth," and now chief secretary for Ireland, is likely to be selected to fill the vacant ambassadorship at Washington. No confirmation of this rumor can be obtained, and it is believed the government has not yet even decided the matter.

In Pitiable Condition.

Fifty Nestorian Christians from Persia, for "Saskatchewan," and seventy-seven British emigrants, who arrived from Liverpool, for Canada, yesterday under the auspices of the Salvation Army.

COBALT MINES.

What is Going on in the Stock Markets.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—An impending deal with the Trenchway property has given a smart stimulus to Cobalt stocks. J. C. McLaughlin, promoter of the company, went to New York, on Saturday last, and it was announced on Monday, that two large financial houses were prepared to buy control of a large block of the stock. In Trenchway stock an advance of 1/4 cent a share has been made since Monday, or 35 per cent increase.

The Green Mohan shares put on the market have not shown any marked enquiry, as there was a misunderstanding regarding the capitalization. A statement was circulated by the company this morning showing that the capitalization of $2,500,000 a million remains in the treasury for purchasing other properties. This change of sentiment in regard to the shares, and a much better demand appeared. The prices of other active issues were firm, with the exception of Foster, which is showing softness. This is attributed to many selling out their holdings to buy smaller priced stock. The exuberance of the mining market today overshadowed the local stock market and practically cut out speculation in other securities.

ALARM GROUNDLESS.

So They Say, But They Send Along Troops.

Madrid, Nov. 22.—Senator Alvarado, minister of marine, announced in the chamber of deputies, to-day, that alarm over the situation in Morocco was groundless. He added that the ships already at Tangier would be withdrawn when the Infanta Isabel, Pelayo and Maria de Molina arrived there. Moreover they were sent only to ensure the carrying out of the Algerian agreement. Despite this statement the anxiety is not allayed. The warships carry 500 troops, and it is stated 500 more will follow shortly. It is also reported that France is preparing to dispatch 500 troops to co-operate with the Spanish forces.

GERMAN RIPPER CRIMES

In a Small Village Startle Community.

Berlin, Nov. 22.—Two terrible crimes have been committed by the same person near Schandau, a little village on the Elbe. The wife of a quarman was carrying her husband's name when she was waylaid by a man who demanded her purse. When the woman hesitated the ruffian knotted her down and stabbed her several times in the breast and then proceeded to mutilate her body in an unspeakable fashion. The horrible butchery was witnessed by two Saxon customs officials on the opposite bank of the river. They were, however, powerless to go to the unfortunate woman's assistance. The same evening, and not far from the same spot, a little girl twelve years of age was abducted by the miscreant who fell her to the ground and cut her throat.

ASSAILS DR. SEATH

HE IS NOT SUITABLE FOR SUPERINTENDENT.

Inspector Scott, Renfrew County, Takes a Few Rounds Out of the Education Department—Has Also Something to Say of Premier's Utterances.

Eganville, Ont., Nov. 21.—The statement of R. G. Scott, public school inspector, Renfrew, that incompetence reigns in the department of education, that Hon. Dr. Pyne is not qualified for his position, and that Dr. Seath is not a suitable person for his position, has caused considerable comment here. Mr. Scott makes his allegations in his annual report to the county council.

He says the people of Ontario should call a halt and consider where they are at in educational matters. That a remedy can ever be got from departmental sources is, he declares, manifestly absurd. The people alone know where the proper remedy lies, and can provide satisfactory remedies.

The insufficient supply of teachers he blames upon the Ross-Harcourt regime, the abolition of the old time primary certificates, and the taking of the power to deal with these certificates from county boards of examiners.

When the change of government comes the inspector continues, instead of the advent of an energetic, able minister of education, "a more incompetent person could not have been selected. He knows 'practically nothing about educational matters or the workings of the public school system of the province.'

"From what has now developed," says the inspector, "it is evident that he never intended to be the real minister of education."

Mr. Scott continues by commending the legislature of 1871 for placing the public school system under the control of a possible and competent minister, and adds: "The premier instead of selecting such a man as minister of education adopted a widely different course, he created the office of superintendent of education and clothed that office with powers and functions which practically make the holder of it the real minister of education, without being responsible to the people, and result in making the nominal minister of education a mere grammophone of one who in reality exercises the functions of the minister of education and does his work. At best the plan is expensive, circuitous and uncertain. Under a minister of education who is really fit for his position there is no room for a superintendent of education. If a minister of education is not fit for his position, why should he be there, above all places; if he is fit, why should there be an expensive department for the performance of services that are not required, and for which there is no room."

The creation of the position of superintendent of education is alleged to have been made to make atonement for the unfitness of the minister.

"The present incumbent," Mr. Scott declares, "has not been a public school teacher, and has not been connected in the public schools of the country and knows practically little of their working."

The appointment of Dr. Seath as superintendent of education, immediately succeeding his arrangement of Hon. G. W. Ross in 1881, was, he says, "equally disgraceful, both to Mr. Ross and Mr. Seath."

"The minimum salary enactment is described as 'the first taste of a bureaucratic or departmental system whereby the freedom of the contract is taken away.' He adds: 'That the provision is wrong in this country is evident. That it is plainly very wrong in a country like this where thirty per cent have to be given to teachers without any qualifications, in order to keep the schools open, goes for the saying, and proves conclusively that Mr. Whitney's pre-election utterances about our public schools, greatly standing in need of something to be done for them were very cloudy and lazy leubations.'

Mr. Scott urges that power should be given to inspectors and local boards to supply schools with third class teachers.

"The recent appointment of a provincial inspector of continuation classes is characterized as 'absurd and unnecessary.'"

Complaint is also made that the special government grant was not apportioned among the schools according to attendance, but was, by direction of the department, divided equally among the schools of each township.

Mr. Scott sums up what he deems is wanted to improve the teaching in the schools as follows: "To remove the present administrators from power and do away with a useless and irresponsible superintendent of education, and to enlarge the scope and powers of the local boards, delegate matters to them, and have less departmental meddling in the details of schools."

"A number of men housed in a building at Toronto," he declares, "are not competent to arrange and manage the affairs of the country."

Georgian Bay Canal Next Engineering Work Canada Will Undertake—Says a Minister of the Government.
