SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN.
A Preparation That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ Discovered. Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite that digs into the scalp and eats the vitality of hair at the root, causing falling hair and baldness, biologists set to work to discover some preparation that would kill the germ. After a year's labor in one laboratory, the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered, and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpeside. It prevents baldness, stops falling hair and speeds eradication of dandruff. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpeside Co., Detroit, Mich. G. W. Mahood special agent.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL
EXPLANATION FROM THE GENERAL HOSPITAL.

About a Charge to a Poor Woman—Money Will Be Refunded—Council Takes No Action on G.P.E. Subway Matter.
The county council met again at three o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. Councillor Shannon gave notice of a by-law to assume control of a bridge at the head of Opinik Lake on the boundary line of Bedford and Stormont townships. The bridge requires attention.
As the committee had not completed their work, an adjournment was made till 10 a.m., Thursday.
At the Thursday morning session of the county council, G. Y. Chown, chairman of the board of governors of Kingston General Hospital, was present to make some explanation of the wrongful charge which Councillor Freeman said had been made by the hospital on a poor Portland woman for treatment last spring.
Mr. Chown said that if the facts were as Councillor Freeman stated there would be a grievance, but the facts that he stated from the hospital office were as follows: The widow and her daughter came to the hospital on January 2nd, 1900. The letter was to undergo a serious operation which actually saved her life. Her mother volunteered to pay forty cents a day. Dr. Garrett performed the operation, and received nothing for it, not expecting anything. The mother did not give anyone the impression that she was in poverty, in fact she had paid the doctor for his bill, but the letter said he would not ask for anything. The daughter was in the hospital from January 2nd to February 12th, forty-two days. The bill would have been $16.50. The hospital treasurer accepted the ten dollars.
Had the hospital authorities known of the actual conditions there would have been no charge. Instead, the mother, according to the reports Mr. Chown was able to read from the office, made a voluntary offering. It might be possible that the superintendent, Miss Gordon, had brought some pressure to bear upon the woman, but as the former was not here, definite information on that point could not be got.
Mr. Chown pointed out that the hospital was horribly poor, and, no doubt, the superintendent would try and get all the money possible from patients. There were so many patients able to pay, who in fact were not at the hospital. Where it was actually known that people could not pay the hospital would never ask anything from them.
Councillor Freeman said, that as it had been shown that the woman could not afford to pay, the money should be refunded. As to the daughter's operation, she had not recovered her strength, but was really an invalid. If she had got strong and been able to work, the matter would never have been mentioned. Councillor Freeman said that the hospital should try and find out from township clerks if certain people were able to pay, and endeavor to collect from those who impede.
Councillor Staines thought that in the case of the extreme poor, an order should be received from the township clerks asking that they be treated free.
Mr. Chown said that the hospital would certainly refund the money charged. He put in an appeal to the council for further aid. The hospital was not like a business. It could not press poor people or sue those that could not be considered able to pay. The hospital had to be in a private nature to a large extent.
Councillor Freeman said he was satisfied with Mr. Chown's explanation, and said that the charge was a mistake.
Mr. Chown said that the money would be refunded to the Portland woman.

The Subway Question.
Councillor Sprule stated that he had secured from J. Mel. Mowat, a copy of the order regarding the G. P. E. subway at Kingston Junction. Councillor Freeman thought that the council should invite Mr. Mowat to be present and explain the present situation.
Councillor Sprule read from the Whig of Tuesday a statement made by Mayor Mowat to the city council, that G. T. R. Solicitor Biggar had written him, that he would not press for payment of the land, in meantime, but would allow the matter to rest for a while.
Councillor Pringle advised letting the matter rest. The city was responsible to the same extent as the country, and therefore, let the county council follow the lead of the city. If the city did not intend to pay, then the council need not bother itself for the present at any rate.
Councillor Pillar said that was also his idea. He didn't think the county council required to get just yet. He should do something, even if it was to assist in arranging a scheme whereby it would not be necessary to build the subway. Staines said he would favor a resolution that the council do nothing in the matter till it was actually forced.
Councillor Spruce said that the county council had been brought into the subway matter in a wrongful manner, and assessed a large sum of money, that they did not have to pay. He moved, seconded by Councillor Pringle, that the council take no action on the bill for payment of half the land purchase.
Councillor Freeman said that if there was some doubt as to the county's liability, then the motion might be all right, but what was the point of entering a fight that would end in a loss for the county?
Councillor Pillar said that the matter had been through the courts, and it was evident that the city and the county must in the end pay.

THE CHEESE BOARD
Wants Cold Storage—Price Paid Was 11 1/2 Cents.

Kingston, Nov. 22.—At the meeting of the Frontenac cheese board, this afternoon, the number of cheese boarded was 301, 445 white and 456 colored. These factories had cheese on sale:
White—Cataract, 70; Forest, 80; Lake, 133; Rose Hill, 60; Collins Bay, 40; Silver Springs, 12.
Colored—Cataract, 30; Glenburnie, 60; Glenvale, 40; Gilt Ed., 50; Hartington, 34; Hinchinbrook, 50; Madoc, 60; Richmond, 48; McGrath's, 60. At 11 1/2 cents these factories sold: To Mr. Gillespie—Ercott, McGrath's, Silver Springs.
To Mr. Gibson—Glenburnie, Glenvale, Gilt Ed., Hartington, Elginburg, Collins Bay.
The auditor, L. L. Gallacher, reported having gone over the board's books for the past three years, and found them in excellent order. The board had on hand $16.23.
President McGrath said that the board should have some accommodation for cheese sent in. The cheese could not be stored. Salesmen had often to come in twice in connection with a sale, because of the narrow aisle room. Some factories had sent the Brockville board because there was storage.
Secretary Pillar said he didn't want to have anything to do with the Brockville board. He wanted his money when he sold his cheese, and he got that by being a member of the Kingston board. He suggested that the board approach the Ontario government and ask it to erect a cold storage building here. The county council might suggest that Mr. Mackinnon thought that the farmers of Frontenac should erect a cold storage building here. They should take stock in such a concern. Poultry and dairy produce not stored on the market could be put in storage. It would pay the farmers to put up such a building.
Mr. Strome moved that a committee, consisting of President McGrath, Mr. Mackinnon and Mr. Warriman wait upon the county council for next week to bring the matter to its attention. The motion was adopted.
The board will hold its last meeting of the season on December 6th.

COURTED CULPRITS
THE CONCURSUS INQUITATUS SAT LAST NIGHT.

Counsel For Prosecution and Defence Would Have Dimmed Many Legal Lights—Inter-collegiate Debate Next Thursday.
Next Saturday evening's meeting of the Alma Mater Society promises to be one of unusual interest. The "At Home" question is still one of much moment among the students and the communication from the senate regarding the more strict control of such functions will be up for further discussion as the movement to have the year dances stopped at an earlier hour than in the past is not being kindly accepted by all. Then another item on the business sheet will be the holding of the annual meeting of the Greek club at which officers for next year will be elected. In view of the forthcoming Alma Mater election, the nominations for the various positions in the Greek club will be received. These matters with the usual routine business and programme provided will doubtless call forth an extraordinary number of the students and make the meeting of more than usual importance.
It is understood that Russell Britton has been selected to officiate at the Varsity-McGill game in Toronto, next Saturday.
The regular meeting of the medical Y.M.C.A. was held yesterday afternoon, and largely attended. Prof. Byde was the speaker and his scholarly address held the attention of the audience throughout.
Dr. Gordon Coburn, a graduate from Queen's last year, and lately a member of the James Bay medical staff, has been removed to St. Luke's Hospital, Ottawa, suffering from typhoid.
The intercollegiate debate between McGill and Queen's has been scheduled for Kingston on next Thursday evening. It will likely be held in Grant Hall.
The elections of the A. M. S. this year will be very interesting from the present outlook. The fight for the presidency will in all likelihood be between D. C. Ramsay from divinity, and Donell Cameron from medicine. Both are graduates of arts and well known in all branches of college work, particularly in athletics, the former being captain of the association football team, and the latter manager of the senior rugby team.
Dr. P. S. Patch, has been appointed superintendent of the Montreal General Hospital, to take effect on January 1st, 1907. He is a son of J. S. Patch, a former Kingstonian.

de consideration of the students, and the campaign will commence in earnest.
The Lenora tea will be held in the new arts' building next Saturday afternoon. Of course the date chosen is for the sole benefit of the A. M. S. candidates, that they may become known and popular. However, the lady students are making a great effort to have their annual tea eclipse any previously held and the innumerable of all interested has been called upon to furnish new ideas for the entertainment of guests.
One of the brightest sessions in the history of the Medical Concourse Interscholastic at Victoria was held last night and justice meted out to some seven offenders against the commands of Aesculapius, while the remainder of the evening was spent in the large parlour of the honorable and august body. The cry which opened the court was a masterpiece and evoked prolonged applause from the large number of spectators present. About the bench was gathered an array of legal talent, both for the prosecution and for the crown which included the several cases in a manner creditable to full-fledged legal lights. The summer end of the arguments by the court in the case of the jury and in presenting judgments were also masterpieces. Two of the prisoners were dismissed owing to the able conduct of their cases, and the others were able to prove the charges unfounded, while others, rather than contest, pleaded guilty at once. Those offenders who were convicted received fines varying according to the seriousness of their misdemeanors. One prisoner, who failed to put in appearance, was fined for contempt of court and ordered to appear in the hall of justice at the next session.
MRS. FERGUSON'S DEATH.
After many long years of illness, during which she was a centre of brightness to her home, and a magnet of attraction to friends without, Mrs. Ferguson, the wife of Prof. George Ferguson of Queen's University, died on Thursday morning. She has not been well since the family came back to town from Niagara, but it was hoped that the care which she has always received would avail as it had in the past, and keep her long with her friends. But a couple of days ago it was found that she was sinking and she was taken to the hospital that trained skill might ease her last days. Mrs. Ferguson is the mother of four sons and two daughters. Both of the latter are at home. Of the sons, Archibald and Melik, who is in the west, are graduates of Queen's.
