Woman's Success in A Lottery Prize.

Black Cat a Mascot—Its Owner Gives It Credit For His Winning a $2,500 Motor Car.

London, Nov. 24.—The wheel of fortune has been kind to two English people, Mrs. Savage, a South-west lady, has won a prize of $200,000 in a lottery, and Frank Williams, a Newmarket painter and decorator, has won a $2,500 motor car in a Lockerie bazaar raffle.

On being advised by a friend in India of the Calcutta lottery, Mrs. Savage purchased $10 worth of tickets, and a few days later was offered $2,500 for them. Her husband made her a similar offer if she would give him $25,000 in the same lottery, she agreed, and a formal contract was drawn up.

Mrs. Savage and her husband were overjoyed some time afterward to learn that they were entitled to a prize of $200,000.

Frank Williams attributes his luck in winning a $2,500 motor car at the Lockerie Town Hall Bazaar, opened last week by Princess Louise, to a black cat, which he regards as his mascot. It has frequently brought him luck. Some time ago he had a house to let at Newmarket, and was unable to secure a tenant. The black cat was taken to the house, and there was immediately a shoal of applications, and a good tenant was secured.

The tenant, hearing of the cat, asked for it to be left. His request was granted, and the cat made a practice of sleeping at the foot of his bed. Almost immediately he had a remarkable run of luck at Newmarket races.

He gave up his tenancy, and Mr. Williams took possession. He purchased two shilling tickets in the Lockerie bazaar raffle and thought no more about them until Friday afternoon, as the black cat was perched on his master's shoulders, a telegram arrived from the town clerk of Lockerie, notifying Mr. Williams that one of his two tickets was the winning number, entitling him to a motor car of the value of $2,500, given by Lady Buchanan Jardine.

Mr. Williams is firmly convinced that the black cat is responsible for his run of luck.

ROYAL PAIR BUSY.

Prince and Princess to See South Africa.

London, Nov. 24.—The Prince and Princess of Wales have been kept hustling in one way and another very much lately. As a matter of fact, the prince has certainly done his duty, and has left the succession to the British throne in no possible doubt.

But besides her domestic duties the princess has done much travelling. Her journeys to Australia and India were great successes, but both she and the prince were overworked.

It is now practically decided that the prince and princess will visit South Africa on their way to India, and will spend some months there. It is an open secret that in politics the prince is liberal, and the princess is conservative, and that he would like to see the greatest freedom extended to the colonies.

BRILLIANT INVESTIGATOR.

A Woman Who Had Made a Name.

London, Nov. 24.—Men, in my experience seldom graduate as a woman's legitimate distinction that she has won. Mrs. Ayrton, who is the wife of Prof. Ayrton, the principal of the Central Technical College in South Kensington, London, has long been known as a brilliant investigator of electrical problems.

She is the only woman member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers, and she was nominated for fellowship of the Royal Society in 1902, but on that occasion the legal authorities held that the council had no power to elect a woman.

One of the many knotty points which have been long debated among scientists is the drop of potential in an electric arc when it begins to hiss, and the reason for the hissing of the arc, which she showed to be solely due to the rush of air into the crater that is formed in one of the carbon pencils.

She has also done some very scientific experiments on the formation of sand ripples, which are likely to have a very important bearing on the wind-eroded surface of the moon.

Her husband made her a similar offer if she would give him $25,000 in the same lottery, she agreed, and a formal contract was drawn up.

Mrs. Savage and her husband were overjoyed some time afterward to learn that they were entitled to a prize of $200,000.

WAS TOO HASTY.

In Speaking of Faults of Other Peoples.

Liverpool, Nov. 24.—Some excitement was caused in Berlin at a meeting of the American Women's Club, when Miss Mary Hay, the secretary of the New York Association of Women's Clubs, gave an address on German women. Her enthusiastic remarks attracted the attention of the American women, and she exhorted the American women to arouse the Germans from the "slump of immorality" in which they live.

A number of German ladies were present, who much objected to the characterization, and did not enter into the discussion.

It is always a difficult subject to speak of the faults of other nationalities, and it is usually a mistake made by Americans, in fact, it is a mistake under any circumstances for one person or one nation to start criticizing another, who have a special mission to another for the time in their own eye is generally present, and prevents their really dealing with the beam in the eye of the other. It is safer to generalize as to the conditions which are best for the men and women of any people, and let the nation deduce its own lesson.

CONTINUAL INCREASE

In Cobalt Flotation is Helping Business.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—The continual increase in the Cobalt flotations is having influence on the investment market. The weakness in several principal stocks on Friday was thus explained, the volume of mining securities has for the present congested the market. Announcements have been made of flotations in the Erie Cobalt, which has taken over the Beaver, the Lawson—which by the way is not the famous Lawson mine but one situated about a mile distant from this mine property—and the Collings and the Erie Cobalt. The flotation of the Erie Cobalt is estimated to be $1,000,000, divided into 500,000 shares.

The only real strong stock in today's market is the Erie Cobalt, which is selling at $1.60. Foster and Silver Queen were master under apparent profit taking.

It is noted that the Erie Cobalt is high as $2.69, was also easier and held back to about $2.40.

THE DUKE MOROSE.

Elmhurst Palace is to Be Closed.

London, Nov. 24.—The Duke of Marlborough has not been inside any of his London clubs since the day that the newspapers gave details of his segregation from the duchess. A few days ago he was staying at the Cobourg Hotel, where he saw no visitors. He is described by his friends as being very morose and irritable.

It is now known that tremendous efforts were made by the duke and his friends to prevent publicity, and it was pointed out that the duke could easily live in separate houses, with only the general public being any the wiser. It is rumored that the duchess will divide her time equally between Paris and London.

The duke has definitely decided to close Elmhurst Palace and will reside at Chown's drug store, a small property near Benheim.

SOLDIER SHOT

He Was Killed at His Own Command.

WITH BALL CARTRIDGE—ORDERED TO FIRE.

A New Form of Suicide in Germany—He Had an Excellent Military Record and Had Got Into Difficulty Over the Accidental Shooting of a Civilian.

Berlin, Nov. 24.—Sergeant Maj. Litzmann, of the 20th Infantry, stationed at Bremen, committed suicide, yesterday, by ordering fifteen of his men to take aim at his heart and fire.

Litzmann called out the men for practice in execution drill and had, unknown to them, loaded their rifles with ball cartridges. He impersonated a doomed man and stood at fifteen paces from the firing party. He ordered them to aim at his heart, and carefully tested the level of their weapons. He corrected one man whose rifle was pointed too low. Then raising his cap he gave the order to fire, trying at the same time, "Hoch der Kaiser." He fell dead, shot through the body in fifteen places.

The sergeant-major was some time ago court-martialed for accidentally shooting a civilian in the course of a heated discussion. He had an excellent military record, but was sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

In a letter found at his quarters he wrote that after having been a loyal and zealous soldier he would never consent to the degradation of undeserved imprisonment.

WEALTH HAS ITS LIMITS.

And Kilmore Castle Has to Be Given Up.

London, Nov. 24.—The young Duchess of Manchester (formerly Zimmerman) is grief-stricken at being compelled to give up living at Kilmore castle, one of the most romantically situated places in Ireland, but the Zimmerman wealth, which has already been spent lavishly on the castle, has its limits. The heating and electric lighting, the furnishing and the sanitary alterations cost a small fortune.

And the upkeep expenses of such a large place are tremendous. No fewer than fifteen gardeners are required to keep the grounds in order, and a small army of servants is a necessity.

Bussey's threatened course of action is likely to cause a considerable sensation here. Many Americans will agree with and support his protest.

MADE A PROTEST

Against the Income Tax on Foreigners.

London, Nov. 21.—The London representative of an American business firm, Theodore Bussey, has just entered a protest against the income tax which is levied on "domiciled" foreigners. They swooped down on him this year, and despite the plea that none of his money comes from England, he can do no more than pay the tax. He said: "I shall close my office and send my clerks and typist to swell the ranks of our unemployed. My business is likely to cause a considerable sensation here. Many Americans will agree with and support his protest.

$10,000 FOR FIREMAN.

Lansing, Mich. Jan. 21.—Floyd Griswold, of Jackson, a Michigan Central fireman, was given a judgment for $10,165.25 in the Ingham circuit court against the Pere Marquette. Griswold was fireman on a Michigan Central express from the north, which collided with a Pere Marquette switching crew in the Lansing yards. He was caught between his engine and a freight car and he was attempting to jump, and his back and leg were permanently injured. He claimed that the Pere Marquette crew didn't warn the passenger train of its danger by displaying the proper signals.

Building Steamers.

London, Nov. 24.—The Glasgow Herald says one Italian company is so thoroughly convinced of the future of the trade in emigration traffic with Canada that it already has three steamers building in this country for the Canadian trade.
