

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the poisons and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless substances in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved complexion of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some cases a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Told in the Twilight

One of the brightest of the season's teas was Mrs. H. Macpherson's Thursday. Nothing was wanting to make it a success, Miss Carter, the hostess' charming young sister, received with her, and wore a gown of white silk, trimmed with heavy lace medallions.

Mrs. Macpherson herself was in a lace robe, made on princess, over pink silk, and trimmed with Irish crochet. From pink-shaded candles a warm light was shed on a drawing-room filled with palms and ferns, and on walls looped with smiles.

Over the cloth was a luncheon cloth, laid with white chiffon. A handsome crystal vase rose from it, and a silver sprig vase was also filled with flowers. A single blossom in a long-stemmed vase stood before each tray, and was set for the special pleasure of Mrs. J. S. Smith and Miss Spangenberg, who poured out the tea and coffee.

Don't let the day slip your memory—Tuesday, November 27th—teas and sales at Miss Macaulay's for the J.W.A. of St. George's cathedral.

Many bright letters saying good-bye to Isabel Cartwright, have been received from the bride, who is now Mrs. Richard Alexander, of Vancouver. At a little gathering on her wedding day here, a magic circle of old friends was formed and after the health of the bride was drunk (in tea) the toast of the "lucky, lucky man" was proposed, and duly honored.

Mrs. James Henry, King street, gave a very pleasant little tea, on Wednesday, in honor of Mrs. Frye.

There was a tea-table that many thought boasted quite the prettiest floral arrangement they had ever seen. Upon the centre of the white cloth lay green silk, with billows of white tulle above. On the sprays of lace fern were laid, and within its circle was a handsome silver-rimmed mirror, the silver shining through the cloudy tulle.

Among the guests were: Mrs. James Hendry, Mrs. Hugh Fraser, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. James Richmond, Mrs. A. W. Cooke, Mrs. J. O. Crisp, Mrs. Montague Strasser, Mrs. Francis Rogers, Mrs. W. Hampfield, Mrs. W. A. Craig, Mrs. Henry Skinner, Mrs. John Waddell, Mrs. John Maitland, Mrs. William Anwin, the Misses Ferguson and Miss Blanche Deacon.

Mrs. James Gannon gave a very bright and enjoyable supper party after "The Lyons Mail," on Thursday night. Lovingly made chrysanthemums were in the hallway, and perfect specimens of the money white and golden yellow blooms were in the dining-room.

Mrs. John Waddell, Sydenham street gave one of her small, but pleasant little dinners on Tuesday.

Mrs. L. L. Henderson, Bagot street, gave another jolly little party for the children's friends, last night. Progressive games constituted the fun and in these the prizes were won by Miss Nora Maroon, Miss Ada Pollock, Miss Colman, Calvin, and Master E. Goodwin.

Miss Florence Cunningham, Earl street, asked had a dozen girls to tea, yesterday, to meet Miss Lilla Herald.

Everyone cordially invited to afternoon tea, sale of work and household delicacies, at Mrs. J. C. Connell's, 25 West street, Wednesday, November 28th, in aid of general hospital.

Mrs. Hills had done everything possible to give them a happy evening. Miss Agnes and Miss Kathleen Richardson, University avenue, have returned from their visit in the west.

Mrs. Taylor, who is with Mrs. Henry Wade, Brock street, will return to Port Hope on Monday, but Mrs. Galbraith will remain till Thursday to receive that day with her niece.

Mrs. Herbert H. Brennan entertained on Wednesday in Ottawa, at an informal but very pleasant little tea in honor of Miss Muriel Webster.

Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson reached Fernie, B.C., on November 14th, after a tedious journey. She was warmly welcomed by her husband's parishioners.

Mrs. Charles Low, Brock street, is entertaining Rev. Charles T. Scott, of Montreal. He was one of the pastors at Mrs. Low's home, at Aylmer, Ont.

Mrs. Lillian Reynolds is home from Toronto, where she spent a few days with Mrs. Thornton Huycke.

Mrs. J. Graham, Princess street, has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. Murray, at London, Ontario, Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Van Lestie, of Montreal, is in town and is staying with Mrs. William Leslie, George street.

Mrs. George Hobart of Montreal, comes on Monday to visit her sister, Mrs. W. Hobart Hyde, University avenue.

The Rev. Joseph Merin Hodgson, D. D., now pastor of the Reformed church, Fordham, New York City, formerly pastor of Bridge street Methodist church, Belleville, is to be married to Miss Sarah Alston Invergowrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Devoe, of 39 Park avenue, New York, at the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, New York, on Tuesday, November 27th.

Several prominent Kingston township ratepayers in the city, Saturday morning, were not pleased that the county council had not raised the grants to the two local hospitals.

Mrs. G. C. Egan, Montreal, is visiting Mrs. William Brophy, Wellington street, for Toronto, where she will pay Mrs. E. H. Bickford, a little visit.

Trade at Bibby's to-night. Henry Cunningham, tuner, from Chikering's, at McAuley's book store, Beef, iron and wire, 25c, not 75c, at Gibson's Red Cross drug store.

St. Luke's church ladies' annual sale, December 11th, in their hall. Dainty odors in Sachet powders at Chown's drug store.
