The Cheapest Form of Health Insurance

YOU can buy Health Insurance now. Several good "Accident" Companies sell it.

Sixty dollars per year will bring you $25.00 per week, for every week you are sick.

But your time alone may be worth far more than that.

And $200 per week might not pay for your suffering.

That's why "Casarett" Insurance, which prevents sickness, is worth ten times as much money as other "Health" Insurance.

Yet "Casarett" Insurance will cost you less than Ten Cents a week.

That gives you a "West Pocket" Box to carry constantly.

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other illnesses likely to attack you.

Because 90 per cent of these illnesses begin in the bowels, or exist through poor nutrition.

Casarett doesn't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach.

No, — they act like Exercise on the Bowel's Intestine.

They stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to contract and propel the Food naturally past the little valves that mix Digestive Juices with Food.

The time to take a Casarett is the very minute you suspect you need one.

When you have a touch of Heart-burn, Gas-belching, Acid-rising-in-throat, or a Coming-on-Cold.

Carry the "West Pocket" Box ready for business where it belongs, just as you would your Watch, Pocket-knife or Lead-pencil.

It costs only 10 cents. At any drugist. Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

You don't wash with the box!

Both box and wrapper of Baby's Own Soap are plain, business like and cheap. All the money is in the Soap itself, which is as "wholesomely" pure and fragrant as money can make it.

Baby's Own Soap

is much imitated as to appearance, but delicate skins soon show the difference. "Baby's Own" costs YOU no more than the imitations.

GREAT PRIVILEGE.

Doctors Can Have Samples Tested Without Costs.

The local medical health officer, Dr. Yeomans, was expressing great satisfaction at the promptness with which experimental work is done in the government laboratory at Kingston under the care of Dr. W. F. Connell, the expert who gave evidence in the Klingbeil murder trial.

To give an example, he said that at eleven o'clock last night he mailed to Dr. Connell suspected samples of diphtheria and at nine o'clock this morning, he received a report from him, pronouncing the case one of diphtheria. The lady infected was brought in from the country yesterday and is now confined in the hospital.

The privilege of sending to the Kingston laboratory these samples is not confined to the medical health officer, but every doctor in the city can make use of the same privilege without cost.

Preference Very Decided. Dr. Francis Dumoulin has resigned the charge of St. Peter's, Chicago, to become at New Years dean of Trinity cathedral, Cleveland. His preference for residence in the United States is very decided.

Present, at the New York clothing store, Brock street, has made a great reduction in price, in the order and ready-made clothing department; also the men's furnishing. Everything will be offered at a great reduction in price. The stock is well assorted with new goods in every department.

Tips For The Farmers BY UNCLE JOSE.

At Toronto, Friday, another 10c was added in price of hogs, making $6 for select; lights and lats, $5.75; sows, $4 to $5 cwt.; stage, $2.50 to $3.50 cwt.

The supply of fresh eggs on the Ottawa market is exceedingly scarce, and prices will go up, $1.35 being paid now.

In Montreal dressed hogs are in fair demand at $8.50 to $8.75 per 100 lbs. Live hogs range about 6c to 6 1/2c per lb., off cars for select.

A very firm feeling prevails in the flour market at Montreal, but there is no actual change in prices to note.

An active business is passing in wheat grades for local and country account, but export trade is somewhat quiet at present.

We quote as follows: Manitoba spring wheat, $4.00; strong bakers, $4.10; winter wheat, $3.75 to $3.80; straight rollers, $3.75 to $3.80; do in bags, $1.65 to $1.75; extras, $1.50 to $1.60.

In Montreal the demand for baled hay for local consumption and export account continues good, and the market is active, with a firm undertone.

We quote as follows: No. 1, $13 to $13.50; No. 2, $12 to $12.50; clover, mixed, $11 to $11.50; and pure clover, $10 to $10.50 per ton.

In Toronto prices are firmer at $11 for baled hay.

Don't overfeed the hens will not lay and it incites disease.

Feed early now, the morning meal is the most important.

If the fowls are too fat give an exclusive diet of oats for a time.

Scoured lime is a good disinfectant to use on the floor of the poultry house.

The growth of full hatched chickens should be forced as much as possible.

Hens do not eat their eggs unless they learn the habit from having eggs broken in their nest.

It rarely pays to keep a hen after she is two years old, unless she has special qualities as an incubator.

A well-fed and well-cared for fowl is always in prime condition and a little extra feeding at any time will fit it for the table.

Young pullets that were hatched late will not lay in winter if they do not commence by November, but will begin early in the spring.

The science for mating for best results not only in fine points but vigor and fertility requires careful study and practical observation.

Backwater is stimulating in its nature and is especially valuable for feeding laying hens and young chickens. It should not be fed exclusively, however.

The freshest eggs are the heaviest, and when placed in water will sink to the bottom at once. Older eggs will sink partially to the bottom, while stale eggs will float on top.

The wet weather this week prevented of a large attendance of farmers in the city, and the storekeepers are looking for good weather.

Some good cold weather with fine sleighing is what is needed to make the Christmas trade good, and the merchants are hoping that there will come a change soon.

Very little fowl came in to the city during the week. Thursday was wet and there was some offered. Everyone says that there will be few turkeys for sale in comparison with former years but it is stated that there will be a big supply of chickens and ducks.

Farming by electricity may be one of the possibilities of the future. The electric current has accomplished some wonderful things and the wonders it is capable of doing are yet to be discovered.

Experiments have proved that the electric current greatly improves plant growth and it is believed that crop production can be greatly increased by this means.

At any rate the experiments are interesting and will probably be taken up by the experimental stations in due time.

John Love, president of the Winnipeg grain exchange, and a foremost grain operator of the west, was lunched by the Canadian club, and spoke upon "Handling the Wheat Crop of the West." In course of his remarks he said:

"The handling of the wheat crop is a question of great problems. The first is the financial problem. As you know the banking institutions of the country manage the business of the years smoothly and regularly; all the wants of trade are supplied, but when the beginning of August arrives they are within reaching distance of an immense undertaking which must strain all the financial sinews. They have to consider how they are to buy and pay for $40,000,000 worth of wheat, and that particular effort has to be made at a time when all the other accounts are being steadily increased from day to day and from week to week. There is no collection of accounts, to any large extent, until the end of October, and by that time millions and millions of dollars have gone to pay for the new wheat."

"Where does that money come from? These funds are not held during the season they are not needed, but when they are required for the grain they are applied for in Chicago, New York, Boston and London, where money can be obtained on short loans, and where at any time it is wanted it can be returned back again. When this enormous amount of money can be turned this way both the whole of our crop can be handled without disturbing anybody's account and the normal business of the country carried on."

New York exporters claim it is difficult to obtain Baldwin apples of a sufficiently good quality to meet the foreign demand. Exporters are quoted as saying that they would be willing to pay as much as $3 a barrel on the dock for such as Baldwins, but they seem to lack color and do not bring the price that they ought to abroad.

It is reported that the Baldwins as a whole are not panning out as well as had been expected, which is said to be especially true of the Canadian Baldwins. It is claimed that ninety per cent of the Baldwins in Canada are No. 2 stock. The foreign markets continue to take the northern Ben Day apples at 18c and 20c, but much of the western fruit has arrived in New York too ripe for export.

PRAISE FOR THE I. C. R.

Toronto Saturday Night Writes "Lady Gay" in the Toronto Saturday Night has said to say about the I. C. R.:

"One of the happy memories of a summer holiday in Eastern Canada is the trip from Montreal to Sydney or Halifax by the Intercolonial Railway, in rousant health, or in semi-invalidism, one may enjoy this peculiar route with pleasure, and too much cannot be said of the excellent of the road, the comfort of the cars or the kindness and civility of the hawking and porters. I am writing rather feelingly, and not in the mere chancery tone suspected by the public for I travelled east last summer by this line, when, under some circumstances, travel would have been almost impossible. Everything that could be done to sustain and cheer was done for me by everyone connected with the line. Conductor Gray and his porter, Finheer, a West Indian, who has been a life-time in such service, shall never be forgotten for their goodness and solicitude, and I must not omit the genial chap in charge of the dining-car, who certainly did not let me starve in solitary grandeur in my enforced horizontal position. It is easy to forget the little things that make life comfortable and surrounded by friends and attendants, but the test of the good will, comfort and capacity of a railway is one's remembrance of a long journey after the hours of the journey, when one is alone, ill and dependent on the care of officials, which apparently is perfect on the line from Montreal to the sea. It is scarcely necessary to enumerate the virtues of the journey, when one is well and about. The beautiful little glimpses of the habitant country, the quaint folk and little towns and churches, the view of Quebec sitting stately across the river and seen to great advantage as one passes, the lovely lakes away down east, the rushing salmon streams and boiling hills, the wonderful sunset at the Cap de Ferry, the scene of beauty I always anticipate all day: the peeps at Big, with its great boulders and broad stream, where the early bird gets coming west, the succession of deer little watering places, where one's friends are abiding and, finally, the dear old Halifax city, the Sydney 'jumping-off place.' I know little of other Canadian roads, but their beauties or their charm, beyond the immediate vicinity of Toronto, but I have an exceeding warm spot in my heart for the Intercolonial, since last summer's experience."

Ghastly Fact About Lynchings.

The American Magazine for December contains a statement of "what must be considered the most ghastly fact about lynchings:

"No one can look at one of the photographs of a lynching without a sense of abject horror. It is not the horror alone or chiefly of the thing itself, the ugly, inanimate centre of the tragedy. It is the faces of the spectators that shock our very souls. They are always laughing and grinning, even jollily, seems to be the note of these gatherings. Always we see the faces of little boys grinning cheerfully toward the camera. There are women sometimes in the crowd and sometimes little girls. There is no sign in these pictures of horror or grief, or of grim satisfaction over a difficult and dangerous task performed by necessity. The man who called it a 'lynching bee,' appreciated the true feelings of the lynchers. Leave out the crowd, and the picture might be taken for an ordinary cheerful gathering at a country fair. Leave it in, and oh, my brothers! it is a man dead, but the living that it is."

"THE WAYWARD SON."

There Was a Good Audience Last Night.

A fair house greeted Charles Gilder in the Opera House, on Friday night in the sensational comedy drama, "The Wayward Son." The company is fairly strong, and the plot sensational, being a conspiracy led by the chief of police to convert a young man of fortune into the publishing of bogus money. The various scenes are carefully prepared, and the acting throughout the play was of a high order.

S. Goldfine filled his position of leading man in a creditable manner, receiving good support from the whole company. The troupe left on last night's train for Brockville, to show to-night.

"Charley's Aunt."

The most amusing and much-talked-about old lady, "Charley's Aunt from Brazil," who has come from from, who has tickled the risibilities of audiences in all the principal cities of two continents, and who recently played at engagements in this city, the theatre being filled with crowded audiences, will make a return engagement to the Grand to-night.

A Unique Enterprise.

Those interested in mining matters will be attracted by the new idea and method now receiving notice in the newspaper. The idea is the value of co-operative and systematic prospecting, developing and investing, not only in the explored mines and prospects of the Canadian north-west, but also in the still vast unexplored mineral areas about and beyond Cobalt. The Cobalt and New Ontario Prospectors, Developers and Investors, Limited, a company carrying out these operations, is incorporated to the amount of $500,000, with shares of $10 each, and 50,000 shares.

"I have been a sufferer of Bright's disease for about 15 years and have been growing worse and worse, until about six weeks ago I commenced taking Warner's Safe Cure, and I am now able to do my own housework. The doctor who had been attending me for several years previous told my husband that I would die within a week and that there was nothing that could restore my health, as I was in the worst stages of Bright's disease. My husband talked with me and said he believed he knew of a remedy that might help me, and so he went and got a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure, and I noticed after taking one bottle very decided change for the better. I have now taken six bottles, and can't say enough words of praise for your wonderful remedy. It is certainly the only remedy that ever helped me.
