Brooklyn, Nov. 28.-The engineers, superintendents and workmen connected with the digging of the Belmont tunnel will hold a novel Thanksgiving service to night, just before the nportant section of the work is pected to be completed. There now remains only a few feet of earth and rock between the headings of shafts No. 2 and 3, and when this has been removed workmen will be able to walk from the Belmont Hotel to the middle of the reef in the East River, on which is situated one of the plants The tunnel will be completed to the Long Island side late in December. Progress is being made in a satisfactory manner in the Pennsylvania East River tunnels. One tube has been bored one thousand feet from the Manhattan side which leaves nearly three thousand feet to be traversed. The bore from the Long bland side is only a few feet beyond the pier line so it is expected the two headings will it is expected the two headings will not meet until after the lapse of an
