A Merry Christmas To All. The Christmas festival being an essentially religious one it was made the subject of special study or special service in the churches yesterday. All the incidents connected with the birth of Christ-the manner in which joyful news was conveyed to world, the manner in which prophecy had been fulfilled respecting it, and the manner in which the believing people had been affected in the ceeding centuries-were brought

These services have been the welcome accompaniment of a preparation for the anniversary which comes on the morrow. On the eve of this glad day the whole Christian world halts, lays aside its cares and anxieties, its burdens and its bickerings, its strain of the angelic chorus, "Glory to God In the Highest, and On Earth Peace,

The world is supposed to grow betmen, and children, too, are expected There is ab to develop in grace, in goodness, in weak heart usefulness, in character, in power, and when they fail to do this there is something amiss with them, and with orative will their environment.
