Monday night thousands of children

In Kingston, many little heads | tossed about on the pillows in vain endeavors to keep awake, and steal a peak at dear old Santa Claus, who travels over the housetops, driving his fleet of reindeer, and bringing with him a load of toys and many things dear to the hearts of the little ones. And while the little heads snuggled warm on downy pillows, Santa Claus came in the piping cold, without disturbing the stove pipes in the least, eaving his wonderful bundles for the children. The older folk allowed their thoughts to stray far back into the oast when they, too, tossed about on pillows awaiting the arrival of Santa laus. They thought of the time when Il was joy-their minds turned back to the many happy Christmas morns
