Rev. Robert Laird Says There Deplorable Lack of Canada-Foreign

Work of Church of England. 'Reverence' was the subject of forceful discourse by Rev. Robert Laird, M.A., of Queen's University, at the Sunday morning service in Chalmers church. The men who had spirit of reverence, he said, walked closer to God than the rest, and in their presence we feel as though we are passing among the pillars of sacred cathedrals. But, said the preacher, there is to-day a deplorable lack of reverence, and a revival to re-establish that heavenly quality is sorely needed in Canada. With the commercial growth of this country men have become sordid, and they fail to recognize the hand of God in their prosperit . Self-sufficiency is the evil that exists, and this self-sufficiency is the chief cause for the flight of that reverence which was so strong in the fathers of Israel. For the re-establishment of the spirit of reverence is needed the recognition by man that God is their Father, that He has given them January 9th.
