EXTENSIVE PLANT BURNED.
Many Workmen and Women Jump Out.
Dover, N.H., Jan. 28.—Mill No. 1 of the extensive plant of the Cocheco Manufacturing company, was burned Saturday, causing a financial loss estimated at $600,000, and possibly the loss of life. The fire broke out after the five hundred operatives had gone to work from a cause not yet determined. The flames spread rapidly, and a number of the workmen and women jumped from windows in the upper stories. Persons thus rescued reported that some had been overcome by smoke in the burning building and the fire was immediately begun search, which was without result, until the flames drove them outside the walls.

Boards of Trade Wants Canal Enlarged.
St. Catharines, Ont., Jan. 28.—At a meeting of the 77-board of trade, with Kingston, Winnipeg and Montreal boards of trade in their efforts to prevail upon the Dominion government to enlarge the Welland canal. It was pointed out that even if the proposed Georgian Bay canal is built, it could not be used after December 1st, because it would be frozen up before the winter, whereas the Well-land canal is navigable until January. Unless the Welland canal, therefore, is enlarged, the most of the big vessels will go through the Erie canal across the line, which is being enlarged. The general impression here is that the only way to save the trade in Canada is to enlarge the Welland canal.

soldier had been captured, but he had disappeared within the past few days, and was having been rumored—that he had returned to the front to capture and return them to the American side.

THE ELECTIONS
For The German Reichstag
On Friday.
ONLY 209 CHOSEN
WILL BE SECOND BALLOTS IN 152 DISTRICTS.

The Stay-at-Home Voters Were Roused into Action and Turned out in the Elections—The Chancellor's Position is Greatly Strengthened.
Berlin, Jan. 28.—The results of Friday's reichstag elections have been officially declared in 361 districts out of a total of 397. The socialists lost twenty seats and gained one. The centrist party lost four and gained two. The two conservative parties lost six and gained nine. The moderate radicals lost one and gained three. The national liberals lost nine and gained two. The agrarians lost two and gained five. In the 361 districts only 209 members were elected, second ballots being necessary in 152 districts. Both the newspaper analysts and the party managers agree that the result of the elections was that of a victory. The success of the day, about by the arousing of the stay-at-home voters. Three million electors did not vote in 1903, and it was to this class that the government made a special appeal. Chancellor Von Bismarck's position with the emperor and the country is greatly strengthened. The position of the empire as having been greatly fortified by the result of the elections. The chancellor probably will be able to go before parliament with a degree of power which he would not have previously possessed. He may select this time the best cabinet, however, to respond to his health appears to be excellent. He works with such ardor that it is understood his wife is anxious to give up his office and not invite another illness.

sory salary clauses, and seek in another way to encourage but not enforce increases in the respect by percent from the provincial treasury forty per cent. of any amount over $300
