 The attention of the legislature to the college here, in order by personal observation to get a better idea of its work, were impressed by the "spirit" which animated all who have to do with the institution. That spirit was referred to in a recent pamphlet that was issued, and for the purpose of inspiring the friends of Queen's to give as its needs invited.
 A critic referred to their spirit as something that was elusive and hard to define. It is certainly not illusive. This one thing about Queen's men is an undying loyalty to their Alma Mater, a loyalty which is demonstrated in the service which they render, and the sacrifices which they make in its behalf. It was never more apparent than at present, and never more disposed to invite men to generous deeds and actions.
 The work of Queen's has not been as fully understood as it deserved. As a result of the revolution on Wednesday the government may be moved to take a larger view of the college and its training, and give more liberally to its mining departments. Provincial aid, however, can never take the place of the private benefactions by which Queen's has been advanced.

 Watch your expense—the extra is often more at least than the extra income.
 Watch your coal. Does your tin need re-filling too frequently? Our "Coal King" is the only COAL—now made here—that comes from a single source.
 It is neither the stove-burner nor the full-mouthed variety. It is no time as any coal mined, and it's kept better cleaner and drier than ordinary coal.
 You need it.
 And, our "Coal King" is good. Our fuel is the first you should use.

Water That Sells High.
 The Toronto Electric Light Company is under suspicion in seeking the power to issue additional stock and to the extent of a million dollars. It is alleged that the company wants this capital in order to make necessary improvements at once.
 There is an objectionable feature in connection with the proposal. It is that the stock he sold to the present members of the company at par, while the stock already out is worth $161 per share. In other words the million dollars of new stock, if put on the market, would sell for $1,600,000, and it is proposed to give the favoured ones, the present stockholders, a bonus to the extent of $600,000.
 Nor is this all. The city of Toronto has under consideration the acquisition of the electric plant. It is proposed to buy and operate it in the people's interest. The stock now sold at par will not be available at less than the market rate, which is $1,600,000, and it is a serious matter for the people.
 Practically the scheme is to water the new stock of the electric company and to have the people purchase it at the market rate, water and all. The legislature must be a consenting party and that body has been getting wiser in its dealing with municipal matters.
The Safety Of Life.
 An important issue is before the railway commission, namely, the adoption of such rules by the railway companies as will tend to at least reduce the number of accidents occurring annually. The railway commission can order the precautions which it thinks will check or prevent the fatalities, but it prefers that the companies prepare the exhibit and subject it to approval.
 A suggestion of the chairman of the commission, Judge Killam, was not well received. It was that the companies should submit the rules, when drafted, to the trainmen for an expression of their opinion. The representative of the Grand Trunk thought that would involve serious delay. In fact, he intimates that the employees of the companies would be hard to satisfy, and that between them and their employers there might be a gap it would be hard to bridge.
 That something in the way of preventive measures is required goes without saying. In America there is an awful slaughter of life annually. Thousands of people are killed. Thousands more are maimed and incapacitated for service of any kind. In England there is a wonderful absence of harrowing and distressing accidents. Two occurred last year, and the uncommonness of them excited general remarks. The fact is that the English people view accidents with great alarm and there is with a prompt and searching enquiry into every mishap, that the occurrence of them is rendered almost impossible by the safeguards that are used.
 The weakness of the American railway system is the light estimate put by the average corporation upon life. Collisions take place, and the company's first concern is the damage or destruction of rolling stock. It should be the loss of life, and this will only come when public opinion changes the attitude of the corporations towards their employees.
The Spirit Of Queen's

and her wealthy friends will respond, as heretofore, to the appeals, and they will help to add to the handsome piles that now decorate the college campus, and are as so many monuments of her greatness.
 Aye, the spirit of Queen's is a living, though elusive, factor in her success.
Why Should Trustees Kick?
 The attitude of the farmers on the education question—their opposition to the act of last year, in so far as its coercive features were concerned—is presented in the Weekly Sun. Our contemporary represents the sentiments of the rural electors more clearly perhaps than any other paper in Ontario, and for the reason that it makes a special study of their interests. The desire to raise the salaries of the teachers is laudable enough, but the government took an abrupt and unpopular method of reaching the object aimed at. Some one blundered in his impetuosity, and the government sees that now.
 The position of the rural trustee on the subject is stated by the Sun. He holds that the government erred. In what way? "The farmer," says the Sun, "is already bearing an unfair share of the public burdens. He pays taxes for municipal and school purposes, based on the actual value of his property, while railways alongside of him are taken upon not more than one-third of their holdings. The farmer pays his full share of the bonuses to the iron and steel industry and the subsidies to railways—grants in which the manufacturer, the capitalist, and the merchant doing business with these favored corporations have an indirect share, but in which the farmer has no part. He pays, under the tariff, from twenty-five to fifty per cent. above actual value for practically all the necessities he buys, while he receives no compensating advantage in return. When the farmer found his already heavy burden being increased it is not surprising that anger was aroused, even when the object of the increase was so praiseworthy. Nor was there any need of increasing the tax on the farm. With railway and corporate wealth fairly taxed, our forest resources properly conserved and the wealth of Cobalt, and other like centres justly tolled, enough revenue can be secured to meet the entire cost not only of carrying on the provincial government, but to meet the necessarily increased cost of public school education as well. The government's decision, announced last week, to largely increase the provincial grants to rural public schools is apparently due to a partial realization of the facts. Rural taxpayers should assist the government to a full realization of this matter."
 Here is an indication that the overtures of the government for peace, on the school question, will not be accepted. There is a partial statement for some one's mistake, but there will have to be more done before the agricultural vote will be appeased. The giving of a few dollars in grants to the school system will not make the rural school trustees abandon their ideas. They approve of the better school and their equipment, but in all these things, says the Sun, "a good deal may be left to the trustees and inspectors acting together, and with a knowledge of local circumstances." In just so many words the Sun intimates that the education department must not imagine that it is the whole push. The act of the last session made the trustee a collector of revenue for the government. It deprived him of his share in school government. It is a position that the average trustee will not occupy.

Editorial Notes.
 The attempt of the Thaw party is to show that the "defendant" is insane. The clearest evidence of it so far apparent has been the mismanagement of his case. He has wanted to direct it himself.
 The opposition in Ottawa is trying hard to get something in the way of a land deal scandal as big as that in which Pope, Lafarge, Bennett et al. participated. So far the effect has been a failure.
 The evidence is coming out that the listening board has been doing a good deal of execution in the Toronto telephone offices. The garbled conversations, as written down, find their way into the London election cases.
 The president of the Ottawa Teachers' Association has essayed to brace up Mr. Whitney in the school legislation. Too late. The premier scolded by what he heard has made his back somersault.
 Harry K. Thaw, on trial for the murder of Sanford White, is referred to in the newspaper reports as the "defendant." In this country he would be called the "prisoner," and occupy a place in the dock.
 Mr. Whitney solemnly announces that there is not a word of truth in the report that he is to gerrymander the province. The Albany club will perhaps accept this as a hint that they are not to pass out any more lemons.
 The chief income inspector of Win-log is the conservative nominee for one of the local seats. If defeated he will expect to resume his job. That's a species of political morality which some people cannot condone.

 A cartoonist presents the attitude of some railway magnates as it appears to the on-lookers. They are absorbed with their earnings, the counting of the coin, while life is being slaughtered on the railway through some manifest neglect.
 J. A. Macdonald, of the Globe, away over in Rochester, has been giving his testimony as to the power of the press. Mr. Macdonald is an honor to the profession. He is as good a speaker as any of the higher interests, material and moral, of the community. On behalf of the board of managers, James M. Farrell expressed the cordial approval of himself and fellow-managers of the line of action suggested.
 In the course of the year, three new elders were elected. Rev. Alexander Macdonald, of the I.M.C.; Louis E. Staples, M.A., Collegiate Institute; and Prof. Matheson, of Queen's. Prof. Dyde, in the name of the Ladies' Aid and the congregation, presented complimentary resolutions to these new brethren, who briefly acknowledged the words of regard offered them.
 The regular business was then taken up. The reports of the session, Women's Foreign Mission Society, Sunday School, Young Women's Society, Alexandra Circle, Ladies' Aid, Benevolent Fund, and choir, were successively presented and adopted. All showed a successful year. Then the trustees' and treasurer's reports came together, and proved highly satisfactory and, therefore, highly interesting. The revenue is elastic, with a credit balance of nearly $200; and the contributions to the major church schemes are all above those of last year, some as much as twenty-five per cent. Owing to important improvements and repairs, like the concrete walks around the church grounds, and some insurance, the expenses were heavier than usual, but fortunately the revenue was in proportion.
 The retiring trustees, Messrs. V. Renton, James M. Farrell, and D. E. Murray, were thanked for a term of three years. Cordial thanks were voted to the various societies of the congregation, and to the chairman of the evening, and the meeting was closed with the benediction.

A Danger Gone By.
 British Columbians having "squashed" the nationalist movement in that province can now settle down to a term of political quiet, wherein the government of the day might have hoped to see the votes of men who attached their loyalty to the destruction of the Canadian form of government.
A Government Back Down.
 Under Whitney's rural school trustees coercion act of last year, the minimum salary for teachers was $350 to $500, according to the assessment of the property. Whitney boasted much of his determination to compel the rural trustees to "loosen up." Now he has weakened, and under his new act the minimum salary will drop to $200. On a $400 salary the government will pay $40. What gave the premier "cold feet"? Was it fear of the rural trustees whom he has been using to make it appear that he is a generous friend of the teachers? It is a great come-down, at any rate.
File On The Agony.
 London Advertiser.
 The appointment of partisan commissioners to "investigate" public officials has become the fixed practice of the Whitney government. It is probably intended to cover the nakedness of officialdom, and the cloak of hypocrisy, but it serves the ends of the spoilsman just as well. The liberal press cannot be too vehement in its denunciation of these wrongs. If it has been too forbearing something must be allowed for the feeling that it was useless to hope to stay the hand of the government so long as it had its present majority in the legislature. It has been too indulgent, however, should not default in this matter. It should be made the occasion of an attack upon the government during the present session.

CHALMERS CHURCH
 Held Its Annual Meeting—Revenue Surplus of $200.
 Last evening, the annual meeting of Chalmers church was held. A feature, now adopted for the second time, was a social before the business was taken up. The Ladies' Aid, a society uniting in its good offices, provided the refreshments, and the attendance was large.
 C. Polson was called to the chair, and C. A. Macpherson, the secretary's desk. Brief preliminary addresses, apt and to the point, were made by several gentlemen. George M. Macdonald congratulated the workers on the general success of the church year, and offered some suggestive hints as to a way in which the churches and labor organizations might work together in the higher interests, material and moral, of the community. On behalf of the board of managers, James M. Farrell expressed the cordial approval of himself and fellow-managers of the line of action suggested.

Health of Canadian Women
 A Subject Much Discussed At Women's Clubs—The Future of a Country Depends on the Health of Its Women.
 Miss Helena McKinnon, Mrs. Anna McKay
 At the New York State Assembly of Mothers a prominent New York doctor told the 500 women present that healthy women were so rare as to be almost extinct.
 This seems to be a sweeping statement of the condition of women. Yet how many do you know who are perfectly well and do not have some trouble arising from a derangement of the female organism which manifests itself in headaches, backaches, nervousness, that bearing-down feeling, painful or irregular periods, pelvic catarrh, displacement of the female organs, indigestion or sleeplessness? There is a tried and true remedy for all these ailments. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more Canadian women to health than all other remedies in the world. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism, as nothing else can. For thirty years it has been curing the worst forms of female complaints. Such testimony as the following should be convincing.
 Mrs. Anna McKay of 326 Spadina Avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes:
 Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
 "Being a mother of five children, I had had experience with the general troubles of my sex. I was located when one of my children was born, and from that hour I date all my afflictions. I found that within a few months my health was impaired, I had female weakness and serious inflammation. I became weak and dizzy, but kept on my feet, dragging through my work without life or pleasure. A neighbor who had been helped by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound insisted that I take at least one bottle. I did so and felt so much better that I kept on the treatment and it made me a strong and well woman. The few dollars I spent for the medicine cannot begin to pay what it was worth to me."
 Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds where Others Fail.
