Interesting Experiments Conducted By Inventor.

Paris, Feb. 22.—At the Bureau d'Illustration, last night, Prof. Korn, the inventor of a system of telephotography, conducted a number of experiments, and an announcement of the highest importance was subsequently made.

The principle by which the problem of long-distance vision might be solved with the aid of telegraphy, had, it was stated, been solved. Several members of the government participated in experiments, which they declared to be absolutely conclusive.

President Fallieres' photograph was, during the evening, reproduced faultlessly over the telephone wire from Lyons in the space of six minutes by telephotography.

Butler For Channel Tunnel.

London, Feb. 22.—Gen. Sir William Butler, writing on the channel tunnel scheme, remarks that if sea power means anything, it means that it could knock into bits the entire area in which a tunnel under the sea emerges upon the land surface. The French people are not afraid of this channel scheme, and they are right.

South American Nervine

begins at the beginning to prevent and eradicate disease—it acts on the nerves that control the vital organs of the body, gives strength to the whole nervous system, fills the blood with that richness and purity that is so essential to health—because, remember this, that when these nerves become weakened and exhausted it means indigestion, torpid liver, stagnant kidneys, the heart flutters and becomes irregular and weak, the lungs fail to have the nourishment and weaken, and the climax, naturally enough, is debility—and the next stage may be consumption. All such dire consequences may be saved by the wonderful potency of South American Nervine.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

AND HIS WONDROUS POWER AND WISDOM.

Delmas and the Thaw Trial—He is Teaching the New York Lawyers a Few Things—The Accident of the Past Week.

Special Correspondence. Letter No. 1,552.

New York, Feb. 22.—The recurrence of Abraham Lincoln's birthday last week, awakened a flood of memories of the mightiest case of evolution that has occurred in all the centuries. No one disputes his occult powers, his wondrous and prophetic vision, his wisdom in shaping the grandest events that ever tested the brain of mortal man, the steadiness with which this skilful pilot held the helm of the ship of state, and after four years of terrible struggle through a storm of mingled disaster, glory and defeat, guided his battered bark into a quiet harbor and safe anchorage, and lived long enough to receive the endorsement of a grateful nation; to see the hydra-head of treason and rebellion crushed in hopeless ruin, and to hear the hosannas of a united world in glorification of his immortal act in signing the emancipation proclamation, which struck the shackles from four millions of groaning slaves, and dedicated his beloved country to freedom forever more.

CHARLES CURTIS.
Senator-elect from Kansas. The first Indian Senator.

Men are asking to-day whence came that wondrous power and wisdom which marked his entire administration. That question God alone can answer. To judge Abraham Lincoln's mighty work you must consider his environment, from the rude cabin where he was born, the poverty stricken surroundings of the ignorant mother on whose breast he was matured and the equally ignorant father, who earned his daily toil. Where shall we look for the secret? Of the time, the place and the circumstances I will not stop to tell, from the time he starts as a lawyer in the town of Springfield, till he reached the presidency of the United States, the most supreme pilot of the American people. The thunder of Sumter had awakened the nation and thousands were hurrying from the mountains of the middle and New England states in defence of the stars and stripes, ready to give their best blood, and to die beneath its folds if God so willed. He knew it was not ordered that his country should cease to exist, and its existence should be blotted out from the races of history, and its name be forgotten among men. Again we ask the question where did he get that wisdom which enabled him to guide in safety the ship of state through that terrible and disastrous storm.

A million of men had sprung into the battlefield to meet the proudest aristocratic men. They believed in their ancestry, they claimed with an emphasis the high superiority of the royal blood and looked upon the laborers and mechanics of the north, who would never meet them in battle as plebeians. It is impossible in the brief space accorded me to give even a brief synopsis of that which led up to the breaking of the chains that hung about the necks of four millions of slaves, and enabled Abraham Lincoln to sign that emancipation proclamation which secured his beloved land to freedom for evermore. It is well that posterity should be made to remember that he faced four years of sunshine and disaster, of brilliant victory and disastrous defeat, but that he never took one step backward. It is true it was a costly sacrifice of life, blood and gold, and we are here to-day, where the grass grows green over the graves of our glorious dead. Let us pay the noblest tribute that nature owes to the Hadred of its immortal dead.

There is one passage I desire to repeat, it is the closing lines on the ending page, where he seems to call our attention to the graves of our honored dead and defines the duty which we owe them in guarding the holy trust placed in our care. "Here on this sacred spot with the dearest and grandest association that ever stirred an American heart, we pledge our lives, our honor and our death if necessary, and tell to the entire world that the government of the people and for the people and by the people shall not perish from the earth." And so we may safely trust his reputation to the care of the people he loved. No cloud in the future can ever cast its shadow on his name. The assassin's bullet that laid him low was the sacrifice that shall give to the world a knowledge of what sort of man Abraham Lincoln was, and since the closing of the nineteenth century on this beside July day when the thunders of battle and the ill-strung strife made us tremble for the nation's fate. The storm is past and peace is the sweet guarantee that the nation shall live with God's blessing for centuries to come."

"In a multitude of counsel is the beginning of wisdom." This is a trite and useful saying; it has done good service in its day, but now it is worn out and musty; at least it would appear so in the trial now going on here, of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White. New York has legal minds second to no city in the United States. They are a proud and trusty set who place their profession away up in the golden scale; in protecting a life they get vast sums of money; may be ten, fifteen, twenty, thirty or forty thousand dollars, and they do not start a foot or raise a hand till the cash is planked down on their table. When Thaw's trial was about to take place his family took a hand in his defence. Millions were ready for the lawyers who could save from the clutches of the law and secure him from the penalty of the electric chair. Five eminent lawyers were engaged for the defence and while the case was ready to proceed to trial, the town was startled with the intelligence that another lawyer had been secured in San Francisco who had never lost a murder case in his years of defending criminals; he was the very man and the Thaw family engaged to pay a total of $250,000 if Harry should be acquitted. Then our legal defenders got the straight tip that a legal giant was coming on to New York and when he arrived he would tell them what to do. Of course our lawyers were delighted when they heard the news. On the arrival of Mr. Delmas he straightway demanded all the papers in the case. They were refused, but he eventually got them from Counsellor Hartridge. A private meeting was called of all the leading lawyers in the case; the meeting was not peaceful, and at one time threatened to break up in a row; it was finally agreed to let the lawyer from San Francisco take charge of the witness, Evelyn Thaw, and lead her skillfully to tell to the jury the whole story. The effect on the jury was wonderful and if the case had then been given into their hands there is little doubt but Harry Thaw would have left the court a free man.

Two frightful accidents occurred last week involving terrible loss of life and to those who are left behind woe unutterable. Could the collision between the sailing vessel and the steamer have been avoided? If what I state now is true the officer on the deck of the Knowlton should be indicted. The man at her wheel turned to him and asked, "What shall I do?" The officer said, "Keep to your course." If that is true he should be hung. While our hearts were yet rung another accident has occurred, involving many lives. To die by the collision and suppleness it be the freezing horrors of that frightful night it seems as if the heart grows still and I shut my eyes to the shocking picture. When will these accidents end? He alone can tell who "holdeth the sea in the hollow of his hand."

WEAKENED BY LA GRIPPE.

Health and Strength Regained Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The after effects of la grippe are more serious than the disease itself. Its victims are left low-spirited and depressed; they are tortured with headaches and backaches, fever and chills. It leaves the sufferer an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, rheumatism and often that most dreaded of all diseases, consumption. For the after effects of la grippe there is absolutely no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps make new, rich, red blood that drives disease from the system, and makes weak, despondent men and women bright, cheerful and strong. Miss Eugenie Donaldson, of St. Jerome, Que., found a cure through these pills after other remedies had failed to help her. She says: "I took la grippe and did not seem able to shake it off. It developed into bronchitis; I coughed day and night and grew so weak that I could hardly move about. I tried remedy after remedy, but as nothing seemed to help me I began to dread that consumption was developing and that my case was incurable. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and following that advice I got a supply. For two months I took the pills faithfully, following the directions given for their use. I am thankful I did so for they fully restored my strength and I have since enjoyed perfect health. I will always advise sick and ailing people to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial for I firmly believe that they will find great benefit from their use."

Rich, red blood is the one thing needed to maintain health and strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make rich, red blood. That is the reason of their great popularity in every country in the world. That is why they cure anaemia, general weakness, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion, St. Vitus dance, partial paralysis, and the ills of girlhood and womanhood, with all its distressing headaches, sideaches and backaches. See that you get the genuine pills with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

News Dispatches Tell of Rich Strike At Sunburst Mines

Immense Zinc and Lead Ore Bodies Proven Up by Development Work in Last Few Days. Machinery Ordered for Shaft No. 3—Night and Day Shifts Will be Put to Work

Newspaper dispatches announce important facts to holders of stock in the Sunburst Mining Co.

This immensely rich zinc and lead property lies in the heart of the world's greatest producing district—the southwest district. It is in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, four miles from Baxter Springs, Kans.

Development work has proven up ore bodies of tremendous values, and the permanent equipment for Shaft No. 3 has been ordered and will be installed with all speed. 280 acres of proven ore land has now been added to the original holdings, constituting a valuable asset.

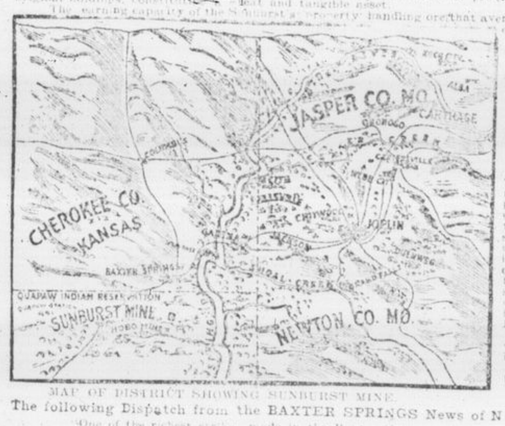
The working capacity of the Sunburst property handling ore that averages from 8 per cent. to 15 per cent. can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Co., of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

Right in this district lead and zinc mines are yielding immense fortunes to stockholders.

Many properties are now returning from 24 per cent. to 120 per cent. dividends on the investment.

The Eastman Development Co.'s White Eagle Mill, which was started within the past 60 days, is now producing some 8 to 10 tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Clarissa Mining Co., has made a phenomenal strike in the last week. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of this district in 1907, and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the vast mineral wealth of the Baxter Springs Camp.

Machinery is now being installed and work on No. 3 shaft resumed, while drifting is being pushed to connect No. 2 and No. 3 shaft, which will open an immense bodies of ore for a distance of 500 feet.



MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

The following Dispatch from the BAXTER SPRINGS News of November 8th, 1906, explains itself:

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp, south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co. on their properties, just east of the drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 2 shaft on the property. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in use, with a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 2 shaft on the property. The Home run ore, which has developed the richest ore to date, is developed on the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is found to be.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Co. 280 acres of land, which is the choicest piece of the Quapaw lease to the south and east of the Sunburst property. This land is but one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Iron Mask Co., about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most successful strikes was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 28 inches of solid ore in the very richest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this district, made the sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section. In addition to those already made and following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charley Johnson land (opposite on the tract and not in purchase by a syndicate of Minneapolis iron men will cause an unusual influx of capital to this district the coming year.

The Sunburst Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract west of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the north of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 40 per cent. The strike was made just the north line of the Sunburst tract.

Price of Share, Now 8c.; Par Value, $1

This sale of a limited issue of fully-paid, non-assessable stock is to procure immediate funds for further machinery & concentrating mill and to pay day and night shifts to work.

Quick dividends are in sight.

The discovery of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of the richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the acquisition of the company is attracting wide attention, and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As with the most successful stocks, its trend is to increase in value, as it is found to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand, because of the increased confidence in this good property has already absorbed thousands of shares, and will steadily advance the price.

The shrewd investor will improve his opportunity now and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now at the present price and secure the greatest possible profits of this great enterprise. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price.
