THE LAZIEST MAN

HAD LAIN IN BED FOR NEARLY THIRTY YEARS.
Compelled to Get Up—Has Now Resumed Bed, and Will Probably Stay There Until His Death.

Belmont, March 6.—An Irishman named Thompson, who lives with his mother at Clare, Lurgan, can justly claim to be the laziest man on earth. He went to bed in 1877, never leaving it till a fortnight ago, and then only by compulsion.

There is every reason to believe that Thompson would have remained in bed until the end of his life had not a crisis occurred in his domestic affairs a fortnight ago.

Two neighbors were called in, and the work of squeezing him into the outgoing suit occupied a whole evening. When dressed he was too tired to walk, and an ambulance had to be brought to convey him to the union.
