The Paragraph Pulpit REV. C. W. CASSON, OTTA WA

An Affirmative Religion. The Unitarian church does not stand for any mere denial of any doctrines. It does not in the least seek to destroy England's new Minister of education, succeeding Augustine Birrell, who went gations. In reality it stands for the to take Ambassador Bryce's place in most positive principles of religious Ireland, when the latter was trensferred life. It makes affirmation of these principles in the clearest possible way There was a time, perhaps, when was compelled to make denial of ac cepted fallacies, but that time has long since passed. To-day it voices such splendid affirmations as the divinity of man, the love of God, the su premacy of love through law, and the brotherhood of man. Address Mr. Casson for free litera-
