Stomach
Troubles

To wrong action of the stomach and impaired digestion a host of diseases owe their origin.

When the food is imperfectly digested the fullness is not derived from it by the body, and then stomach troubles start to appear.

Thus you become thin, weak, nervous and debilitated, energy is lacking, brightness, snapp and vigor are lost and in their place come dullness, dizziness, loss of appetite, depression and languor. The great point is to get the stomach back into good shape again so it can properly digest the food, and the easiest, quickest and best way to do it is by the use of

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Miss Lizzie Furlotte, Jacques River, N.B., writes: "I was very much troubled with my stomach and did not know what to do. I consulted several doctors, got medicine from them, but all to no purpose, and was constantly getting worse. One day I had the good luck to meet with a friend who had been troubled in the same way as myself. My friend told me of the wonderful cure Burdock Blood Bitters had made with her and advised me to try a bottle. I did so, and what a happy change the first bottle made. I took two more and am completely cured, and I shall ever sing the praises of B.B.B."

TO CHANGE CLIMATE.
THIS IS DRASTIC PLAN OF
CANADIAN

To Destroy the Rigors of the North American Winter By Blasting out Channel Between Arctic and Atlantic.

Undo the awful work of Noah's flood, change North America into a semi-tropical paradise, make Minnesota and North Dakota and Manitoba and Winnipeg like California or the Carolinas, destroy our winters within five years.

That is the legislation before the Canadian Parliament today. It isn't a dream of a lunatic. It is as hard-headed a proposition as ever legislators considered. The scheme, in a word, is for the United States and Canada to unite to destroy the rigors of the North American winter by blasting out the channel between the Arctic and the Atlantic, melt the long stagnant ice and make the warm current from the milder Atlantic to permeate the frozen fastnesses of the Arctic.

The plan is B. A. McLennan's.
He lives in Russell, Manitoba, where it is nothing to see the mercury down to 40 below zero on a cold winter's morning. He is a farmer on a large scale, one of the best in the West. His idea is to make all North America a continent with very mild winters and less torrid summers.

The plan has just been presented to the Canadian Parliament. It involves the aid of the United States as well. It is now in the hands of Frank E.
Oliver, Minister of the Interior for the Dominion of Canada. He has gone to get encouragement in Scheme.

Lord Kelvin has been consulted and will report later. Minister Oliver has communicated with Mr. McLennan, informing him that he may be encouraged in his scheme and asking for more particulars.

Once upon a time, as geology played its part, North America enjoyed a temperate climate as there was in the world. The remains of many trees, fossils and semitropical shrubbery are to be found all along the edge of the Arctic circle and in northern Siberia.

The great flood of Noah's time underd all the life of the North American land of bleak winters and scorching summers. It blocked up the channel to the Arctic and kept the warm waters of the Atlantic from leaving those ice locked northern shores. All this and more has been Mr. McLennan's life study.

He speaks about it frankly. His arguments seem unanswerable. As he talked about his plan with a writer to the World Magazine he grew enthusiastic.

"Now, what caused the mild winter in which these fossil trees once lived?" he asked, and he answered the question himself.

"Undoubtedly," he said, "it was caused by a greater stretch of open ocean to the north than now exists.
Labrador is in the same latitude as the British Isles, the south of Greenland corresponds in this particular to Newfoundland and Newfoundland to the north of France. Were it not for the modifying influences of this great stretch of open ocean the winters in Europe would be of Arctic severity.

"What caused this open ocean to be turned into an icefield? Beyond doubt the fact that the great ocean current which at one time flowed from the Atlantic into the Arctic became impeded by some barrier.

"It is a scientific fact which you can verify by consulting any geographer that in the bed of the Atlantic there is a channel on the east side extending from south of the equator northward and passing between the Faroe and Shetland Islands at a depth of 670 fathoms. This passage is about 350 miles wide and I believe that it is through this channel that the current between the Atlantic and Arctic oceans formerly flowed.

"Now, precise scientific calculations will show you that a current flowing through this channel at the rate of four miles an hour and at a temperature ten degrees above freezing point will allow of sufficient water to pass through to melt 1,000 cubic miles of ice a day.

"That is to say, in four or five years this would melt all the ice in the Arctic Ocean and Canada, from being a country of rigorous winters, would become almost semi-tropical, and all the land which stretches in this vast area to the north of us would share in that climate and become habitable."

"My proposition," he went on, "is to petition the British Government and to get it to approach the United States Government also with the object of detaching a section of the fleets of both Powers to undertake the work after the several countries interested have given pledges and such security as may be considered adequate.

"If the icefield of the Arctic be stranded on one large island or on two small ones, besides coming against the north of Greenland, I would propose to break up the ice by starting in to work at the east of Greenland and then proceeding north and west. The work could also be commenced at the head of Davis Strait and Behring Strait.

"The work of breaking up the ice could, I believe, be done by shooting great torpedoes under the ice, so fixed that they would explode at a considerable distance. Ice floating on the surface, as the ice in the Arctic Ocean does, would be very easy to break up, as experiments have proved.

"And once broken up, the ice east of Greenland would flow out into the Arctic and melt. If the whole mass of ice were found to float out when its connection with Greenland were severed, we should probably have to depend on Davis and Behring Straits to convey it away.

"I might point out to you that when this scheme of mine has been carried out, as it will be some day, the area of habitable land in Canada will be more than double that of the whole United States. Moreover, Greenland, with a mild climate, would unquestionably become valuable, and you can depend upon it that the United States would try to get possession of it in that case."

TO VISIT KING EDWARD.
Heiress to "Carmen Sylva's" Throne
One of His Cleverest Nieces.

The Crown Princess Marie of Rou-mania and the Crown Prince are to be the guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra during several weeks of the London season, and will be present with their Majesties at Ascot races.

The princess is the eldest daughter of the late Duke of Coburg and of the Duchess Marie, and is one of the most gifted of King Edward's nieces.

She was little more than a child when she was married to the heir of the Roumanian throne. Ignoring conventions, she is frequently to be seen walking in the streets in Bucharest with one or more of her beautiful children, but otherwise unattended, and while the exhibition was open there last summer visitors would meet her roaming through the courts with her little girls like ordinary tourists.

The princess is greatly beloved in her husband's country - indeed, her popularity is second only to that of her mother-in-law, Queen Carmen Sylva. She spent most of the summer at a charming country seat at Sinaia, on the borders of Roumania and Hungary, where King Charles and Queen Carmen Sylva have their summer palace.

Two years ago the princess visited England, and lived during a part of the summer with her children in a little villa at Cowes.

Her beauty and her magnificent dress and jewels made the princess a notable figure at King Edward's coronation fetes. She is very fond of outdoor sports, and her hobby is wood-carving.

BOY BURGLAR'S OUTFIT.
Arms and Make-Up of Leader of Juvenile Band.

An amusing story of the exploits of Frank Taylor, the boy burglar of Robin Hood Lane Station, who was charged with shooting at Mr. Damon, a solicitor, of Carleton, was told recently.

Taylor was caught in Mr. Damon's house, and when his story of having entered it by mistake was not believed, he fired a shot at Mr. Damon from his revolver, and attempted to escape.
He was captured after a struggle, in which he hit Mr. Damon's hand severely.

Erwin John Barrett, 14 years old, was also arrested as one of his accomplices, and he made a confession in which he declared that he had accompanied Taylor on ten expeditions, the object of which was robbery. He said that Taylor forced him to accompany him, and stand outside while Taylor entered the houses.

The police stated that they found the following articles in his room:

A pair of handcuffs.
Black velvet coat, with ruffles and trimmed with lace at the cuffs.
Pair of black boots with spurs.
Three sword bayonets.
Three air guns.
A breech-loading fowling piece.
Several wigs and moustaches.
A theatrical make-up box.

They also found a large quantity of sensational literature, and they learned that the boy had taken lessons in wrestling and in the use of firearms.

How an Earl Won a Bride.
The "ashes" were not the only trophy Lord Darnley brought back in triumph from Australia. He brought back a bride as well. At one of the cricket matches the tall young Englishman lost his handkerchief, and the day being extremely hot, he enquired of his friends if any one of them had a spare handkerchief that he might loan.

Immediately a very feminine "kerchief, sweet scented and of delicate fabric, was handed to him from some invisible source. It was a most acceptable convenience that hot day, and after the match he expressed his desire to thank the kindly lady. An introduction to Miss Florence Murphy followed. She was the daughter of a Victoria magistrate and a member of Sir W. J. Clarke's household as governess to the younger children.

The acquaintance so romantically commenced under the kindly chaperonage of Lady Clarke, an engagement following which stood the test of a long absence in England after the cricketing tour. Then the faithful swain, who is now a representative Irish peer, returned to Australia, claimed his bride, and bore her off in triumph. -Tit-Bits.

Hides in a Chimney.
An amusing story of a bookmaker's device to escape arrest was told at Westpool, when John Cain, aged 33, was remanded, charged with keeping a betting house.

Three detectives went to the place on Saturday, and found Cain standing at the back door taking bets from two young men. When he saw the officers he ran in and fastened the door, having previously let a bull terrier loose in the street.

The dog having been pacified, the officers burst in the door and searched the house, but Cain had mysteriously disappeared. After a long and patient search he was found up the chimney of an upper room.

Cain was quite out of sight, and it was only because soot was noticed in the fireplace that suspicion of the hide-place occurred. Detective Sergeant Whitley put his arm up the chimney and caught a boot. Cain was then carefully pulled down and taken into custody. He looked a sorry spectacle.

British Domestic Evils.
Divorces are, happily, rare in society circles. Separation by mutual consent, however, grows more frequent every year. Everyone has upon his or her visiting list husbands and wives who never meet if they can help it, but between whom there has never been an open breach. Incompatibility is the usual cause, and the reason for that is one imagines, the still common custom of encouraging the younger generation to marry before they have begun to approach years of discretion. -Lon-

GANANOQUE TIDINGS.
Only Four Liquor Licenses For the Town.

Gananoque, April 26.-The board of liquor license commissioners renewed licenses for the International hotel, Provincial hotel, Brophy house, and Arlington house. The Inn is without license, and the American, for which efforts were made to get a license, is also left out.

Christ Church's congregational reunion in the parish house, last evening, drew out a good attendance. After tea a programme of vocal and instrumental music was furnished.

About a dozen Italians arrived here, from Montreal, yesterday, to work on the water works and sewerage connections; but as work was not ready for them, they started to clean up the debris at the Inn.

The Young People's Association of St. Andrew's church is engaging to organize for the church, engaging to raise the necessary amount by its own efforts.

James Bartlett, who was awarded his degree of bachelor of science in mining, from Queen's, last, yesterday, for Fernie, B.C., where he has secured a situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Orser have returned to town. Mr. Orser spent the winter travelling an musician with a troupe on the other side. Charles Latimore, Charles street, is spending a week in Montreal.

BOY OF 13 SUICIDES.
Refused Use of Fishing Rod - Hanged Himself to Beam.

Brookville, April 24.-The lifeless body of Ernest Perry, aged thirteen years, was found hanging from a beam in a barn at Piteairn yesterday.

The parents of the boy are dead, and he had been making his home with a family at Piteairn. It is alleged that he wanted to borrow a fish-pole, and on being refused, became downhearted. He took the pole, broke it in two and then went and hanged himself.

Wouldn't Take Off His Hat.
Rome, April 26.-During a religious procession at Paupial, province of Naples, a man refused to remove his cap, a man refused to remove his
cap, who shouted "Death to the Protestants." The man was injured by the stones thrown at him.

The man who dare not fall is sure to do it.

For Men of Cultured Tastes.

That proof of taste and refinement which Goldwin Smith found in Canada is apparent in Semi-ready apparel. The fabrics are always of patterns which will appeal to the most cultured mind.

The finest productions from the makers of British worsteds are found in the Semi-ready Sack and English Walking Suits at $25.

The made-in-Canada Blunoz Serge suit at $20 is an evidence of
