

The Safe Tonic for Young and Old

The "Canada Lancet" (the leading medical authority of the Dominion) says of Abbey's Salt—

"Its ingredients have been repeatedly analyzed by expert chemists, and have been pronounced fully up to the requirements of the test for purity as laid down in the latest edition of the British Pharmacopoeia. We consider Abbey's the best effervescent salt made in any country."

An Absolute Cure for Rheumatism

If the skin or bowels are unhealthy, they won't throw off enough uric acid. This uric acid is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to the nerves—and causes Rheumatism.

Fruit-a-tives surely cure Rheumatism and Sciatica because they act directly on bowels, kidneys and skin—and so strengthen and invigorate these organs that there is no uric acid retained in the system to irritate the nerves and bring Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuralgia.

"Fruit-a-tives" are intensified fruit juices with tonics and intestinal antiseptics added.

50c. box—6 for $2.50.

AT THIS TIME OF THE YEAR

Everyone needs something to create and maintain strength for the daily round of duties.

There is nothing better than an Ale or Porter, the purity and merit of which has been attested by chemists, physicians and experts at the great exhibitions.

BACK TO THE CELL

RECOGNIZED WHILE LEADING A GOOD LIFE.

Has Yet 12 Years to Serve—Wife, Devoted to Him, Lives Near Prison—Governor Takes Up Case.

Jackson, Mich., May 14.—After two years of freedom, during which he tried to atone for past misdeeds by hard work and decent living, John Allison, member of the Lake Shore gang, who was sentenced to seventeen years in prison for participating in the Richmond, Mich., bank robbery and escape in 1904, is back in the Jackson penitentiary to serve out the remaining twelve years, unless he obtains a parole of pardon because of his good record during the two years of freedom.

The Lake Shore gang spread terror throughout southern Michigan and northern Ohio and Indiana in 1898 by its robberies. In 1890 Allison, with three members of the gang, Peveet, Spelman and Spellman, was captured and convicted of robbing the Richmond Bank. Allison was given a seven-year sentence, and with the others sent to the prison here. Peveet, who was for unruly conduct to the northern prison at Marquette, but in 1901 the other three men were still in the prison at Jackson.

While repairs were being made in the institution they succeeded in escaping. Allison made his way to Illinois, forsook his former ways, took a new name and went to work as a mechanic. He met Mrs. Wagner, a widow with four children, fell in love with her and married her without disclosing his past life; and the possibility of his being returned to prison.

Months later, just before the birth of their baby, he told the story to his wife, who said they would try to forget and to live down the old life. Just before last Christmas the mechanic at work in the plow works at Moine, Ill., was recognized as Allison and was arrested. He had been a good mechanic, was faithful and was well liked by his fellows. He was immediately returned to prison here.

Allison's fellow workmen in the plow works made a modest purse for Mrs. Allison and she came to this city, where she might be near her husband and could work for his release. Twice a month, Mrs. Allison visits her husband, when she has brief talks with him and he fondles the baby.

Allison's blameless life after his escape and his manifest effort to forsake entirely his former companions and habits, has aroused much sympathy for him, and he seems to be in a fair way to secure the longest for parole. Fortified by a long petition for his release, signed by his former associates in Moine, Allison next week will make formal application to the pardon board for clemency. Governor P. M. Watson, who was impressed with Allison's apparently sincere reformation, has said that he thinks that Allison should have some reprieve from the long term of imprisonment which he faces.

A singular fate seems to have pursued the Lake Shore gang since their conviction for the Richmond bank robbery. Peveet chopped off his hand to avoid working at the Marquette prison and was sent to the asylum for criminal insane at Iowa. He escaped last fall, but was re-arrested in Garret, Ind., only last week, and was returned to the asylum.

Slater was shot and killed a few months ago while committing a burglary in Ohio. Spellman has never been found since his escape.

INVESTIGATES ZAM-BUK.

A Magistrate Says is a Wonderful Healer.

Probably no household remedy in existence has won such glowing tributes from people in high places as has Zam-Buk. Mr. Roger F. Perry, Justice of the Peace for British Columbia, recently tested this famous balm, and this is what he says of it:

"The Pavilion, Goldfields, B.C.

"To the Zam-Buk Co. 'Gentlemen.—After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for.

"I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in their home. It truly does even more than you claim for it. For my own part I could not now be without it in the house. Yours very truly, (Signed) 'Roger F. Perry,' Goldfields, B.C.

"Justice of the Peace for B.C."

Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves and embrocations, for while these mostly contain animal oils and fat Zam-Buk is purely herbal. It closes and heals cuts, festering sores, ulcers, eruptions, boils, eczema, chafing sores, etc. In the household it is the handiest possible remedy for burns, scalds, children's injuries. It instantly cleanses any wound to which it is applied; prevents festering, inflammation or blood poisoning. It cures piles, varicose ulcers, and fistula. All druggists and stores sell at fifty cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50.

Gray With New Wide Sleeve.

Gray and white striped silk is used for the frock pictured, the costume showing the wide Japanese sleeve in one with the bodice. The frock was made with a deep pointed vest which extended to the high giraffe front and back. Cream color Chantilly lace was used for the vest and ruffled undersleeves. Round embroidered dots in black silk, alternating with trefoil figures in watermelon pink, outlined the vest and sleeves, the edges of which were piped with a narrow fold of pink tulle. The high giraffe was also of the tulle. The skirt was trimmed with two applied folds of striped silk out on the bias.

The Aldermen To Co-operate.

There was a deputation from the board of trade present at last evening's meeting of the city council to ask for co-operation in urging the people to vote for the ampler by-laws on the 28th. The second reading of the by-laws passed the council unanimously, so that the aldermen are thus enabled to get out and work for their passage by the people. The mayor advised the board of trade to include the aldermen on the working committee in the wards.

In Egypt, at Assuit, a German lady was much pleased at having secured for a considerable sum the mummy of a mummy cut. The Arab dealer was quite satisfied with the sum received. But with the curiosity inherited from our poor first mother, the lady began to examine her mummy and even picked a hole in it. Encouraged she proceeded to rip it open. Her mummy was stuffed with the Daily Mail.

The devil was probably first referred to by some man who couldn't think of anything else to blame for his actions.

Givens And Toye?

According to Ald. Gaskin, the majority candidate next January will be Alfs. Givens and Toye. At the city council meeting, last evening, when Ald. Givens got ahead of the board of works chairman in moving the resolution of thanks to Highway Commissioner Campbell, Ald. Gaskin excused Ald. Givens' "bad manners" by saying: "You know Mr. Givens is going to run against Mr. Toye for mayor."

Absent Minded Professor: "I always forget to put a handkerchief in my coat. I really must make a knot in it to remind myself."—Megendorfer Blatter.

The value of a man's memory depends on whether he is recalling his own good deeds or those of his neighbors.

If the truth were known, many a monkey is probably proud that every vest trouble by rubbing throat and chest with Nervilleine. Use it also as a gargle in water. Nervilleine hunts out pain, aches and congestion—cures them at once. Almost magical in pain-subduing power, so soothing and healing that hundreds of thousands of bottles are used each year.

For a general household remedy, for the thousand and one ills that constantly arise, Nervilleine, either inside or outside, is just as good as any doctor. Try a 25c. bottle and see if this isn't so.

THIS SIMPLE REMEDY PREVENTS SORE THROAT.

Seems as if everyone had tight chest, sore throat or a cold of some kind. Nothing simpler than to prevent trouble by rubbing throat and chest with Nervilleine. Use it also as a gargle in water. Nervilleine hunts out pain, aches and congestion—cures them at once. Almost magical in pain-subduing power, so soothing and healing that hundreds of thousands of bottles are used each year.

MEDAL FOR HERO.

The Brave Work of a Young Kingstonian.

An effort will be made to secure a medal from the government for John Gallagher, aged fifteen, of William street, who some few weeks ago, saved another lad named Gourdiere, living on Queen street, from drowning. The accident will be remembered, occurred near the Catarqui bridge. Gourdiere fell into the water, and Gallagher jumped in after him, and succeeded in pulling him out.

This is the third time that young Gallagher has prevented a drowning accident, and the youngster is being congratulated on all sides, for his plucky work. Some little while ago, he saved a young boy, older than himself, from drowning, and when only eight years of age, he saved his younger brother from a watery grave.

The police department has been securing information about Gallagher's work, and a request will be made to the government, that the lad be presented with a medal.

CONAN DOYLE WINS

MAKES GOVERNMENT ADMIT AN EGREGIOUS ERROR.

Novelist Plays Sherlock Holmes and Obtains Pardon For George Ellaji, So Called English Dreyfus, Wrongly Accused and Imprisoned.

London, May 15.—The pardoning of George Edalji, son of an Episcopal clergyman of Parsee descent, after he had served three years in prison, has proved the contention of Sir Conan Doyle and Henry Labouchere that the young man was innocent and that the authorities have been guilty of a stupendous blunder.

Sir Conan Doyle's interest in the peculiar case was aroused by numerous printed comments on it, the widespread public effort to get the home office to pardon the man and by the stand-point of a Sherlock Holmes. He became convinced finally that the conviction of Edalji was due to police stupidity and presumption owing to a preconceived bias that Edalji was guilty. Sir Conan, after personal investigation into the case, pronounced it similar to the Dreyfus case.

Henry Labouchere took up the case first, but could make no headway as a journalist. As a member of parliament he then urged the home office to do justice for Edalji had been sentenced to seven years' imprisonment and had been discharged. The home office said it had looked into the case and could do nothing. It refused to allow the documents to be seen, as was the situation in the Dreyfus case. Then Sir Conan began his investigation. Before he published his conclusions the authorities took a sudden shift, described by Sir Conan as "irregular and illogical," and released Edalji without pardon after having served three years' imprisonment. Sir Conan said of this:

"Evidently the authorities were shakily and compromised with their consciences in this fashion; but this cannot be final. The man is guilty or he is not. If he is, he deserves every day of his seven years. If he is not, we must have apology, pardon and restitution." Now the pardon has come.

Edalji was convicted in 1903 of killing a pony brutally and maliciously at the expense of sending various anonymous letters to himself, his father and police officials, in one of which there was a threat to murder a man. The case was called, the recalled expert in handwriting in the case admitted afterward that his conclusions about the letters were all wrong.

WANTED.

Every Man, Woman and Child in Kingston.

to call at our store for the greatest strength creator and health restorer which we have ever sold—Vinal. It is not a patent medicine, but the most valuable and delicious cod liver preparation without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work.

We do not believe there is a person in this vicinity who cannot be benefited by Vinal at this season of the year. Vinal is delicious to the taste, and it is recognized as the greatest strength creator for old people, weak, sickly women and children; nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinal is unequalled for curing coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Creates an appetite and makes those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

We have had so much experience with Vinal and seen so many wonderful results from its use that we offer to return money without question if it does not accomplish all we claim for it.

"Can anything be more fair than this? Try it on our guarantee, George W. M'Gibson, druggist.

The Trees Being Mutilated.

The tree trimming by the light plant employees is not beautifying the streets. The employees are perhaps not to blame for the mutilation that is proceeding this week. Why does the board of works not insist that the city engineer be consulted as to the tree-trimming. Some trees have been ruined by the sawing off of large branches.
