Canada's Peaches.

Ottawa, May 21.—South Africa is finding a good market for peaches in England, writes Canada's commercial agent in Leeds, who says there is no reason why Canadian peaches should not arrive in England in first-class condition. A large business can be done by Canada in peaches and peaches if packed in boxes with two trays to a box.

Fitzgerald On The Gridiron.

New York, May 21.—The judges of the New York courts seem determined to bring Justice Fitzgerald to the block at last. He has been cited to appear before the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn to show cause why he should not be disbarred. Justice Tompkins also fixed to-day as the day for Justice Fitzgerald to appear before him in White Plains to show cause why he should not be examined as to his handling of the funds of Margaret Slevin, who asserts that the justice has $14,000 of funds belonging to her.

ABOMINABLE RULE

CONGO ATROCITIES CONDEMNED BY BISHOPS

Primate of England and Leaders in Episcopacy Urge Steps Toward Immediate Reform.

London, May 21.—The subject of Congo misrule was discussed, yesterday, in the upper House of Convocation of Canterbury, the primate presiding.

A series of resolutions were passed, expressing profound regret and indignation at the methods of administration in the Congo Free State, declaring that the members of that house upon the conscience of England, as one of the powers by whose conquest the Congo Free State was established and its neutrality guaranteed, and stating that the gravest responsibility will lie upon the consenting powers to bring to an end, in some way, abuses which are so crying, and which may be of the most sinister effect upon the relations between white and colored races throughout the African continent, and upon the work intrusted to the Christian nations of Europe for the service of civilization and humanity.

The bishop of Southwark, in introducing the subject, said the Congo state began on commercial, philanthropic and civilizing principles. The British government had considerable responsibility for it, but there was ample evidence that things had gone signally ill.

Dr. Talbot went on to allude to the suppression of the evidence of the royal commission, and directed attention to the facts contained in Mr. Morel's book on "Red Rubber; the Story of the Slave Trade on the Congo." No doubt, he said, the most barbarous and terrible method of getting a certain amount of rubber out of the poor natives, the most horrible methods had been resorted to, such as cutting off the hands, and there was a great system of hostages, these hostages being largely women. No responsibility rested upon Belgium itself in the matter. If all the powers were keenly interested in the result, he said, could be obtained.

The bishop of Bath and Wells said the Free church council, to their honor, had been far before the Church of England in trying to arouse public attention, but this might be partly explained by the existence of so many Baptist missionary stations, from which information had come.

The bishop of Birmingham spoke in general support of the bishop of Southwark, and the bishop of London pleaded for increased British consular representation in the Congo Free State. They ought to be prepared to back up the government in any further step which they might wish to take with the view to wiping away this abomination from the face of the earth.

The primate, in summing up the debate, said the house had discharged an imperative duty in calling attention to well-established facts. In the last decade we seem to have fallen into something which rivaled, if it did not exceed, the horrors of the old slave trade. He could not suggest what diplomatic action should be taken, but they desired the primate to know that they cared so much about the matter that they did not intend to let it alone.

PLOT FOILED

To Blow Up Jail and Free Prisoners.

Chicago, May 21.—A plot to blow up the jail and liberate a thousand prisoners was frustrated only by the timely discovery and capture of the prisoners' store of nitro-glycerine.

A branch has been made in the west wall in which it was planned to place the charge of the explosive to destroy the jail. The prisoners had an extensive plot to make a break in a body and to resist attempts to overtake them, with bars, bed plates and other weapons found placed at convenient places.

Immediately on making the discovery, Jailer Whitman searched the cells. Armed guards were placed throughout the big prison, instructed to kill any prisoner who attempted to escape. At the time the guards entered the inmates were having exercises. They realized the plot was discovered and for a while were undecided whether to obey the command to return to their cells or to resist. They were locked up and searched.

In the cell of Charles Hansen, a convicted murderer, was found a small tin can. Experts examined it and pronounced it a sufficient quantity of nitro-glycerine to demolish entire walls of the jail. Hansen is said to have confessed and has implicated Luke Fitzpatrick, another prisoner under a life sentence.

The breach in the wall was evidently made with an iron bar. Hansen was largely injured and sent to Joliet to obviate further danger from the plot.

EYES BLOWN OUT

TERRIBLE INJURIES TO A G. T. R. EMPLOYEE.

Sick of Dynamite Which, Report Says, Was Going to Be Used For Stunneting Fish Horribly Maimed Isaac Watson of Casselman.

Renfrew, Ont., May 21.—An employee of the Grand Trunk railway, Isaac Watson, was brought to the hospital on Sunday suffering terribly from the effects of a dynamite explosion. Both his eyes were burned from their sockets, and his right arm was so badly injured that the doctors deemed amputation before the elbow necessary. The explosive had played havoc with the poor fellow generally.

His clothes were in tatters from the force of the shock, and his hair, eyebrows and moustache were singed short.

The news was first communicated to Dr. McCormick of Renfrew, Grand Trunk surgeon, for the district. Word reached him that a man had been burned severely out near the borders of the National Park, Madawaska river. A little later some companions of the injured man entered the town carrying Watson groaning with pain.

He was at once conveyed to the hospital, where it was ascertained that he was sightless through an explosion, and his right arm badly injured.

According to report, Watson was unlawfully about to explode a stick of dynamite on the Madawaska waters. This is a practice often employed to stun the fish, which rise to the surface unable to escape. The fishermen then collect the harvest. The dynamite probably exploded prematurely in the hand of Watson. It is said while examining the fuse to see if all was well a spark ignited the combustible, and the operator, bending over, received the charge in the eyes. How the man escaped complete amputation is a mystery to the hospital officials.

The sufferer is a married man. His wife is now residing at Casselman, near Ottawa. Watson was sent to Renfrew to take charge of an extra section going. He left here on Sunday morning, with some companions, and it is said headed in the direction of National Park. Not many hours after news came in that one of the party was injured, but likely to recover. He is about thirty years of age.

UNREST PREVAILING.

Has Caused the Disbanding of Regiment.

London, May 21.—The Lucknow correspondent of the Standard says it is reported that a native regiment at Umballa has been disbanded, owing to the men becoming affected by the unrest prevailing in the Punjab. It is rumored that part of the European population at Allahabad, became so alarmed on May 10th, the anniversary of the Indian mutiny, that they went to the fort. The authorities refused their admission, considering their fear groundless. A rumor similar to that regarding the regiment at Umballa was current, in April, in reference to a regiment at Jhelum, but it proved an exaggerated version of an unimportant branch of discipline.

Trinidad, Col., May 21.—Seven miners, including Superintendent Alexander Jacobs, were burned or suffocated on Sunday night, at the Engle mine, at Engleville, Col. The bodies were recovered, yesterday. It appears that fire, which broke out in the mine a year ago, suddenly spread and swept across the incline tunnel, preventing the men from reaching the outside. The point where the flames crossed the tunnel is three miles from the opening, and it was necessary to dig a temporary tunnel around to reach the bodies.
