My strongest evidence at this senson of the year. was the advance of the moon's perigee, for her line of apsides makes a complete revolution of the heavens in nine years. This disturbing force was further shown apart from her liberations by the fact that her mean motion during the second half of the eighteenth century was less than during the first half, besides it is known that she revolves round the earth more rapidly than in ancient times, thus shortening the lunar month. In 1884 I published a letter in the New York Tribune claiming the discovery, giving the evidence of trustworthy persons in Michigan who declared to me that the sun was eclipsed on May 16th of that year, the sky being perfectly cloudless, and when our visible moon was in another quarter of the heavens, and, therefore, could not possibly eclipse the sun. This dark moon has an immense carbon atmosphere in which the sun develops little or no light, but it has often been seen by persons who happened to be in the range of incidence of its reflected light The Toronto Globe said, on September 27th, 1886 : A green crescent moon ROYAL I IMC was recently seen in New Zealand.
