OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

THE CITY COUNCIL DOESN'T KNOW IF IT OWNS ABERDEEN STREET.

Mayor Mowat Speaks on Several Matters—Finance Committee to Arrange Reception to Japanese Prince.

The city council met, last evening, and was in session till half-past ten o'clock. A number of important matters were up for discussion. Present were, Mayor Mowat, and Alds. Carson, Mowat, Elliot, F. G. Lockett, G. E. Hague, George Mills, T. F. Harrison, O. Chow, F. Partridge, W. Gill, Dr. Luke and Secretary A. Stokes.

These communications were referred to committees: From Mrs. Isabella Corcoran, Charles J. Martin, Miss Eliza Wylie, Philbert Bine, Miss Ann Eliza O'Gorman, Mrs. Annie McGill, E. J. B. Pense, Elda L. McDonald, C. Bernhart, objecting to construction of certain concrete walks.

Agnes Gibson, asking to have the armouries suitably lighted for the "Made in Canada" exhibition.

Mrs. M. Conroy, asking to have two trees removed from the front of her property, 308 Alford street.

Men working on the gas mains, applying for increase of two cents an hour.

Smythe, King & Smythe, on behalf of J. J. Carrington and S. Anglin, objecting to the closing of River street for the benefit of the lead and zinc smelters, except access to the water be given residents of that locality along the eastern portion of the smelter site reserved by the city.

Hedley Shaw Milling company, asking for rebate of the business tax for this year.

Queen's University athletic committee, asking that a water meter be placed in the gymnasium.

Ald. Craig, enclosing a request from R. Cushman, manager of the Stanley Smoking works, that Messrs. Davis & Co., and other tenants vacate the smelting site property.

City clerk, asking for leave of absence to attend the military camp at Petawawa. Granted, on motion of Alds. Givens and McGill.

F. Conway, of the K. & P. railway company, asking to have road between freight office and the railway track sprinkled twice a week, also Clarence street, below Ontario street, be sprinkled below the railway track.

Thomas Thurlby and others, for waterworks extension on Ellerbeck street.

McKelvey & Birch, for permission to enlarge the openings in sidewalk, in front of their building, on Brock street. Referred to chairman of board of works, the city engineer and city solicitor, with power to act.

John Gommer, asking rebate of dog tax paid under threat of distress. The applicant said he had owned no dog since 1903.

The Mayor's Topics.

Mayor Mowat brought several matters to the council's attention. He noted the fact that, late, the aldermen had not been attending the committee meetings. It was their duty to do so, and he hoped that they would again occur that committee would be able to transact business because of lack of quorum.

Regarding the coming to Kingston, on the 11th, of Prince Fushimi, heir apparent to the throne of Japan, his worship said that he had communicated with Col. Gordon, O.C., and Lieut. Col. Taylor, of the Royal Military College, and they had expressed their desire to do anything possible towards a proper reception of the distinguished visitor, the prince of Britain's firm ally. Further arrangements might be left to the finance committee. He hoped the citizens would fly their flags on the occasion, and as many Japanese ensigns as possible.

On July 18th and 19th, the Historical Society of Ontario is to meet in convention in Kingston, and the mayor suggested that the city provide some kind of entertainment in the way of an excursion by steamer to the local points of historical interest.

A Lawsuit Likely. Ald. Elliott raised a question as to the city wharf leased by the Donnelly committee recommended the adoption of the city solicitor's advice, that a survey of the needed repairs be made and if the company refused to pay, the suit will be entered against it. Ald. Elliott said it would be better to try and agree on the matter in question rather than become involved in a suit.

Ald. Nickle explained that the company and the city solicitor held opposite views on the matter, and a lawsuit seemed inevitable. The city solicitor held that the company's lease contained a covenant that it would keep the wharf in repair. Hence the company was liable. Mr. Whitting, K.C., held that the company was not bound to make repairs after fourteen years' occupancy. It was decided to follow the city solicitor's advice.

When a by-law was about to be passed for the construction of a drain on Aberdeen street, Ald. Carson jumped to his feet and raised an objection to constructing a drain in a street where there were no houses. Why should the city pay perhaps $100 for its share of the drain up there, when there were people in other sections of the city who had houses and who couldn't get drainage? He asked couldn't get drainage? The owners of the land petitioned for the drain and were willing to pay. He and Ald. Graham supported the building of the sewer to drain the land in question and render it possible to build houses there.

Ald. Kent raised the question as to whether the city owned Aberdeen street. Ald. Carson said that he didn't think a by-law had been passed accepting the street. He wasn't in a position to vote upon the passing of a by-law to build a drain in it. Ald. Elliott held that the city could not afford to lay drains on all the common lot petitions came in.

In An Uncertain Position.

The aldermen didn't seem to know how the city stood in regard to the street, and it was finally decided to leave over the by-law to get further light. If the city has not taken over Aberdeen street, then it would be putting a drain in private property if the by-law went through.

The point was raised as to the extension of William street to University avenue. There is so much extension, yet the cost of street widening for the proposed sewer through Aberdeen street was set down against the city. Ald. Gaskin, when this matter arose, attacked the city engineer for making out the by-law, as he did, when there was really no street.

It was pointed out by Ald. Carson, that this was a legal point, and that the city engineer could not be expected to decide upon such a question. He had followed the plan made by the late T. G. Bolger, which he found in the office of the city engineer, which would have followed.

The Aberdeen street matter will be gone into fully at another meeting. Ald. Ross hunted up the minutes of 1905, and found that Ald. Carson had signed the board of works' report, recommending that the Aberdeen street sewer be built. Why was Ald. Carson objecting now?

Ald. Carson replied that he had signed that report because, if he hadn't he wouldn't have got anything through council that he wanted. He did it as a sort of compromise.

Then Ald. Nickle, Graham, Gaskin, Agnew and Ross took a swing at Ald. Carson, demanding to know why he had voted to spend city money on what he now declared to be wrong. Why did he thus vote away the city's money?

As Ald. Carson had spoken once, he was unable to reply to the criticism heaped upon him, but wished to say that he then had merely voted for a motion, and that now he was opposing the by-law, which was the really important affair as it involved the expenditure of money.

Other Business.

By-laws were passed empowering the finance committee to sell certain lands of the city, viz., for light extensions, $35,000; for O'Kill street sewer, $3,900, and for local improvements, $28,735.40, at four and a half per cent, subject to the ratification of the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

A by-law was also passed for the construction of certain concrete walks. The smelter by-laws were given a third reading and passed. The by-law to close River street received its second reading.

The finance committee was given instructions to make arrangements for a proper reception of the Japanese prince on the 11th, for entertaining in the city, and for the military camp, to be held here this month, and for entertaining the Ontario Historical Society which will meet here in July.

AT THE GRAND.

The "Widowers' Houses" to Be on To-night.

In "Widowers' Houses," which will be presented at the Grand Opera House to-night, with Herbert Kelley, Effie Shannon, and an all-star cast, George Bernard Shaw attacks the rack-renting landlords of the London slums and there is abundant justification for his assault. The theatre is a convenient and conspicuous arena for the subject of tainted money. "Widowers' Houses" is much better written than some of the other plays by this author.

"The Lion and the Mouse." Charles Klein's play, "The Lion and the Mouse," which Henry B. Harris will produce, here, at the Grand, on Thursday, June 6th, contains elements of vital interest to all classes of people. One, a portraiture of the nature of finance who, stern in his attitude to all, even to his wife and children, is relentless to his enemy, treasuring under his golden heel all those who oppose him or his colossal schemes. The other is a characterization of a young, beautiful girl, the daughter of the judge who is being driven to the wall with impachment and disgrace as the result of his righteous decision against the trusts. So that "The Lion and the Mouse" Mr. Klein has given us an idea of the influence of money and politics.

Fire On Union Street. About twenty minutes past nine, last evening, the fire brigade answered a telephone call to the corner of Union and Alford streets. A jump explosion in the residence of T. J. Leckie had set fire to one of the rooms and destroyed a sofa, sewing machine, and some house furnishings. The firemen made a quick run to the scene but their services were scarcely necessary to extinguish the blaze.

Y.M.C.A. DIRECTORS FAREWELL MESSAGE FROM SECRETARY STOKES.

Matter of Securing New Secretary Was Left in Hands of Special Committee.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., met in regular session last night. The president, Dr. Sparks, was in the chair, and also present were F. G. Lockett, E. P. Jenkins, G. E. Hague, George Mills, T. F. Harrison, O. Chow, F. Partridge, W. Gill, Dr. Luke and Secretary A. Stokes.

The proceedings were opened with a hymn, followed by prayer by Mr. Harrison, and scripture reading by the secretary.

The matter of securing a new secretary for the association, came up for discussion, but no definite action was taken. Mr. Lockett reported that correspondence had been opened, and the work was left in the hands of the special committee, appointed at a recent meeting.

Messrs. Mills and Jenkins reported that they had interviewed Col. Kent in regard to the request made for the use of the gymnasium one evening each week, next winter, for drilling purposes. Messrs. Gill and Chow were appointed to act with the gymnasium committee, to make the necessary arrangements with the 14th Regiment.

On motion of Messrs. Harrison and Jenkins the board heartily endorsed the action of the secretary in making arrangements for a Sunday concert at the Barrieffield camp, and asking the religious work committee to assist him in every way possible, with the arrangements.

The usual report of the secretary was received, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered that officer, who is retiring from the work of this association.

In his report, the secretary had the following: "Gentlemen, in closing my report, I cannot help but feel sad, to think that this is my last one, and that my labors with you will terminate the 15th of this month. For three years that I have spent with you have been happy ones indeed. The opportunity has been held out to me of seeing it increase in value through the generosity of supporters, friends, and the Ladies' Auxiliary, has given me great satisfaction. It has been a course of great pleasure to labor in many ways with you collectively and individually. The greatest satisfaction has come to me in working with Mr. Lockett, as chairman of the religious work committee. Together we have worked during the dry spiritual times gone by, in holding classes and men's meetings. But God honored our fidelity to Himself in the association, and to co-operate with the pastor and the Minister, who, in the late revival services, which have meant so much to the city. For once, at least, the association has been of service to the church, and maintained its world-wide reputation of being the organization in and through which all sects can unite, with equality, for a religious propaganda.

Mr. George Williams, presiding for the last time, at the annual meeting held in Exeter Hall, said in a feeling voice to those present, 'Go forward, expect great things from God! Let us, as the association's executive, do this for God. There is a good time set in for clubs and club life—alms, not for those who have their mission or aim, the bringing of the lost sinner to a loving Saviour. This, however, is our highest aim and ideal. The association stands with its motto, 'men for Christ, and Christ for men.' When life is drawing to a close the words spoken in His name, will shed a heavenly light on life's pathway, and reveal that it was worth while. These are the things that religion is doing, and the man of God's own choosing will be led to take up the work, and guide it on to a more glorious future than ever before. May I ask for your prayers and sympathies, as I enter a new field, with so many possibilities for good."

AN IDEAL EVENING WAS THAT ENJOYED BY MANY PEOPLE.

The Parks Had Many Occupants and the Beautiful Harbor Was Dotted With Pleasure Seekers.

Last night was an ideal one for residents who care for the water. It was, perhaps, the most perfect experienced this spring and was taken the advantage of by the citizens. Macdonald park seemed a favorite resort for many, but the waterfront along the breakwater was also a popular breathing spot. On the shore, however, every available craft of all kinds was out. The surface was as calm as a mill pond but just enough breeze blew off the shore to propel the white-winged squadron. The scene was typically a summer one and the onlooker and participant alike lingered drinking in the pleasure.

The present superiority of American boxes is largely due to the fact that they have used brains in their work and have developed the use of both hands. The fashion in which the Britons cling to the old, stereotyped style of loading with the right only, instead of the left and then de-loading with the right only, instead of the left, has scored many an easy victory for a fighter from this side of the water. The practice of balancing each hand on both feet, of using each hand when necessary and of having a knock-out blow in either mitt, does not seem to have appealed to the Englishmen.
