Fused Joints are Air-tigh

Fused Joints are used only in "Hecla" Furnaces They are bringing the iron and steel of the radiating chamber to a white heat and fusing the metals into one piece-making a joint so permanent and so tight, that it prevents for all time the escape of smoke, gas and dust into the house.

joints are just as tight, after ten years service, as when first installed.

"HECLA" FUSED JOINTS are covered by patents and are used exclusively in "Hecla" Furnaces. The cemented and bolted joints in other furnaces are soon impaired by the unequal expansion of the steel and iron. The cement drops out; the bolts work loose; soon leaving openings through which gas and dust escape. FUSED JOINTS make "Hecla" heating ample, economical, sanitary and healthful.
