WIDOWERS' HOUSES

SHAW PLAY WELL PRESENTED AT GRAND.

By a Company of Experienced Players—Their Work Finished and Convincing.
George Bernard Shaw's three-act satirical comedy, "Widowers' Houses," was produced at the Grand last night, before a fair-sized audience, but the play did not have the attendance and success which it has enjoyed in other cities. A capital character sketch was Ferdinand Gottschalk's, "Lick-chuck," There are only six speaking parts, and they are all well taken. The comedy is not one of action and episode, but of talk, and the talk is amazingly clever. Miss Edie Shannon, as Blanche Sartorius, portrayed her part in a very interesting manner, while the role of William de Burgh Colanar, taken by Herbert Kelcey, was indeed in capable hands. David Prator, who appeared in Kingston early this season, in "The Message from Mars," scored a great success, as Dr. Harry Trench, the outstanding character of the play. William Stames was all that could be desired in the role of Mr. Sartorius. The whole company made a big hit, and the members were called upon to respond to several curtain calls. The management is certainly to be commended for giving the theatregoers such a good act. May we have many more just as good next season.
But just a word or two about "Widowers' Houses." In this play, Dr. Harry Trench, who has an income of $700 a year, from a mortgage on some London property, finds himself up against the hypocrites of society. He becomes engaged to Blanche Sartorius. Her father is very wealthy, but derives his money by squeezing the life out of his wretched tenants and his rookeries, which threaten to tumble down. When Dr. Trench finds that his wife's dowry is to come from some questionable source, he is tempted to break off the marriage, until he learns that his own income has a similar taint. When he becomes acquainted with these facts, his views commence to change, and various excuses for his injurious act are presented. Conciliatory is quieted somewhat, and the doctor marries the girl he loves. Lick-chuck takes the part of a rent collector for Sartorius, but is discharged for having disobeyed spent money for repairing some of the old rookeries. Later, Lick-chuck becomes rich, and ends himself in a position to dictate to his master.

One Of The Old Plays

There will be something entirely new at St. George's hall to-morrow night when an instruction in the nature of the old mystery plays will be given, under the management of the Junior Women's Auxiliaries of the city. "The Little Pilgrims and the Book Beloved" is the prayer book, translated from the Latin, and put in much its present form in 1549, in the reign of Edward VI. Boys and girls will represent the different scenes, and these will be all bound together by Mother Church's Bookbinder, the young King Edward. As each service comes on at the call of Mother Church a verse of some hymn appropriate will be sung by a male quintette, unaccompanied.

Met Good, Vigorous Weather.

Last night's weather on the lake would give the sailing yacht Adele a good workout. The intention was to sail her right through to Toronto without stop. The two English sailing yachts, who came out with her, were in great glee over the prospect of showing off the Adele on the lake. The captain of the Toronto yacht Zoraya was in charge. The Adele had her cruising sails on.

THE CAMP DRAINAGE

IT HAS BEEN VERY LARGELY IMPROVED.

The military camp ground on Barrieffield Heights will have good drainage this year, and even if June does prove to be a rainy month the troops encamped are not liable to suffer much from the wet grounds. An open drain has just been completed, which runs pretty well along the fence forming the northern boundary, and then cutting across the camp ground, passing over the main road just east of the entrance. The ground slopes towards the drain at all points, and the water should be pretty well carried off.
This drain will form the beginning of a better drainage system for the camp. The soil of Barrieffield is clay and requires attention if a dry camp is to be secured. The locality is ideal for a gathering of troops for training and the expenditure of a little money upon the grounds will make them all that could be desired. Several years ago a quantity of tile was placed in parts of the ground, but it was done hurriedly and proved of little use. More tile will likely be added during the next year and every provision made for improved drainage.

Not a Saluting Station.

Kingston is not a saluting station, and therefore no firing in honor of the arrival of Prince Fushimi, of Japan, can take place. All that can be done in the way of a military welcome is to have a guard of honor for the prince, and the militia department, at Mayor Mowat's suggestion, has notified Colonel Gordon, O.C., to have this provided.
There are only three saluting stations in Canada, Halifax, Quebec and Vancouver. Kingston is not on the list, although she has been a fortress town. Two years ago she was struck by the list of fortresses on account of Fort Henry having been unoccupied so long. It is too bad that Kingston has lost that standing. If for the sake of an endeavor should be made to have the title re-established. Perhaps the Ontario Historical Society, which meets here next month, might add this topic to those that may be placed on the programme for discussion.

Had A Serious Fall.

About half past six, on Tuesday, Alfred Forsyth, a ship's carpenter, residing in Portsmouth street, met about the government dry dock with a serious accident. He was carrying a block of wood (used to "back" the edge of the beam), and, arriving there he made to toss the block to the bottom of the dock out a nail in the wood caught the clothing over his shoulder and Forsyth, losing his balance, was precipitated down the steps there. He was broken his fall as he dropped head foremost. He was conveyed to the Hotel Dieu and his injuries proved for, one gash in the head necessitating sixteen stitches. The injured man's condition was considered very serious but this morning showed improvement.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

Complaint is Made to Police About Canine.
Capt. Mahoney, of the Sloop Pilot, was a caller at police headquarters to-day, and complained about a dog, having bitten his sixteen-year-old son, on the leg. The lad, so it appears, was walking along the street, when he was attacked by the dog. His injuries required medical attention. Inquiries will be made about the dog, and if it is not chained up, the owner will be notified that he must destroy it at once.
To Water The Road.
Ald. Elliott generally looks after the comfort of the military camp, and did not forget to secure the order of the city council for watering the road from the end of Cataract bridge to the entrance to the camp ground, on Barrieffield Heights. This long, winding, Pittsburg roadway will be watered twice a day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon, so that traffic over it will not be through dust.

PROPOSED AGREEMENT

Between Queen's and the Board of Education.

This evening the Board of Education will hold a special session to receive the report of the finance and management committees regarding the proposed arrangements with Queen's University for the use of the school for the faculty of Pedagogy, to be established at the university. The recommendations of the committee are as follows:
That the board shall permit the Collegiate, the Victoria school and the Orphans' Home in so far as the board's authority extends, to be used by the students of the School of Pedagogy for practice and instruction. The university shall pay to the Board of Education the sum of $2,450, to be applied as remuneration of the teachers of the schools referred to for extra work performed by them in connection with the School of Pedagogy, and with a view to securing greater efficiency.
That the board consents to allow the use of other schools than those mentioned on terms which may be mutually agreed upon.
That if the Board of Education furnishes to the students of the School of Pedagogy instruction in one or more of the three departments, viz., (1) Commercial book-keeping, including writing, (2) manual training, and (3) domestic science, the university shall pay to the Board of Education the sum of $200 for each of these departments.
That any equipment or accommodation required by the School of Pedagogy for its purposes shall be provided under the Board of Education, to be paid for by Queen's university.
That the power to appoint all teachers engaged in the schools under the Board of Education, shall be retained by Queen's university.
That the Dean of the School of Pedagogy shall report to the Board of Education regarding the efficiency of the teachers engaged in the work of that School. In the event of a disagreement between the Dean and the Board the question in dispute shall be referred to the Minister of Education for final adjudication.
That if the university requires service in teachers or equipment from the Board of Education which will cost more than the sums named in the preceding paragraphs, it shall supplement its grant to that extent, the assurance being given that the Board of Education shall not be put to expense in connection with the establishing of the School of Pedagogy.
That the agreement shall take effect on July 1st, 1907, after its adoption by the Board of Education, and continue for the year. It may sooner be amended, and it may be renewed for a second year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

William Kelly's Sarcasm.

Kingston, June 4.—(To the Editor): In the light of the "real facts" contained in the re-clarification made by "Citizen" in your issue of Monday night, is it any wonder that our good old limestone city is at last going to make progress by making leaps and bounds? Why, is it not an inspiration to all properly constituted, and right minded citizens to think that in an adolescent, and uneducated, a number of enthusiastic, and philanthropic minded men, for months, or years past, have been sitting up nights, weeping and curing their brains to pieces, trying to put up a job, where they could "expound some $10,000, simply for the accommodation and convenience of the dear public, and in order to improve the appearance of the market square and Clarence street. The munificence of a Carnegie or Rockefeller, pales with insignificance, when compared with the disinterested and liberality of these local public benefactors. "Citizen" will not be good enough in your next issue, or as soon as convenient, to make known the exact names of the owners of this market square property, that they are so anxious to sacrifice and beautify for the public weal?
When this is done I am confident that there will, undoubtedly, be a great popular and correct tablet, or monuments, to the everlasting memory of their public generosity.
Again, if "Citizen" will only consent, for the nonce, to cast aside his innate modesty, and disclose his identity by signing his name, I am confident that an effort would be made to place the laurel on his brow for his very great public services in having discovered the other able-minded citizens.—WILLIAM KELLY.

TITHES SYSTEM ADAPTED.

At Two Former King-tonians Clash.
One of the sharpest debates in which the Hamilton Methodist conference has engaged took place this morning. The beneficence committee recommended that the Methodist church should adopt the system of tithes. Rev. A. E. Lavell, of Niagara Falls South, one of the ablest debaters, did not approve of the idea, and forcibly expressed his opinions. He thought not only a tenth of a man's income, but his entire possessions, belonged to God, and if a man limited his giving to one-tenth he was not offering as he should.
"Those who will tell us that all their property belongs to God give us precious little of it, I have noticed," said the doctor, who is a large man. He then stated that he had given a tenth of his possessions for the last forty years, and he found he had been better off than if he had given without system.
Rev. Mr. Lavell was on the floor in a moment. "When stocks were falling to pieces recently," he said, "I could read the newspapers without a tremor. For I knew I had nothing to fear." The gathering laughed heartily. "I owe nothing, and have all my life given everything to the cause of God. Had I given only a tenth, no doubt I would be as well off as Dr. Antiff."
Rev. Alfred Andrews later characterized the words of Mr. Lavell as pug-nacious, and sounds went up of "Oh, oh."
The report was finally adopted.

MONTREAL WINNERS

DEFEATED THE KINGSTON POLO PLAYERS.

By 7 to 1—Montreal Plays Toronto Here To-Morrow—Toronto Will Clash With Kingston on Saturday.
The polo season opened yesterday afternoon on the local club's grounds under none too favorable conditions. The weather man was not in the best of humor and consequently rain threatened during all the play, though fortunately enough did not fall to interfere with the match. Despite this however, there was a fair attendance of spectators and they were amply rewarded for daring the elements and watching the home team in its uphill battle against the crack organization representing the metropolis. Speaking generally the game was not up to expectations, though that does not necessarily imply that the play was below the average. But the season is very young and both players and ponies demonstrated the fact. Neither have by any means developed the form they will show in succeeding matches.
At the appointed hour of four o'clock, Referee McFarland sounded his whistle and the teams trotted into the field taking up their positions as follows:
Kingston.—Back, Capt. Russell Brown; No. 1, Capt. Blair; No. 2, W. Harty, (Captain); No. 3, Maj. Mosley. Montreal.—Back, Robertson; No. 1, Beaudry; No. 2, Seymour; No. 3, Capt. Pickering.
Capt. Conger acted as timekeeper. Four "chuckers" of ten minutes each were played with an interval of five minutes between.
The game started off briskly enough and looked as though it might be close to the finish, but Montreal soon pulled ahead and had three tallies before time was up. In the second "chucker" they added two more to their score and in the third each team put the ball between the posts. In the final go the visitors landed and the game ended seven to one in their favor. The home team scored at the last but as the referee's whistle had sounded it did not count. The play throughout was variable. At times there was keen sport, fast riding, and beautiful strokes, but misses were not infrequent. The Montreal team had the services of Robertson, their professional, and Capt. Pickering of Imperial service, Scots Greys. Both showed superior horsemanship, good stick handling, and a thorough knowledge of the game. On the home team, Captain Harty was easily the premier player and quite the equal of any man on the field. He rode fearlessly, showed good generalship, and was a marvel in performing some of his backhand strokes. As for the ponies themselves they were the admiration of all the spectators. Here Montreal had the advantage in numbers and training—while Kingston suffered from the indisposition of members of its string. However, the game was interesting and no one left the grounds dissatisfied.
On Thursday what promises to be an exceptionally good match will be contested between the professional Toronto teams. On Saturday afternoon, Kingston meets the Queen City club, and then watch out. If the locals don't win out it will be a missed opportunity for the feelings prevailing among both players and lookers that the tide will turn. One thing is certain, however, and that is, that the two most interesting and spectacular polo contests that will be seen in Kingston for many a day, can confidently be looked forward to on Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

"The Lion and the Mouse."

Henry B. Harris will present here at the Grand on Thursday, June 6th, Charles Klein, the author, has written a play that promises to be of enormous popularity. Indeed, it may be said that this drama is beyond anything known in America in the past ten years. The theme is most pertinent to the present day when everyone is talking about the machination of trusts and kings without any real presenting a phase of American life with which the public has become familiar through the newspapers and magazines of the times.

THE STOLEN HORSE.

An Old Proverb With A New Application.
The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for baldness. You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.
Baldness and dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ, the germ will kill the hair.
Scientists have labored with the problem of a preventative for baldness for many years.
Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure dandruff and prevent baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.
Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant as well as a cure for dandruff.
