LIVINGSTON'S.

IS TO SHOW CAUSE

WHY AN HOTEL MAN WAS CONVICTED.

Said to Have Sublet the Bar, But Claimed An Amendment Did Not Affect Him.

Toronto, June 7.—Magistrate Crozier, Owen Sound, will appear before the high court and show cause for his action in the case of Charles S. Fleming, who was convicted and sentenced to four months on a charge of selling liquor without a license. A legal point is involved. Fleming claimed that he had sublet the bar of his hotel to Edward Moriarty and knew nothing of any liquor selling. By recent amendment to the act the hotel man who sublets the bar privileges is made equally guilty with the man who does the selling. The amendment was passed on April 18th and he claims, therefore, that he does not come under the amendment. Chief Justice Falconbridge, this morning, granted a certiorari order in the case.

Opposition to church union is manifested in the Congregational church. Rev. J. McKellican, of Montreal, did not want to see the Congregational church join the Presbyterian, who had tried to drag the Congregational church in the mud. If such a union came the Congregational church would put itself into such a tanglefoot that it would be lost. The other churches would rule, but would let the Congregationalists do the work.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCHYARD.

In Being Renovated—Two Aldermen at Work.

St. Paul's churchyard is undergoing great renovations. The burial sections have been sadly neglected for the past twenty-five years. The tombs had become very much wrecked and were overgrown with weeds and brush. This morning, a Whig representative, when passing down Queen street, was startled as he looked into the churchyard. There were Aldermen Gaskin and Elliott, two of St. Paul's leading members, hard at work in their shirt sleeves assisting a number of workmen in the work of renovation. They were actually wielding the hoe and the trowel, and showing that they were churchmen first and foremost.

The Whig representative stepped inside, and learned that a good old country "bee" was being held. Many members of St. Paul's had agreed to get together and each do something to rescue the ground from the dilapidated condition. Some were to do manual labor and others were to supply paint, seeds and implements. The tombs and weeds have been cut down, and the tombs and tombstones are being put in order. Some of the tombs are being lowered, and concreted. When completed, the place will be a beautiful spot for St. Paul's has one of those ancient kind of church yards.

The massive tomb of the late Archdeacon Stuart has been kept in good order, perhaps because of its massive-ness. The archdeacon was the last to be buried in St. Paul's in 1862. The tomb of the late Chief Justice Hagerman is one that has been rescued from ruin.

From the street to the main entrance a gravelly walk is being constructed, and on either side of it beach stones will be laid, making a great improvement at the entrance. For years the central door has been sufficient for the congregation. Now, it is not and the two side doors which have been nailed up, are to be opened, so that the congregation may leave the church more rapidly after service. At present there is a congestion.

ARE TO CONSIDER IT

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ORDER OF DEACONESSES.

Will Be Reported on at Next Assembly—The Need is Pressing—Catholic Sisterhood Praised.

Montreal, June 7.—A proposal to establish an order of deaconesses was discussed by general assembly, this morning, and a decision was reached to appoint a committee to consider the problem and report to next assembly.

The proposal was made by the presbytery of Winnipeg while the Toronto presbytery submitted an overture for broadening the scope of the Ewart Mission Training Home, in that city, to include the home field as well.

Principal McLaren Knox supported the Toronto proposal, while Dr. Duval and Principal Patrick, Winnipeg, spoke for the broader plan.

The motion for the appointment of a committee from Principal McLaren was seconded by Forbes, St. John, who, on the basis of his judicial experience, declared the need pressing and praised the work of the Catholic sisters among women prisoners. After further discussion the resolution was adopted.

A proposal that the clerks of the assembly and the convener of standing committees should be ex-officio members of the assembly, met such strong opposition that it was withdrawn.

G. M. Macdonnell, Kingston, protested against temperance being placed in the forefront. He was a temperance man who had worked in the cause, but he held that if they substituted for the word temperance, graft and moral reform, it would be more to the purpose. Canada was not suffering from intemperance any humdrum part. What she was suffering from was graft. They had only to report and the election trials to see that.

C. W. Totten, Sydney, who declared amid laughter that he had been a temperance man since he was a boy, made vigorous pleas in favor of the church instructing the young people in temperance. Graft is not affecting the young he said; it is the old sinner who is in the graft business.
