ANY OF THEM HERE?
The press of the country is giving circulation to the following item, telling of seven kinds of "town killers," which are thus defined: "First, those who go out of town to do their trading; second, those who are opposed to improvements; third, those who imagine they own the town; fourth, those who deride public spirited men; fifth, those who oppose movements not originating with themselves; sixth, those who oppose every movement that doesn't appear to benefit them; seventh, those who seek to injure the credit or reputation of their neighbors." Any people of this kind, description and variety in Kingston? They are not hard to identify, according to current accounts.

LOBBY AND MORAL REFORM.
Some curiosity has been expressed with regard to the mission of Rev. Dr. Elzy. He is a representative of the Moral Reform Bureau, whose headquarters are at Washington, and under the management of Dr. Crafts. Its aim is to check the evil spirit when it shows itself in the moulding of legislation. Dr. Crafts has made addresses in Kingston, and in them has given some idea of the character of his work.
It is rumored that one object of the Canadian association is to appoint a lobbyist whose work at Ottawa may be surmised. The value of his service may be opined from a consideration of what the agents of the Lord's Day Act accomplished during the last parliament. They were on duty for weeks, and they gave to the discussion the dignified direction it required.
The lobbyist who may be named by the new association is warned that he "will be up against some great disappointments." He is reminded by one critic that he may want a secret service fund. No, there is to be no money-spending. Moral reformers are not grafters. Their stock-in-trade is moral persuasion, and it is powerful enough when properly applied.

THE ADVANTAGE OF UNION.
The Methodists and Presbyterians have given a practical illustration of what "union" would produce if the churches came together. At East Angus and Lake Moganic, in Quebec, each body had a church, and the support of them involved a serious struggle.
There were overtures between the Methodists and the Presbyterians, and as a result an arrangement was reached according to which the Methodists will supply the needs of East Angus, the two bodies there joining, while the Presbyterians will take care of Lake Moganic, and the congregations there will be made one.
The matter came before the Montreal conference, at its recent session in Gananogue, and hearty concurrence was given to the plan by which the sacrifice involved in separate services at two sparsely populated places will be ended.
All over this land there is a species of competition among the denominations, and they are maintaining or seeking to maintain, churches where half the number could meet the needs of the people, with less worry and anxiety.
While the central authorities are apart, in ambitions and management, little can be done in the way of teaching a good understanding in the field, but the churches are drawing together and in due time the sooner the better—there will be the union which is so cordially and so sincerely desired by their supporters.

APPEALING TO THE PEOPLE.
The new convocation hall of Toronto University is now completed, and it is a handsome edifice. It has cost over $100,000, and such a sum, judiciously expended, ought to produce a splendid structure. We read that the Alumni Association, organized in 1901, raised $50,000, and that the government granted $50,000.

The Grant convocation hall in connection with Queen's, memorial of a great man, represents the entire contributions of students and graduates, and it reflects a sentiment which has all along been the glory of the college. The success of Queen's has rested securely in the good will and affection of his friends, and every student that passes through her halls catches her spirit and becomes in turn her loyal supporter. Some of Queen's accomplishments have cost her some very sacrifices, but they have lifted her higher in the esteem and regard of her benefactors.
No state-aided institution can appeal like Queen's to the sympathy of the people, and no state-aided institution can rally to her side so many devoted defenders.
The assistance which the government of Ontario has given to our college, for special purposes, is duly appreciated, but the assistance which is given by the people generally, in recognition of her excellent work, stirs the heart to profoundest gratitude.

LEACOCK'S VULGAR TWADDLE.
The article in the London-Morning Post by Prof. Leacock, a Rhodes trustee, descriptive of John Bull's meeting with the colonial representatives in London, may have been intended as a bit of fine writing, but generally it is regarded as offensive in the extreme. John Bull is pictured as an old man who is fond of feeding, and who rallies his guests all the while they are in his presence with invitations to partake of food that is as generous as it is free.
The reference to the colonials is in execrable taste. They are treated as so many boys that are on an outing, and who are made welcome to fare they cannot get at home. Worst of all is the reference to the doddering old man who has outlived his usefulness, and who ought to be set aside so that the business may be run along modern lines. He must be humored, of course, and tolerated, but he must be displaced by those who know so much better how to manage things.
All this is the outcome of Prof. Leacock's disappointment because England is not ready for the imperialism which Mr. Chamberlain preaches. The free trade party is strong in England, and it will not have the nostrums which certain imperialists advocate. It is a pity they cannot endure their chagrin in silence. The "vulgar twaddle" in which a Leacock indulges will not make political converts in England or Canada.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
Why did the council cut off the $900 for domestic science before consulting the Board of Education? That was a strange proceeding.
The Lethbridge miners' trouble has been settled through its use, and the department of labour has been congratulated. Secure one more for the Lemieux Act.
The Pennsylvania railway will admit men to its employ at the age of forty-five. Experience has proven that youth and experience do not usually go together.
Thursday was the sixteenth anniversary of the death of Sir John Macdonald. Time dims the work of his hand, but memory recalls his genius as a leader of men.
Mr. Borden has undertaken to immortalize Fowler, of "wine, women and graft" fame. Remarkable to say he delayed the glorification until parliament had prorogued.
The Orchard confession, respecting the crimes with which he was connected in Idaho, is the most shocking of its kind that has been recited in recent years. No one can read it and not have his blood chilled.
Hughes a strong man? One must think so when he reflects that the New York assembly has delayed its prorogation in order to pass the laws which the governor commands. The experience is without a parallel.
Hughes demanding a recount bill (affecting the New York election), a unique experience, when it is recalled that the legislation is in the interest of Hughes' opponent in the state election. Fair play regardless of whom it affects is his motto.
Harry Orchard, the champion murderer of the age, does not do Canada any credit by claiming it as his native land. He may have been good in this country, but he went entirely to the bad when he entered the wild life of the western states.
Hitherto intemperance has been held responsible for most of the immorality and criminality in the land. The Macdonnell idea is that other things come first, and intemperance afterwards. Still that was not the decision of the Presbyterian assembly.

A STEADY INCREASE in the value of raw material imported, and in the value of manufactured goods exported, is an evidence that Great Britain's commercial supremacy is not waning. John Bull is not the doddering old imbecile he is painted by Prof. Leacock.

The proposed arrangement respecting the use of the high and public schools by the students of the school of pedagogy is a good one for Queen's College, and should be accepted without delay. The suggested reference of the matter to the city council would be very imprudent.

North York instead of North Toronto to enable him to shirk meeting Shaw and save his face by arranging for his defeat by a cabinet minister?

A CONTRAST.
Toronto Star.
Hamilton has raised for Sherring two hundred dollars a year for life. Toronto secured up $180.25 for Longboat's education. This is not a comparison. It is merely statistics.

NO STRIKE THERE.
Ottawa Citizen.
The prosperity of Ottawa is well illustrated in the estimate by City Engineer Kee that fully 1,000 labor men are employed on public works in this city. Over $10,000 is paid out every week for such labor. There should be no idle men in Ottawa and no want this season.

As far as the church pews are concerned I may say that there is one pew that the newcomers are entirely welcome to enter at all times, and that is mine. They can have my pew.

Just Bide A Wee.
Toronto Star.
It is just possible that the rejoicings over the reduction in the price of the readers are somewhat premature and somewhat exaggerated. The arrangement is only a temporary one, covering the period of a year and a half, in which new readers and other school books will have to be prepared. When the people have before them in 1909 a set of these new books, and can see the quality as well as the price, it will be time enough to judge whether the question has been satisfactorily solved.

A Cure For Poison Ivy.
Rochester Herald.
Recently the United States department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., took up the matter to find a cure for poison ivy, and a bulletin says that recent experiments made by Dr. Frank Hall, of Harvard university Medical School, have shown that the poison in this vine is a non-volatile oil. It is found in all parts of the plant, even in the dry wood as well as the leaves, and like all other oils it is insoluble in water, and cannot be washed off the skin with water alone. This oil is readily removed from the skin with alcohol, and if used in time the poison is destroyed, but if not used until several hours have elapsed since the poisoning, the alcohol should be added what powerful sugar of lead will easily dissolve and this milky fluid should be well rubbed into the affected skin. The solution is poisonous, and must not be taken internally.
To kill this vine a half teaspoonful of sulphuric acid should be applied to the stem every two or three weeks in the springtime when plants are growing most vigorously, but care must be taken to keep the acid away from the skin as it is highly corrosive.

We earnestly recommend that you purchase the Lucky Boys Gold Mines stock at 6 cents per share. This advice means riches to you. The time is not far distant when Lucky Boys will be paying large and continuous dividends. By buying now at a price you can afford to pay you will be a participant in these assured profits.

As we have heretofore stated in our circular letters and advertisements, we are willing to stake our standing and reputation on the present conditions and the future outcome of the Larder Lake district and as to its possibilities. We believe it will be the most wonderful gold field that the world has produced. When we make these assertions it is after we have made most searching and thorough investigations. We do not believe that a financial house who has every facility at its command, having a number of experienced mining men in the field, and reliable and trustworthy mining engineers, could go to more pains regarding the actual worth of a gold camp than we have done. We have been most cautious and we are very particular as to what we recommend for investment. We have built up a big business and the investors who place confidence in us and follow our advice number many thousands. We guard the interests of our investors just as closely and with as much care as we do our individual investments. This is the reputation we have attained among the investing public. We have gone to great expense in ascertaining the true merits and real conditions of the Lucky Boys properties. In order to satisfy ourselves beyond question we despatched various crews of men to make examinations. They were supplied with all the necessities, such as hand drills, dynamite and camp outfits.

6c PER SHARE
(Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable.)

If you will compare the price, 6c per share, and the organization and incorporation of the Lucky Boys against any of the other companies, you cannot but realize the great percentage there is in favor of your investing your money in this stock in preference to any other.

Wire or telephone orders at our expense. Prospectus, with full information, containing application blanks, mailed to any address.
