FOR ALL

A BLOOD AND KIDNEY TONIC. Makes your own Blood Medicine by mixing one ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Salutarin, four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take one teaspoonful after meals and again at bedtime. Any good druggist can supply these ingredients. This is said to be a splendid Blood Tonic and system restorer because of its gentle action in restoring the kidneys to normal activity, forcing them to filter from the blood all impure matter and acids, restoring micro-organisms which produce ill-health and sour blood. Everyone should take something to cleanse the blood from time to time, and the above simple prescription is the most highly endorsed of the hundreds of home remedies generally used. Mix this yourself, then you will know what you are taking.

NOTES ON PLAYS, PLAYERS AND PLAYHOUSES

Martin Harvey at the London Adelphi—J. K. Hackett's Plays—English Plays For America.

The "Scarlet Pimpernel" has run six hundred nights in London. Edward Terry is negotiating for the English rights to "The Music Master. He needs something new in his repertoire.

By the middle of June, Frances Starr will have appeared in "The Rose of the Rancho" seven months continuously. Eleanor Robson sailed for Europe last Tuesday, to visit her mother, Mrs. Madge Carr Cooke (Mrs. Wiggins of the Cabbage Patch).

When the season of 1907 and 1908 opens, there will be twenty-two attractions on the road, flying the colors of A. H. Woods. Owen Davis, probably the most prolific author in the country, has written twelve new plays which will be produced within the year.

Arthur Bourchier has acquired the English rights in a new dramatic comedy by Haddon Chambers, which Kyrle Bellow will produce in America. Joseph Coyne, who went over to London and made a big hit in "Nelly Neil," will likely be given a chance in a non-musical play, "Teddies" is the one in view.

Murray and Mack have got their new musical comedy for next season. It is called "The Sunny Side of Broadway," and Theodore Northrup wrote the music. A new play by Victor Hugo has been unearthed and performed in Italy. It is called "The Marchioness Zabala," and was written in the master's early youth.

Reuben Fax, who has supported Eleanor Robson during the past year has been engaged by David Belasco, for a term of years. It is said the clever character actor will be starred in "The Original third act of "Man and Superman" is to be presented at the Court Theatre, London. The fragment is entitled "Don Juan in Hell," and Robert Loraine will play the role.

The new Liberty theatre in East New York is to open its doors to the public about the middle of August. This is to be one of the handsomest melodramatic playhouses in the country.

Mary Mannerino has found such a great success in the new romantic historical comedy, "Glorious Betsy," that it has been decided to continue her in the same play, the coming year. The next production in London by Messrs. Vedre and Barker will include two pieces by Bernard Shaw, "The Man of Destiny," with Dion Boucicault and Irene Vanbrugh in principal parts.

"John Gayle's Honour," the new Alfred Sutro play, in which James K. Hackett will be seen next year, continues with unprecedented success, at the St. James Theatre, London. Already has its season been extended twice, and it is now settled that it is to remain at that playhouse indefinitely.

TAME WOLVES.

A Story Without Much Conclusive Evidence.

Can wolves be permanently domesticated? The question is one on which there is no conclusive evidence. Perhaps the most that can be said is that the existence of wolves-tame in the second generation is not on record.

M. Mosch, a Swiss gentleman living at Tenor, has, however, succeeded, or thinks he has succeeded, in solving the problem by the simple process of getting hold of a cub scarcely three months old, and in bringing it up as a pet until it will not only follow him about the streets and play with dogs, but will let itself be more familiarly caressed. Repeat this through one or two generations, says M. Moschi and you have wolves as dogs.

It may be added that Buffon relates an experience of his own which is not encouraging. He also brought up a young wolf, which led a blameless and even happy life in a poultry shed until it was eighteen months old, and then in a single night killed every fowl without eating one. His conclusion is that though amenable to domesticity till about eighteen months old, their wild instincts re-assert themselves irresistibly.

Sir Arthur Havelock. Sir Arthur Havelock, who was sixty-three recently, belongs to the senior branch of a remarkable family, which has given many gallant and distinguished soldiers to the service of their country. His father was a colonel of dragoons who fought at Waterloo, and he had three uncles in the army, the eldest being Sir Henry Havelock, who won imperishable fame by his relief of Candore and defence of Lucknow just fifty years ago.

The Treaty of 1817. Michigan's four main-armsmen have denounced the Anglo-American treaty of April 26th, 1817. By that convention it was provided that the naval forces to be maintained by his Majesty the King of Great Britain in the United States should be confined to the following vessels: On Lake Ontario, one vessel of not more than one hundred tons and armed with one eighteen-pound gun. On the upper lakes, two vessels of the same size and armament, and on Lake Michigan, another similar vessel.

Mark Twain on Imperialism. The funniest thing, was when at the close of the Spanish-American war the United States paid poor depreciable old Spain $20,000,000 for the Philippines. It was just a case of this country buying its way in the society. Honestly, when I read in the papers that this deal had been made, I laughed until my sides ached. There, were the Filipinos fighting like heroes for their liberty. Spain would not hear of it. The United States stepped in and after they had licked the enemy to a standstill, instead of freeing the Filipinos they paid that enormous amount for an island which is of no earthly account to us, just wanted to be like the aristocratic countries of Europe, which had possessions in foreign waters.

ARBOR DAY IN NEW YORK. In 18 Years Three Thousand Trees Planted. Since the establishment of Arbor day in 1889 there have been planted on the school grounds of the state of New York a total of 318,920 trees. There are more than 10,000 school commissioner districts in the state. This would give more than thirty trees to every district if they were proportionately distributed.

At Boston, demonstrating that he has perfected an airship responsive to his guidance, Lincoln Beachey made a long flight and alighted, at the exact spot from which he ascended. The park contained an immense crowd, and weather conditions were perfect. When a woman has no one to talk to she writes a letter.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE WATER-PAN is not appreciated by many furnace manufacturers or the general public as much as it should be.

Without the moisture evaporated from the water in the pan, the hot air distributed throughout the house is dry and dusty. Cracks and opens up the furniture—is not fit to breathe into the lungs.

Yet, mind you, some furnace makers place this important water-pan where there is often not enough heat to evaporate the water. Put it out of sight in an awkward position at the side or back, where it cannot readily be filled without being removed—and when filled it would take a juggler to replace it without spilling a big share over himself.

Note the convenient location of the large water-pan of the Sunshine—just above the fuel door, takes but a moment or two to fill it.

IAN MACLAREN.

Mrs. Browett (J. Flora MacLaren). "The Landing is reached"—Life's short voyage is o'er, White-crested foam-furrows mark the swift track; Not one idle moment 'twixt shore and shore— And the spirit "Far Ben" to God soars back.

Hands eager, world-wide, stretch forth for reward— Recalling each heart-throb his "Briar Bush" gave. They "haena the words" but covet "ae cord"— Gently to lower MacLure to his grave.

'Tis Great-Heart, the Pilgrim, of whom we speak, Tenderness breathed in his every word; 'Mid "The Upper-Room Guests" his place we seek— Within the "City" with John and his Lord.
