In Palace of Turkish Sultan,

Has Place. There is a story told of a famous and curious screen which occupies a recy. prominent place in the menagerie of the Sultan of Turkey. It is made, so rumor has it, of human skin, perfecttanned and elaborately tooled and embossed, and it has been in roval quarters for more than two centuries. This remarkable screen ot an evidence of cruelty or barbarity on the part of Turkey's ruler 200. years ago, but is a memorialtwelve faithful servants of a former sultan. At 200 years ago a wing of the palace caught fire, and during the confingration a much loved member of the sultan's family was rescued by twelve servents. The twelve servents perished, some of them daing later of their wounds and burns, so his majesty had their skins removed by anexpert and had them preserved in this.
