

Our 12th Midsummer Furniture and Carpet Sale.

The biggest yet, because our stocks are larger, our accumulation of damaged and used furniture goes in first week of this sale. Prices are the lowest ever offered for similar goods. Terms on all sale goods are cash only. Goods may be stored until required.

Yours, T. F. HARRISON CO. Telephone 80

Swiss Lace Curtains

The scarcest to procure have been Curtains made in Switzerland. Our Spring shipment has arrived to-day. Values are splendid. We show now White and Ivory at $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00.

R. McFaul Carpet Warehouse

$2,000 AT DEATH AND $10.00 PER WEEK.

For disability, the result of an accident while travelling on a public conveyance. Half the above amount for any other accident. All for the small annual payment of $5.00

The Travellers

Your beneficiary may be insured for One Thousand Dollars, for travel accidents, for a premium of Fifteen Cents

Just think of the protection you get for $5.15

McCann

1,000 Islands—Rochester. Sufferers from King and Garban leave 10:15 a.m. for 1,000 Island points daily except Monday.

MEDICAL COUNCIL

HON. DR. PYNE RESIGNED AS REGISTRAR

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"The profession should be recognized as second to none in the world," said the doctor in conclusion.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when the following were elected: President, Dr. H. Moorhouse; Treasurer, Dr. H. Willerforce Aikins; Secretary, Dr. J. C. Pearson; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl.

Mayor Mowat, who arrived at the meeting about four o'clock, was called upon by the president, when his warm and friendly remarks, aimed at the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

"Another important matter which occupied the attention of the executive was the Osteopathy Bill, which, however, was not brought before the legislature. This also will be dealt with more definitely in the report of your executive committee. The examinations have been carried on as usual, and have been made as thorough and practical as possible. The personnel of the present board of examiners is good, being quite competent and trustworthy. I congratulate the old members of council who are here to-day, and to the new members I offer every welcome. As a council we have been fortunate during the past year, as Providence has removed none of the members by death. I trust that every attention will be given to the very important matters which will come before the council at this session, especially that of providing a new home suitable to the importance and dignity of the profession, also giving all the necessary accommodation for examination purposes."

"The by-law providing the election of members to this council should be so changed as to leave no room for doubt as to who are the proper authorities to carry on, in a legal way, the business of this council. In the Maritime Provinces, I have been informed, have been trying to effect an agreement among themselves, on the one hand, and Great Britain, on the other, by which they may set up a sort of reciprocity in medical qualifications."

"The province of Ontario is, without doubt, the greatest leading province in this Dominion, as regards population, wealth and education. Our province takes the lead in all educational matters, and more particularly as regards medical education, hence it behooves us to look closely into this matter and not allow ourselves to become sidetracked, nor to permit, so far as we are able, any lowering of the standards as laid down by this council. In order to protect our interests, and to prevent any lowering of the standard of medical education, as set up by this council, I would suggest that a committee be named during this session, to look after this important matter."

"The election of a new president was then proceeded with, and Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, was the unanimous choice for the position. He was nominated by Dr. S. C. Hillier, of Bowmanville, who paid a high tribute to the work of Dr. Spankie as a member of the council."

"The new president was escorted to the chair by Dr. Hillier, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the members of council for the honor conferred upon him."

"I assure you I fully appreciate his kindness on your part, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to the responsible position of president," said Dr. Spankie. "I should feel diffident indeed, in accepting such a high and responsible position, were I not assured of your sympathy and support. As representatives of the medical profession and the public, we have an important duty to perform, and I hope our deliberations at this session may be characterized as on former occasions, by the common desire to promote the professional status, and for the public good. Now, if this were an ordinary session I should say no more, but this is not an ordinary session, inasmuch as it is, I believe, the first session of this council ever held outside the city of Toronto. Kingston appreciates this signal honor. The members of the profession in and about this city are pleased to have you here, and most sincerely hope the honor permit me, as a resident of this part of Ontario, and on behalf of my conferees, to extend to you a hearty welcome to the old Limestone city, and to express the wish that your visit may be pleasant and profitable. "Though small in population as cities now go, Kingston was at one time, and that too within the lifetime of some members of this council, the largest and most populous town in Ontario. It is, however, still rich and unsurpassed in its historic and educational foundations. Whether we speak of it as Indian Point, Frontenac, Cataract or Kingston, valuable historic memories are awakened, for these very names mark epochs in the history of this country. It is in Kingston, that we speak of it to-day. That name was given to it by a good and loyal people who became known in history as the founders of Upper Canada, and who preferred the then wilderness of this province under the Union Jack, to comfortable homes under a foreign flag. These United Empire Loyalists then were the godfathers of our heritage. They named this city across the surrounding municipalities, and the great islands in view, that like giant sentinels guard our shore. They left secure in their town the king with such names as Wolfe, Bay, and the like, and named them. They build well, and seven years after their arrival at this site, the wilds of Upper Canada had become an organized province, with a constitution of its own, and it was at Kingston, in July, 1792, that Lieut. Governor Simcoe made proclamation of the act and organized his first government, and named the city for the first time. It was at Kingston, in the provincial parliament. This same people laid the foundation of medical legislation and medical education in this province, for it was this first parliament of Upper Canada, sitting at Newark, that passed the first act regulating the practice of medicine in this province. This act then was the starting point for the organization of the medical profession on a legal basis, and was called for by this good loyal people, and had been demanded by them for some years. A demand to the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"The profession should be recognized as second to none in the world," said the doctor in conclusion.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when the following were elected: President, Dr. H. Moorhouse; Treasurer, Dr. H. Willerforce Aikins; Secretary, Dr. J. C. Pearson; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl.

Mayor Mowat, who arrived at the meeting about four o'clock, was called upon by the president, when his warm and friendly remarks, aimed at the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

"Another important matter which occupied the attention of the executive was the Osteopathy Bill, which, however, was not brought before the legislature. This also will be dealt with more definitely in the report of your executive committee. The examinations have been carried on as usual, and have been made as thorough and practical as possible. The personnel of the present board of examiners is good, being quite competent and trustworthy. I congratulate the old members of council who are here to-day, and to the new members I offer every welcome. As a council we have been fortunate during the past year, as Providence has removed none of the members by death. I trust that every attention will be given to the very important matters which will come before the council at this session, especially that of providing a new home suitable to the importance and dignity of the profession, also giving all the necessary accommodation for examination purposes."

"The by-law providing the election of members to this council should be so changed as to leave no room for doubt as to who are the proper authorities to carry on, in a legal way, the business of this council. In the Maritime Provinces, I have been informed, have been trying to effect an agreement among themselves, on the one hand, and Great Britain, on the other, by which they may set up a sort of reciprocity in medical qualifications."

"The province of Ontario is, without doubt, the greatest leading province in this Dominion, as regards population, wealth and education. Our province takes the lead in all educational matters, and more particularly as regards medical education, hence it behooves us to look closely into this matter and not allow ourselves to become sidetracked, nor to permit, so far as we are able, any lowering of the standards as laid down by this council. In order to protect our interests, and to prevent any lowering of the standard of medical education, as set up by this council, I would suggest that a committee be named during this session, to look after this important matter."

"The election of a new president was then proceeded with, and Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, was the unanimous choice for the position. He was nominated by Dr. S. C. Hillier, of Bowmanville, who paid a high tribute to the work of Dr. Spankie as a member of the council."

"The new president was escorted to the chair by Dr. Hillier, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the members of council for the honor conferred upon him."

"I assure you I fully appreciate his kindness on your part, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to the responsible position of president," said Dr. Spankie. "I should feel diffident indeed, in accepting such a high and responsible position, were I not assured of your sympathy and support. As representatives of the medical profession and the public, we have an important duty to perform, and I hope our deliberations at this session may be characterized as on former occasions, by the common desire to promote the professional status, and for the public good. Now, if this were an ordinary session I should say no more, but this is not an ordinary session, inasmuch as it is, I believe, the first session of this council ever held outside the city of Toronto. Kingston appreciates this signal honor. The members of the profession in and about this city are pleased to have you here, and most sincerely hope the honor permit me, as a resident of this part of Ontario, and on behalf of my conferees, to extend to you a hearty welcome to the old Limestone city, and to express the wish that your visit may be pleasant and profitable. "Though small in population as

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"The profession should be recognized as second to none in the world," said the doctor in conclusion.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when the following were elected: President, Dr. H. Moorhouse; Treasurer, Dr. H. Willerforce Aikins; Secretary, Dr. J. C. Pearson; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl.

Mayor Mowat, who arrived at the meeting about four o'clock, was called upon by the president, when his warm and friendly remarks, aimed at the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

"Another important matter which occupied the attention of the executive was the Osteopathy Bill, which, however, was not brought before the legislature. This also will be dealt with more definitely in the report of your executive committee. The examinations have been carried on as usual, and have been made as thorough and practical as possible. The personnel of the present board of examiners is good, being quite competent and trustworthy. I congratulate the old members of council who are here to-day, and to the new members I offer every welcome. As a council we have been fortunate during the past year, as Providence has removed none of the members by death. I trust that every attention will be given to the very important matters which will come before the council at this session, especially that of providing a new home suitable to the importance and dignity of the profession, also giving all the necessary accommodation for examination purposes."

"The by-law providing the election of members to this council should be so changed as to leave no room for doubt as to who are the proper authorities to carry on, in a legal way, the business of this council. In the Maritime Provinces, I have been informed, have been trying to effect an agreement among themselves, on the one hand, and Great Britain, on the other, by which they may set up a sort of reciprocity in medical qualifications."

"The province of Ontario is, without doubt, the greatest leading province in this Dominion, as regards population, wealth and education. Our province takes the lead in all educational matters, and more particularly as regards medical education, hence it behooves us to look closely into this matter and not allow ourselves to become sidetracked, nor to permit, so far as we are able, any lowering of the standards as laid down by this council. In order to protect our interests, and to prevent any lowering of the standard of medical education, as set up by this council, I would suggest that a committee be named during this session, to look after this important matter."

"The election of a new president was then proceeded with, and Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, was the unanimous choice for the position. He was nominated by Dr. S. C. Hillier, of Bowmanville, who paid a high tribute to the work of Dr. Spankie as a member of the council."

"The new president was escorted to the chair by Dr. Hillier, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the members of council for the honor conferred upon him."

"I assure you I fully appreciate his kindness on your part, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to the responsible position of president," said Dr. Spankie. "I should feel diffident indeed, in accepting such a high and responsible position, were I not assured of your sympathy and support. As representatives of the medical profession and the public, we have an important duty to perform, and I hope our deliberations at this session may be characterized as on former occasions, by the common desire to promote the professional status, and for the public good. Now, if this were an ordinary session I should say no more, but this is not an ordinary session, inasmuch as it is, I believe, the first session of this council ever held outside the city of Toronto. Kingston appreciates this signal honor. The members of the profession in and about this city are pleased to have you here, and most sincerely hope the honor permit me, as a resident of this part of Ontario, and on behalf of my conferees, to extend to you a hearty welcome to the old Limestone city, and to express the wish that your visit may be pleasant and profitable. "Though small in population as

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"The profession should be recognized as second to none in the world," said the doctor in conclusion.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when the following were elected: President, Dr. H. Moorhouse; Treasurer, Dr. H. Willerforce Aikins; Secretary, Dr. J. C. Pearson; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl.

Mayor Mowat, who arrived at the meeting about four o'clock, was called upon by the president, when his warm and friendly remarks, aimed at the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

"Another important matter which occupied the attention of the executive was the Osteopathy Bill, which, however, was not brought before the legislature. This also will be dealt with more definitely in the report of your executive committee. The examinations have been carried on as usual, and have been made as thorough and practical as possible. The personnel of the present board of examiners is good, being quite competent and trustworthy. I congratulate the old members of council who are here to-day, and to the new members I offer every welcome. As a council we have been fortunate during the past year, as Providence has removed none of the members by death. I trust that every attention will be given to the very important matters which will come before the council at this session, especially that of providing a new home suitable to the importance and dignity of the profession, also giving all the necessary accommodation for examination purposes."

"The by-law providing the election of members to this council should be so changed as to leave no room for doubt as to who are the proper authorities to carry on, in a legal way, the business of this council. In the Maritime Provinces, I have been informed, have been trying to effect an agreement among themselves, on the one hand, and Great Britain, on the other, by which they may set up a sort of reciprocity in medical qualifications."

"The province of Ontario is, without doubt, the greatest leading province in this Dominion, as regards population, wealth and education. Our province takes the lead in all educational matters, and more particularly as regards medical education, hence it behooves us to look closely into this matter and not allow ourselves to become sidetracked, nor to permit, so far as we are able, any lowering of the standards as laid down by this council. In order to protect our interests, and to prevent any lowering of the standard of medical education, as set up by this council, I would suggest that a committee be named during this session, to look after this important matter."

"The election of a new president was then proceeded with, and Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, was the unanimous choice for the position. He was nominated by Dr. S. C. Hillier, of Bowmanville, who paid a high tribute to the work of Dr. Spankie as a member of the council."

"The new president was escorted to the chair by Dr. Hillier, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the members of council for the honor conferred upon him."

"I assure you I fully appreciate his kindness on your part, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to the responsible position of president," said Dr. Spankie. "I should feel diffident indeed, in accepting such a high and responsible position, were I not assured of your sympathy and support. As representatives of the medical profession and the public, we have an important duty to perform, and I hope our deliberations at this session may be characterized as on former occasions, by the common desire to promote the professional status, and for the public good. Now, if this were an ordinary session I should say no more, but this is not an ordinary session, inasmuch as it is, I believe, the first session of this council ever held outside the city of Toronto. Kingston appreciates this signal honor. The members of the profession in and about this city are pleased to have you here, and most sincerely hope the honor permit me, as a resident of this part of Ontario, and on behalf of my conferees, to extend to you a hearty welcome to the old Limestone city, and to express the wish that your visit may be pleasant and profitable. "Though small in population as

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"The profession should be recognized as second to none in the world," said the doctor in conclusion.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when the following were elected: President, Dr. H. Moorhouse; Treasurer, Dr. H. Willerforce Aikins; Secretary, Dr. J. C. Pearson; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl.

Mayor Mowat, who arrived at the meeting about four o'clock, was called upon by the president, when his warm and friendly remarks, aimed at the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

"Another important matter which occupied the attention of the executive was the Osteopathy Bill, which, however, was not brought before the legislature. This also will be dealt with more definitely in the report of your executive committee. The examinations have been carried on as usual, and have been made as thorough and practical as possible. The personnel of the present board of examiners is good, being quite competent and trustworthy. I congratulate the old members of council who are here to-day, and to the new members I offer every welcome. As a council we have been fortunate during the past year, as Providence has removed none of the members by death. I trust that every attention will be given to the very important matters which will come before the council at this session, especially that of providing a new home suitable to the importance and dignity of the profession, also giving all the necessary accommodation for examination purposes."

"The by-law providing the election of members to this council should be so changed as to leave no room for doubt as to who are the proper authorities to carry on, in a legal way, the business of this council. In the Maritime Provinces, I have been informed, have been trying to effect an agreement among themselves, on the one hand, and Great Britain, on the other, by which they may set up a sort of reciprocity in medical qualifications."

"The province of Ontario is, without doubt, the greatest leading province in this Dominion, as regards population, wealth and education. Our province takes the lead in all educational matters, and more particularly as regards medical education, hence it behooves us to look closely into this matter and not allow ourselves to become sidetracked, nor to permit, so far as we are able, any lowering of the standards as laid down by this council. In order to protect our interests, and to prevent any lowering of the standard of medical education, as set up by this council, I would suggest that a committee be named during this session, to look after this important matter."

"The election of a new president was then proceeded with, and Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, was the unanimous choice for the position. He was nominated by Dr. S. C. Hillier, of Bowmanville, who paid a high tribute to the work of Dr. Spankie as a member of the council."

"The new president was escorted to the chair by Dr. Hillier, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the members of council for the honor conferred upon him."

"I assure you I fully appreciate his kindness on your part, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to the responsible position of president," said Dr. Spankie. "I should feel diffident indeed, in accepting such a high and responsible position, were I not assured of your sympathy and support. As representatives of the medical profession and the public, we have an important duty to perform, and I hope our deliberations at this session may be characterized as on former occasions, by the common desire to promote the professional status, and for the public good. Now, if this were an ordinary session I should say no more, but this is not an ordinary session, inasmuch as it is, I believe, the first session of this council ever held outside the city of Toronto. Kingston appreciates this signal honor. The members of the profession in and about this city are pleased to have you here, and most sincerely hope the honor permit me, as a resident of this part of Ontario, and on behalf of my conferees, to extend to you a hearty welcome to the old Limestone city, and to express the wish that your visit may be pleasant and profitable. "Though small in population as

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

"The profession should be recognized as second to none in the world," said the doctor in conclusion.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when the following were elected: President, Dr. H. Moorhouse; Treasurer, Dr. H. Willerforce Aikins; Secretary, Dr. J. C. Pearson; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl; Registrar, Dr. W. H. MacColl.

Mayor Mowat, who arrived at the meeting about four o'clock, was called upon by the president, when his warm and friendly remarks, aimed at the report of the executive committee, you will remember that the stated case which was presented to what was intended and meant by a certain clause of the medical act respecting the practice of medicine. Their judgment will also be found, as well as the solicitor's remarks, a demand to the report of the executive committee. You will remember that the stated case was taken up after your legislative committee had waited upon the Ontario government. This course was taken owing to suggestions made at the conference between the Ontario government and your legislative committee.

"Another important matter which occupied the attention of the executive was the Osteopathy Bill, which, however, was not brought before the legislature. This also will be dealt with more definitely in the report of your executive committee. The examinations have been carried on as usual, and have been made as thorough and practical as possible. The personnel of the present board of examiners is good, being quite competent and trustworthy. I congratulate the old members of council who are here to-day, and to the new members I offer every welcome. As a council we have been fortunate during the past year, as Providence has removed none of the members by death. I trust that every attention will be given to the very important matters which will come before the council at this session, especially that of providing a new home suitable to the importance and dignity of the profession, also giving all the necessary accommodation for examination purposes."

"The by-law providing the election of members to this council should be so changed as to leave no room for doubt as to who are the proper authorities to carry on, in a legal way, the business of this council. In the Maritime Provinces, I have been informed, have been trying to effect an agreement among themselves, on the one hand, and Great Britain, on the other, by which they may set up a sort of reciprocity in medical qualifications."

"The province of Ontario is, without doubt, the greatest leading province in this Dominion, as regards population, wealth and education. Our province takes the lead in all educational matters, and more particularly as regards medical education, hence it behooves us to look closely into this matter and not allow ourselves to become sidetracked, nor to permit, so far as we are able, any lowering of the standards as laid down by this council. In order to protect our interests, and to prevent any lowering of the standard of medical education, as set up by this council, I would suggest that a committee be named during this session, to look after this important matter."

"The election of a new president was then proceeded with, and Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, was the unanimous choice for the position. He was nominated by Dr. S. C. Hillier, of Bowmanville, who paid a high tribute to the work of Dr. Spankie as a member of the council."

"The new president was escorted to the chair by Dr. Hillier, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the members of council for the honor conferred upon him."

"I assure you I fully appreciate his kindness on your part, and I thank you most sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to the responsible position of president," said Dr. Spankie. "I should feel diffident indeed, in accepting such a high and responsible position, were I not assured of your sympathy and support. As representatives of the medical profession and the public, we have an important duty to perform, and I hope our deliberations at this session may be characterized as on former occasions, by the common desire to promote the professional status, and for the public good. Now, if this were an ordinary session I should say no more, but this is not an ordinary session, inasmuch as it is, I believe, the first session of this council ever held outside the city of Toronto. Kingston appreciates this signal honor. The members of the profession in and about this city are pleased to have you here, and most sincerely hope the honor permit me, as a resident of this part of Ontario, and on behalf of my conferees, to extend to you a hearty welcome to the old Limestone city, and to express the wish that your visit may be pleasant and profitable. "Though small in population as

Dr. W. Spankie Speaks Fondly of Kingston as An Historic and An Educational City—The Committee Named.

At the opening session of the Medical Council at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the retiring president, Dr. H. Moorhouse, of London, presented a resume of the work of the year.

In part Dr. Moorhouse's report contained the following: "I desire to call your attention to the work of the council during the year just closed. The matter of procuring a site for the new council building was discussed by your professional committee, but no agreement was taken, so that this matter will require the consideration of the council at the present session."

RIGHT OF THE JURY TO MAKE INSPECTION OF PENITENTIARY.

Ancient Law is Quoted—Custom Counts For Something—Minister of Justice's Decision Examined.

Kingston, July 1.—(To the Editor): When a grand jury in the performance of their duty report the automatic conduct of Warden Platt, and with a view to make smooth the path for their successors or an attempt to enlist the sympathies of the minister of justice, whose duty they conceive it to be to warn this prison functionary that he must not "bestride the narrow world like a Colossus," they are told among other things that "their rights and duties in common law are vaguely defined, resting upon custom rather than upon any specific institution by statute."

"The members of the Ontario Medical Council, with sincere regret, part with their esteemed registrar, Dr. H. Moorhouse, after a faithful and continuous service of well nigh thirty years."

"These years have witnessed the formative period of medical education in the province of Ontario, and the Dominion of Canada. The high standard of medical education in the country, its exemplary ethical life, its culture and its history of noble and philanthropic deeds may fairly be attributed in no small degree to his untiring energy and vigilance. He has always been a thoughtful and considerate friend of the student body. With great tact, never falling into the rut of routine, he has directed the council, in many a trying situation. Ontario has had a faithful servant in the Hon. Dr. Moorhouse during these years, and we who know him best, the high value of his labors, and his devotedness to the state, have pleasure in acknowledging his indebtedness for his efforts in the cause of humanity and for the public weal."

"The Hon. Dr. Pyne thanked the members of council for their kind words of appreciation and referred to the work of the council during the twenty-eight years he has been identified with it. It was work that he enjoyed and that he regarded very much to have to give it up. The progress of the council, he said, might be compared with the progress of the Dominion of Canada, which had had its own birthday. There had been marked progress, and while retiring from the position of registrar, he would have fond recollections of the time spent in the service of the council."

A number of applications, asking for registration, were referred to committee. The different committees in relation to the medical act, and a report ready for to-night's session.

Dr. McArthur, of London, gave notice of motion that he would move at a subsequent meeting, that the council appoint an executive committee.