PARTY WITH A BLEMISH.

The Montreal Star has a heart to heart talk with its friends in the conservative party in this wise: "The conservative organs are taking advantage of Sir Wilfrid's return to review the alleged evil tendencies of his administration."

THE REAL GRIEVANCE.

The grievance of the Hamilton Spectator is that the Globe heard before the conservative prints that the commissioner who inquired into the case against H. F. Gardiner, of Brantford mayor for the blind, vindicated his honor and reputation. That is a small affair compared with the outrageous manner in which this man has been used.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Dr. Cokquham, deputy minister of education, did not suppose that he would cause a commotion in Toronto by proposing that the university to which the province gives so generously should be named Ontario.
