Time and Money

Time and money make the essence of life and the merchant hustles for trade is the one who can count on prosperity and retirement in the shortest time. A mere living is nothing more than is accomplished by the most illiterate laborer. Yet it satisfies the anti-advertiser in most cases, and it is because of this the hustlers—the advertisers—pay the cost of this vicious advertising. The ants are the toll-payers.

A BIG STRIKE

Almost Pure Gold Is Turned Out.

OF NEW WEST MINE

ITS RICHNESS BEATS WORLD'S RECORD.

The Ore is Very Rich in the Great-est of All Metals—It is Expected It Will Run Over $200,000 to the Ton—The Vein is Thirty Inches Wide.
Denver, July 26.—One of a grade so nearly pure gold that the state history records nothing to approach it, has been discovered on the tenth level of the Little-Johnny mine, at Leadville, within the last few days, and when the assays are completed, it is stated that the figures will show a mineral wealth almost beyond credibility. On Tuesday, twenty sacks were taken out, and these are expected to run $100 to the pound in gold, of $200,000 to the ton. A vein of this ore, thirty inches wide, makes the new strike the richest in mining history anywhere in the world.

Cost To The Government.
London, July 26.—An official return has been issued, giving the cost of the imperial conference at £10,400. This is considerably in excess of the original estimate which was placed at £6,000. SHUNNED MEN 70 YEARS

Sarah Ann Daniel's Lover Proved False, So She Boycotted Male Sex.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., July 26.—Miss Sarah Ann Daniel, ninety-five years of age, who died at her country home, is believed to be the oldest maid in Indiana, and for nearly seventy years she had lived in the immediate neighborhood and refused absolutely to have any communication whatever with men.
Tradition has it that Miss Daniel was one of the most popular girls in the country when she was sixteen years of age, and that she had engaged herself to a young man who was teaching school in a distant part of the county. He visited her regularly, but at the close of the school term he left the county without a word of explanation, and Miss Daniel never heard from him again. She was afterwards seen in company, and when her father died and later her mother, she was so heavily veiled that in general that her face could not be seen.
She continued to occupy the old homestead, but all business in connection with the farm was transacted through the neighbors of her own sex, and it is said that she never spoke to a man, save her father, after her lover proved false.

HILL RIVALS MARK TWIN

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—The appearance of James J. Hill on the street attired in pure white from hat to shoes created a sensation. Never since the oldest inhabitant knew Mr. Hill has he been seen in other than dark gray or black. The shock spread through the city, and many of the credulous visited the Minnesota Club, where they found him all in white.

London, July 26.—While at work in Winnet's gravel pit in the north end of the city, workmen, to-day, unearthed the skeleton of an adult human being. Along with the body were a number of arrow heads and other trinkets, such as were formerly interred with dead chiefs. From these it is supposed the skeleton is that of some noted warrior many years ago.

Centreville, July 25.—The crops of all kinds will be very light in this locality. A severe thunder storm passed over here on Saturday last, the lightning striking S. A STEEL MAGNATE

Has Been Very Generous to Charities.

Henry C. Frick

Henry Clay Frick, the Pittsburgh steel magnate, and one of the great powers in the huge Pennsylvania railroad interests, was born at W. Overton, Penn., on December 19th, 1819. He began life as a clerk for his grandfather in the distillery trade, but later he entered the coke business, where he first showed his marvellous power of management and business determination. Mr. Frick married Miss Adelaide Howard in 1857 at Pittsburgh. Since 1857 he has been the active head of the H. C. Frick Coke company, which produces more coke than any other single corporation in the world. It was in 1892 that Mr. Frick gained international prominence in connection with his fight against labor during the famous Homestead strike. He was wounded and nearly blown up with a dynamite bomb. Since that time, Mr. Frick has been more secluded. He is noted for charitable works and has given big sums to worthy objects.

NURSED HER

And Now He Has Been Rewarded.

A NEGRO SERVANT

WAITED THOUGHTFULLY ON WHITE WOMAN

And When She Died He Was Rewarded With Her Entire Estate, Which Was a Big One—Quite a Romance.

Philadelphia, July 26.—Local society has been astounded by the revelations in the will of the late Mrs. Sarah Wain Hendrickson, who died recently, leaving her entire estate to a negro.

Mrs. Hendrickson died in her ninety-first year, at her home in Wainford, Monmouth county, N.J., in March last. She was connected with one of the oldest Philadelphia families.

The beneficiary, John Wilson, sixty-two years old, who was employed by Mrs. Hendrickson for more than forty years, is now in possession of the old mansion, together with the Wain portraits, jewels, silver plate, and antique furniture. It is said that the reason Mrs. Hendrickson, who was a widow and childless, gave the property to the negro was to pay off a debt of more than $8,000, which he says she owed him. He claims she owed him for many years' wages.

It is said that Mrs. Hendrickson several years ago, made her will in favor of Richard Wain Meirs, her favorite nephew, who lives at No. 1724 Walnut street, Philadelphia. Later she changed her will, and left the estate to a statement of John Meirs, a brother of Richard, the latter, some time after this, drew up a deed conveying the property to the colored man, which was signed by Mrs. Hendrickson and Wilson, December 22nd, 1905, in the presence of William Quirkell, of Hornerstown, a commissioner of deeds of Monmouth county.

The deed stipulated that Wilson should provide for Mrs. Hendrickson for the remainder of her life, and should not sell any of the property until she died. He was also directed to pay $1,000 to Mrs. Richardson, which Mrs. Hendrickson said, was owing to her.

The colored man fulfilled his part as to caring for the aged Mrs. Hendrickson. It is said that when she was very ill he acted as her nurse and would permit no one else to wait on her.

Many of the dead woman's relatives, it is said, propose to fight the colored man's possession of the place, declaring that for years he has exercised undue influence over their aunt, managing the farm, the mill and pocketing all the profits. They claim that the aged woman did not possess her mental faculties for a long time before she died. On the other hand, other members of her family say that Wilson is entitled to the place, alleging that Mrs. Hendrickson brought her condition of indebtedness upon herself by refusing to be advised in business matters. This branch of the family requests that Wilson part merely with the old family portraits.

Wilson is about five feet two inches tall, of a sturdy figure, and very black.

TO MAKE TREATY.

Toronto, July 26.—A building agreement is to be made between the United States and Canada over the fisheries and all troubles on the lakes will be averted.
A conference will be held at once to prepare a treaty which will be satisfactory to both countries.

A NEW PLOT DISCLOSED

And the Czar's Life Was Again in Peril.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—The police yesterday unearthed a new plot against the czar, as a result of which an engineer, named Bilotzerkovetz, the supposed organizer of the conspiracy, is imprisoned in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul and several others have been arrested. The Baltic Imperial railway and the imperial yacht Alexandra were concerned as plans were found in the course of a police raid on a private house here.

MME. FROMKINA HANGED

For Attempting to Murder Two Officials—Refused to Plead For Mercy.

Moscow, July 26.—With the observance of the greatest privacy, Madame Fromkina, who, in March last, attempted to assassinate General Ribbintrop, the ex-prince of police, and who, in May, made an attempt to murder the inspector of the political prison here, was hanged with a pistol which had been mysteriously smuggled into her cell, was hanged, in this city, at sunrise, on Thursday.

The authorities made every effort during the past fortnight to persuade the woman to plead for the mercy of the emperor, but this she obstinately refused to do. Her parents interceded with the throne in her behalf, but their efforts were unavailing.
Madame Fromkina was not charged with actual murder, but accused of making several ineffective attempts to kill officers. It is believed that her mind was unbalanced, and that she suffered from hysteria.
This is the first time a woman has been executed in Russia since Anna Bonvidictova, was put to death at Cronstadt, last October, for complicity in a plot to blow up a public building.

BRAKEMAN SUCCEUMS.

Montrealer Victim of An Accident at Perth.

Toronto, July 26.—The Canadian Pacific officials of the Ontario and Quebec division are advised that Brakeman Arcand, of Montreal, injured at Perth, died in Brockville General Hospital, to which place he was removed after the accident. The victim was brakeman of the Perth local express, running between Montreal and Perth. When the train reaches Perth there is some shunting done, and it was while engaged at this work that Arcand fell beneath the cars. His legs and one arm were left on one side of the track.

LYNCHERS NOT GUILTY.

North Carolina Couldn't Secure a Conviction.

Charlotte, N.C., July 26.—The efforts of the state of North Carolina to bring to justice the twenty odd citizens of Anson county who took J. W. Johnson from Wadesboro jail the night of May 20th, 1906, and lynched him, came to an abrupt termination, when the jury in the case of John Lewis, the second of the lynchers to be tried, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Blue Jackets Are Ready.

Seoul, July 26.—Arrangements have been made with the railway authorities to bring 4,000 Japanese blue jackets quickly from the squadron now at Chemulpo. These the admiral in command has offered to Marquis Ito, but on account of military formalities they will not be called for unless a great emergency arises that makes it absolutely necessary.

CAN KEEP SECRET.

Uniontown, Pa., July 26.—"You can kill me, but I won't tell you where the money is," was the answer three masked men received last night from Isabel Brown, 65 years old, after they had bound her in her home near Gates, and she applied lighted matches to her bare feet. After ransacking the house the men left her bound on the bed alone. It is believed they secured about one hundred dollars, but their victim refuses to tell the extent of her loss.

Heat Drove Him Crazy.

New York, July 26.—Ernest S. Simon, forty years old, a prominent silk manufacturer, of this city and Lyons, France, wrote on an open sheet of newspaper that the heat is "Driving me crazy," and then fired a bullet into his brain while seated before a mirror in his room at the Imperial hotel. He died shortly afterwards in a hospital.
