The Whirligig of Time

The whirligig of time grinds out many changes in city's citizens. Old ones move to alien fields and new ones come to abide in our midst. The newspaper is the creator of opinion with these strangers and it is THE WHIG every day who has the best prospect of first serving them. And this first service gives the opportunity of making permanent customers. This is one reason why it pays to advertise three hundred and sixty-five days of the year.

SUICIDE ENDS DRAMA

He Makes Home a Fort and Defies the Police.

Man Who Resists Arrest Barricades House Which Undergoes a Regular Siege—Finally Took Life

Paris, July 27.—A tragic "Fort Chabrol" drama has occurred at Toulouse. On Wednesday evening a wrister named Tourneur was sentenced at the local police court to eight months' imprisonment for a desperate assault on a man named Darmes.

Immediately after the sentence was pronounced Tourneur drew a revolver and fired at Darmes, who had given evidence against him, and then at the policeman who arrested him. Darmes was seriously injured, but the shot missed the policeman.

In the confusion which followed Tourneur escaped from the court and fled to his house, which he barricaded against the police. When they approached the house for the purpose of capturing him he fired at them with his revolver, and several of the policemen narrowly escaped serious injury.

It was decided to lay siege to the house, and all night long the building was carefully watched. Several times the police attempted to obtain an entrance, but each time they were forced to retreat from the shots of Tourneur's revolver.

At 3.30 yesterday afternoon the police inspector was suspicious of a ruse, however, and would not allow his men to enter the house till the woman had brought out her husband's revolver. Then the police entered the house, and they found the dead body of Tourneur on the bed.

A LIZARD 314 FEET LONG.
Expedition Unearths World's Biggest Fossil.

Baggs, Wyo., July 27.—The most important discovery ever made in the great fossil beds of Wyoming is the skeleton of an animal of the lizard type, just found, which shows a length of 314 feet.

It is by far the largest prehistoric animal yet discovered. The skeleton, which was found by an expedition from the Wyoming State University, is in a perfect state of preservation, every bone seeming to have been in place when petrification set in.

The skeleton is in the side of a hill of shale and has not been torn entirely from the stone in which it is imbedded, but the whole length can be seen.

One vertebra, which has been removed, weighed more than 1,000 pounds. The skeleton will be placed in the Wyoming State University, which has the greatest collection of fossils in the world.

RECTOR FORGIVES WIFE

Takes Back Woman Whom Slant-Eyed Chest-erfield Lured.

Seattle, July 27.—Despite the fact that his wife eloped with Y. Sacramento, their Japanese servant, and was arrested in his company in the Japanese quarter, the Rev. H. C. Robinson, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, has forgiven her. He has signed her bail bond, secured her release from prison and taken her back to his home.

The scandal has almost wrecked the church, in which she was a leading worker. Sacramento was of even more than usual Japanese politeness. It is said it was the manner of the slant-eyed Chesterfield and caused her to desert her home.

The Rev. Mr. Robinson was formerly assistant rector of Grace church, Chicago. Friends of the family declare the woman is not mentally responsible. While a resident of Chicago, in 1904, she was arrested for shoplifting. A house detective saw her saw her removing price tags from a set of furs and attempting to make away with them. The charge was afterwards dropped.

Mr. Robinson is a handsome brunette. She and her husband came originally from Canada.

Mrs. Robinson and the Japanese servant disappeared from the rectory church in which she was a leading worker. Sacramento was of even more than usual Japanese politeness. It is said it was the manner of the slant-eyed Chesterfield and caused her to desert her home.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The Very Latest Culled From All Over the World.

The latest hot-weather story is that the Holy Grail has been discovered near Glastonbury Abbey.

Col. Dobrowsky, of the 20th Infantry, was shot and killed at Tiflis on Thursday, by one of his own regiment.

James Green, an employee of the rolling mills, Hamilton, was almost instantly killed at the works, when a heavy bar of iron fell on him, crushing out his life.

The United Verde smelter at Jerome, Ariz., is closed down, owing to the sinking of the ground upon which it is built. It is built over underground workings of a great copper deposit.

Official announcement is made that Queen Helene is in an interesting condition and that accouchement is expected in a few months. Three children have been born to the royal Italian couple.

Mr. Josephine Leslie was found guilty in the Old Bailey on the charge of defrauding members of well-known families by false pretences, and sentenced to five years' penal servitude. It was her custom to represent herself as the friend of J. Pierpont Morgan, and declare he guided her investments.

A United States judge, sitting beside the judge of the central criminal court in London, had an object lesson yesterday. He saw a jury selected in three minutes and a couple of criminals sentenced in a few minutes more without an atom of excitement. There was, he says, no crowd, no sketch artist, and he did not even notice a newspaper reporter.

THE HOPES OF RAISULI

Governorship More Profitable Than Any Ransom.

Step to Extortion—Disaffected Tribes May Seize Raisuli and Kaid Maclean and Bring Them to Sultan.

Tangier, July 27.—People in Tangier are endeavoring to accustom themselves to the idea of the restoration of Raisuli, the brigand, to his lost governorship. Although as the officials carefully reiterate, the negotiations for Sir Harry Maclean's release have not yet reached a stage where Raisuli's terms can be formulated, still it is quite certain that that will be the first and chief of his demands.

He did not need the capture of Kaid Maclean in order to obtain the sultan's pardon for his past misdeeds, since that was already granted, but it was extremely desirous to obtain a license for future depredations. Moreover, ransom is quite a secondary consideration in Raisuli's mind, since a restoration of his position would give him the opportunity of extortion which made any nancale ransom seem trifling.

At the same time whatever ransom the Moorish government may pay, or a British source provide, will be necessary for the distribution of largesse among the surrounding tribes, who, since being included in the sultan's pardon, are no longer completely under the British's control.

Indeed, the general attitude of the seven or eight tribes in the surrounding Kmas mountains is reported as surprisingly favorable to a return to allegiance to the sultan, while two tribes in particular, the Besmauda and Elsegri, through whose country Sir Harry Maclean passed, on his way from Alcazar, are reported to be anxious as to the special degree of responsibility which will attach to them in case anything happens to the kaid.

One of the chief causes of anxiety as regards Sir H. Maclean's personal safety is the desperate situation to which Raisuli's loss of influence over his followers may reduce him. The two tribes named have been serious in considering the advisability of capturing both captor and captive and bringing them together into Tangier. The Moors in the Kmas region are low-caste, poor tribesmen, who will do anything for a little money. It is not doubted that Raisuli, in order to keep them in hand, has promised them a share in his spoils.

It is obvious that this commercial instinct, coupled with equal or greater effect, be appealed to by the Moorish government or others interested or having gold at command. But the difficulty is that Raisuli, driven to desperation, might slaughter the kaid. This is why Raisuli's restoration authority is regarded as completely as possible. It is pointed out that the evil would not necessarily be permanent.

A MINER WAS MURDERED

Passenger Awakened By Dead Body Falling on Him.

Paris, July 27.—A Spanish miner named Josef Nadam was murdered in the Toulouse-Bayonne express train last night under mysterious circumstances.

The train was travelling at between forty and fifty miles an hour, when one of the passengers in the next compartment to that in which Nadam had been travelling was awakened out of his sleep by the body of Nadam falling against him. There was a great wound in the throat, in which a knife was still sticking. It was evident that Nadam had been attacked, and had just strength enough left to drag himself into the next compartment.

The passenger shouted out into the corridor and rushed for help, but it was too late. As he entered the corridor he was just in time to see a man take a flying leap out of the train.

The train was quickly pulled up, but although the line was thoroughly searched, the mysterious assailant had vanished.

BADLY HURT.

In a Stampede From a Moving Trolley Car.

Haverhill, Mass., July 27.—In an electrical storm, yesterday, lightning passed through a trolley car in which the New Bedford and Haverhill baseball teams of the New England League, were riding and in the stampede of passengers which followed Edward Belave, Auburn, N.Y., catcher on the New Bedford team, was thrown headlong to the pavement and suffered concussion of the brain. Nearly all of the other persons in the car suffered bruises, and some were severely injured.

JACK-THIEF-RIPPER.

Walked Along Streets and Cut Children Open.

Berlin, July 27.—A fiendish and atrocious criminal made his appearance on the streets of this city yesterday, and five little girls are his victims. The man approached the children on the streets and by a deft stroke ripped open their stomachs with a knife. One of the children is dead. Each crime was committed in a different locality in the northern and eastern parts of the city. The criminal has up to the present time, escaped capture. He is presumed to be a mad man. The entire police force of the city is aroused, and is making every effort to capture the man and prevent the commission of further outrages.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

CHICAGO MAY GOES TO PRISON

Given Fifteen-Year Sentence—Her Companion Goes For Life.

London, July 27.—A woman, known as "Chicago May," Churchill, and a man named Smith, were found guilty at the Old Bailey on a charge of having attempted to murder "Eddie" Guerrin, in this city, on June 15th. Smith was sentenced to penal servitude for life, and the Churchill woman was given fifteen years' penal servitude.

Guerrin was sent to Devil's Island for a bank robbery in Paris. He escaped, he refused to resume relations with her. On the evening of June 15th, Smith and "Chicago May" were driving in London, saw Guerrin on the sidewalk, Smith jumped out of the cab and fired several shots at Guerrin, one of which wounded him.

"Chicago May" was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for connection with the bank robbery in Paris, for which Guerrin was sent to Devil's Island.
