

WORMS HELD IN $2,000 BAIL

Charles Smith, of Kingston, Alleged Thief

Was Taken to County Jail in Default of Bail—Farmer "Bounced" Wanted to Shoot the Prisoner.

A dispatch to the Whig, from Glen Falls, N.Y., says that Charles Smith, arrested there a week ago, by Under Sheriff O'Connell, of that place, on a charge of stealing a horse from Thurlock Leavens, a Glen Falls liveryman, was arraigned before Police Justice Singleton, on a charge of grand larceny, and was held in $2,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

He was taken to the county jail at Lake George, in default of bail. Smith, it will be remembered, was arrested at his home, on Ontario street, by Acting Detective James Beaton, and Constable Mullinger, and handed over to Under Sheriff O'Connell, who came to the city for him.

The horse and rig have been recovered. Smith, who is alleged, gave the outfit to D. Tompkins, a farmer, who resides at Hoffman's Station, about ten miles west of Schenectady. He borrowed $10 from the farmer, giving the horse as security, but never returned for it.

In referring to the case, the Glen Falls Morning Post says: "When Mr. Leavens, Officer O'Connell and his prisoner reached Tompkins' home, the latter discovered that he had been 'bounced' out of $10. The loss of the horse and the $10 placed the farmer in no gentle mood, and he threatened to shoot Smith, but was later pacified by the officer, who told Tompkins he would inform him of Smith's fate at the hands of the local authorities."

CARNIVAL AT OTTAWA.
Grand Celebration Witnessed by Many Kingstonians.

Quite a large number of Kingstonians were in Ottawa on Monday, and witnessed the opening of the summer carnival. They state that the celebration proved a great success in every way, and that the various committees are deserving of much credit for the way in which the arrangements were carried out.

The opening addresses of welcome were given from the steps of the City hall, and it is stated that the building was decorated in an elaborate style.

Mayor D'Arcy Scott, son of Hon. W. Scott, made an excellent speech, in which he covered many things of interest to the residents of Ottawa, and men of all kinds of welcome, to the men and women who had returned to see old friends.

It is stated that close upon 2,000 people have signed the registration cards, but the registration is no indication of the number of people in the capital. It has been estimated that the homecomers number 15,000.

TORMENTERS TURNED.

Funka was in court with two black eyes, but Ashworth appeared to be none the wiser for the misadventure.

John Ockley, the first witness, called, told of passing along the waterfront, on Monday, when he saw a number of men engaged in a fight. The crowd was fishing, and he noticed some of the men throw stones in the water near where Funka had thrown his line.

Witness thought that there would be a serious row, and notified the police. He could not recognize any of the men charged, as those who had been at the wharf on Monday.

Karl Goldman said that on the day of the row, he was talking to Funka near the Western house. He saw the four men attack Funka. One of the four told witness that he (the witness) would get hurt, if he gave evidence in the police court. Witness was told this before he received a summons to appear in the police court.

"Witness said that Gilley was the first man to strike Funka. The man went after him like a throwing machine," said the witness. Charles Castoria, a German, who could speak a few words of English, called Constable "Nick" Timmerman an interpreter. He told of having been fishing near the K. & P. wharf with Funka. Witness saw the men throwing stones at Funka, and also saw one of the men strike Ashworth.

Louis Langport, proprietor of the Western hotel, told of the fight in the bar room, and identified all the prisoners. Theodore Funka said that while he was fishing the men accused threw stones in near his line. He saw one of the men strike Ashworth. At the Western hotel, witness was attacked by the men, and had both of his eyes blackened.

What Longboat Did.
The feature of Ottawa's summer carnival was Longboat racing. The runner, in the five-mile race, was engaged to beat three men in regattas, at the same time to beat the Canadian record, but the dusky heave made the distance in 25.55, which is one minute and one second better than the record. Hilton Green, of the I.C.A.C., Toronto, was Longboat's first opponent, but he was out of the water like a streak from him. At the end of two and a half miles he was seventy-five yards behind. "Tom" Coley, of the I.C.A.C., was Longboat's second opponent, but he was out of the water like a streak from him. At the end of two and a half miles he was seventy-five yards behind. "Tom" Coley, of the I.C.A.C., was Longboat's second opponent, but he was out of the water like a streak from him.

Sporting Notes.
"Jimmy" Britt and "Batling" Nelson will come together again Wednesday night, in San Francisco, in a twenty-round fight. This will be the third time these two dusky heaves fought. Both men agreed to have gone back in the past two years, but despite this, a good fight is promised.

The Toronto Tecumseh have entered into arrangements to visit British Columbia and to take part in a lacrosse tournament, a series of games with the Westminister Lacrosse Club and the two teams of Vancouver.

Magistrate Farrell will be in connection with the provincial fair at New Westminster during the first week of October.

Of the players in the Eastern Baseball League who have played in forty or more games, Thony, of the Toronto, heads the list in batting, with an average of .361 for 75 games. He has been at bat 310 times, made 112 hits and 23 runs. In 45 games, Kelly has been at bat 169 times, made 55 hits and 20 runs, with an average of .325.

WILL PLAY SYDENHAM

TO DECIDE WHICH IS THE BETTER TEAM.

The Wanderers Haven't a High Opinion of the Sydenham Footballers—Scots Past History Recalled—Sporting Notes.

In answer to the bombastic challenge of the aggrieved Sydenham football team, we the alleged Scotsmen of the Wanderers' team, which comprises six English men, have no hesitation in taking up the same, on the understanding that they play the same team as played the Sydenham of Kingston, and not to scour the city for players, as they did when they played the Scots for the $50 at Odessa. So much for the sporting principles of the Sydenhamites.

We will take this game on in Kingston and give them half the gate. If they wish to accept this, let them put up or shut up. They had no intention of playing the Saturday team, but they were the parties who called the game for two o'clock, and as far as the game was concerned, the Sydenham team knew that their goose was cooked and well cooked at that.

Since, when did Sydenham provide supper for the visiting team? Had the audacity to collect on the Odessa field, when we played them on the understanding that the two teams were to participate in the proceeds as far as supper was concerned, the Scots got the shells of the nuts. The Sydenham team took the rest. Again, so much for the sporting principle of the village team.

A. H. A. Mortimer, who is visiting his niece, Mrs. M. R. Neville, Tamworth, lived forty-seven years ago in Whig. He is now a resident of Chicago and owner of a vegetarian cafe.

Automobile Broke Down.
A local automobilist met with an accident on his way to Buckton with an alderman, the other evening. The machine broke down, and the tourist had to seek a night's lodging at a farm house. The disabled auto was towed to the city yesterday for repairs.

Would Limit The Speed.
Alderman Gaskin is of the opinion that automobile law is altogether too fast through the streets of Kingston, and intends introducing a by-law providing for regulating their speed. He thinks that five miles an hour is quite sufficient for the streets of Kingston. Some of them whirl down Princess street at thirty miles an hour.

His Circumference His Pride.
Police Constable Samuel Arniel, who is again on duty after a ten days' vacation in the country, declares that he didn't go away for the purpose of his circumference, and has no desire for it to become less. Constable Arniel is out with a challenge to P.C. Mullinger for a two-mile walking contest.

No Waiting For Soda.
It is annoying to wait at a soda fountain while previous customers liberally enjoy their soda. At Wade's there is no waiting. Service is prompt and you can take your time in drinking your beverage. It is kind that is in a class by itself, both as to purity and delicious qualities. Wade's drug store.

Accident To A Rig.
One of the large wagons which have been about the city for the past few days advertising Comfort ranges, struck a mishap last evening, and ran over a woman. The driver was also thrown from his high seat and badly shaken up.

She Took The Prize.
At a picnic at Brewer's Mills, on Thursday, a prize of a silk umbrella was given to the best lady waltzer, judged to be Miss Queen, from Gananoque, who had a professional dancing partner. The judges were: M. F. McKeen, Cambridge, New York; P. McKeen and P. Shortel, Brewer's Mills.

A Lady's Narrow Escape.
Yesterday afternoon, a lady had a narrow escape from serious injury in a motor boat. When out opposite Folger's wharf, her dress caught in the machinery, when she was changing her seat. She was jerked overboard, and her revolving wheel, and her companion grabbed her and pulled her in time to prevent her being drawn further under the influence of the wheel. The incident was viewed by people from the wharf.

Went Back To Toronto.
The Old Boys from Toronto, have returned home, after what one would acclaim as one of the most enjoyable visits ever made to the home of their birth. Tuesday afternoon more than the expected number of excursionists arrived at the railway station, with the result that two of the regular coaches had to be put on to the regular train. In the evening an immense throng gathered at Hanley's depot to see the special off. There were handshakes and good-byes, and then the old town assumed its accustomed air.

Will Publish Results.
For the first time in four years, the complete results of the departmental examinations will be published. It is expected that they will appear in ten days or two weeks. Four years ago the results of the examinations were withheld from the public, owing to the complaints of some of the smaller high schools that invidious comparisons were being made, detrimental to the results of the school. Instead of this, the results were sent to the different principals, and made known by them. This, however, was found to cause numerous delays owing to the absence of the principals on their holidays. The results will now be published according to counties, and not by schools.

STERBOAT WAR

RIVAL LINES HUSTLING TO SECURE PASSENGERS.

Advertising Dodgers Sown Broadcast—Megaphones Used By Visger Managers, Who Are Shut Out From Clayton Dock.

As the season advances the Visger and Folger system of island rambles are getting at loggheads over the carrying of passengers, writes a Watertown, N.Y., Standard correspondent.

Capt. Visger has sent broadcast over the river resorts thousands of flyers, getting at loggheads over the carrying of passengers, writes a Watertown, N.Y., Standard correspondent.

The Folger people are distributing dodgers announcing that the only way to see the islands is aboard the fast observation steamers, and warn the public "not to be misled by the advertisements of small yachts which use big type to advertise a short trip through a few narrow channels." "You cannot see the islands to advantage from a low deck near the water," concludes the hand bill.

Both lines are going to the extremity of carrying passengers free of charge to secure business. Since the railroad people at Clayton refuse to allow Visger line dock room, the resourceful owner has ordered both his boats to pass near the dock, and through a giant megaphone he tells of the best way to see the islands. The Folgers went one better: by putting ticket agents aboard every one of their boats to drum up business for the island rambles on the steamer New Island Wanderer.

Warning To Yacht Owners.
Owners of gasoline yachts down the river are going to get into trouble if they continue carrying passengers without government inspection. The law requires that such boats must conform to a certain standard. Most of the boats do not conform, and yet passengers are being carried when they have no right to be. Some customs officers, outside of Kingston, are likely to get into trouble of their negligence in allowing unsuspected yachts to engage in the passenger trade between river points. The marine law aims at the protection of the public, and little boats not properly equipped or sufficiently manned should not be allowed to risk the lives of the people.

Marine Notes.
The M. T. company's barge Quebec is at Swift's with a load of hay. The schooner Ford River, is unloading coal at the M. T. company's slip. The steamer Mississquoi made its regular trip up the river, yesterday, and carried quite a large number of passengers.

Swift's Steamer Hamilton, up last night; steamer Toronto, down and up today; steamer Rideau King, for Ottawa; steamer Caspian, down and up; steamer Rideau Queen, down and up; steamer Ottawa, down; steamer Dunbar, down, this morning.

Co's: The tug Bronson cleared for Montreal, with three grain-laden barges the steamer Thacker cleared for Buffalo; the steamer Fairmount and consortia Quebec and Melrose, cleared for Port Hope; the steamer Jesse Spaulding cleared for the upper lakes; the steamer Advanced passed down, on her way from Fort William to Montreal, with grain; the steamer Starbuck passed down, on her way to Sydney.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.
Advice Handed Out To Street Railway Conductors.

Kingston, July 31.—(To the Editor): The street railway superintendent would do well if he instructed the car motormen and conductors not to allow boys to protest about the cars giving them unnecessary assistance. The practice is very common, and it's a bad one. It gives strangers the impression that the cars are run under a slipshod system, and it causes general annoyance. This letter is for the purpose of drawing the superintendent's attention to the matter, in the interests of the railway. Another thing that strikes people who ride frequently upon the cars is the lack of strict attention to duty on the part of some conductors, who do not seem to realize that when on duty they should "keep their place," instead of holding constant conversation with the motormen. The place of the conductor is the rear of the car when he is not collecting fares, and he should stay there, just as the motorman remains at his post.—CITIZEN.
