A POPULAR SONG

A song may be ever so clever in word and music, but it will never reach popularity unless sung, and the longer it is sung the more people know about it. How true this is of "Prosperity," the song which has been so successful in the past. It is a song of hope and cheer, and its message is one that is needed in these times of trouble. It is a song that will lift the hearts of all who hear it, and it is a song that will be sung for many years to come.

SAYS THIS IS BEST

A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce;
Compound Salsolone, one ounce;
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.

Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known physician states that these are the best vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Salsolone and Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

WOULDN'T KILL

Tried And Tried To End His Days

BUT GAS DIDN'T WORK

MADE HIM SICK AND HE SHUT IT OFF.

Aged New Yorker Turned Gas on and Sat Down to Smoke Until Death Came—Three Times Did He Try, Then Was Arrested.

New York, Aug. 5.—According to the Times, August Mehlig, sixty years old, of East 106th street, turned on the gas in his room, early yesterday morning, after closing the windows and fastening the bedroom door.

Then he sat in a chair to smoke three hours later, the gas began to make him sick, so he shut it off and opened the windows to think it over.

An hour later he decided again to kill himself, so he closed the windows, lighted his pipe, and turned on the gas. After an hour's wait Mehlig decided to make an extension of the room. He poked under his bed, back of bureau and under chairs to find out if there was a leak where fresh air might come in. He found none.

At nine o'clock he tried again, but though he sat a long time inhaling the gas he could not seem to die.

While his wife was out he went downstairs and examined the gas jets under there. They were all right, so he returned to his room and fastened up the windows, filled the craves with paper and the door with creeps, and lighting his pipe, turned on the gas again.

The hours dragged, but noon found August still puffing his pipe. The old man petulantly ripped up a bed sheet and some pillow slips and went over the crevices again, filling in here and there. Then he tried it again.

At 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon his wife smelled gas and falling to get into her husband's room, called in a policeman. He kicked in the door and found August seated in his chair smoking. The policeman was almost overcome, but he grabbed the man and hustled him downstairs, where August recounted his experience of the night.

In the Harlem court, where Magistrate Francis Bennett presided, Mehlig could not get along with his wife. Mehlig was held in $500 bail, for trial, in special sessions for attempting suicide.

RESCUED BY NATIVES

NAVAL OFFICER LOST IN AUSTRALIAN BUSH.

Wanders Aimlessly About For Four Days Suffering From Want of Food and Water.

Melbourne, Aug. 3.—A thrilling story of the privations endured by the cruiser commander, Edelbert Silk, of the Pyramus, who was lost for five days in the bush near Port Darwin, is told in the papers to-day.

The Pyramus had obeyed Lord Northcote, the governor-general, and party to Port Darwin on a tour of inspection. Commander Silk landed with a shooting party, but afterward the commander went alone to search for the vessel. When it was known on the Pyramus that he was missing the vessel's searchlight was displayed at night, so as to act as a guide for him.

When dusk set in he found himself hopelessly lost in some mangroves. He obtained some water from a swamp, and during the next two days he continued to wander about. He was becoming more desperate, for besides having had no food, he could not find any water.

On the night of the third day rain fell in torrents, and Commander Silk spread his net and squatted the water into his mouth.

At night he saw the searchlight of the Pyramus, but was unable to go in his direction owing to the darkness of the mangrove swamps, blocking his way.

It was not until the fourth day that he met two black natives, who put him into a canoe, which they pushed across the river, and he was rescued on the other side. They first took him to their home, gave him nourishment, and next day they drove him into Port Darwin.

A Feat Of Most Reckless Daring

DONE BY A CANADIAN

HE DOES NOT WANT ANY MORE OF IT.

Successfully Ran Through Rapids of Big Horn Canyon For First Time in History—Five Times Boat Overtured in the Awful Mastroms.

Thermopoli, Wyoming, Aug. 5.—A very Canadian has just succeeded in making the passage of the dreaded Big Horn Canyon, winning $1,000 in gold and successfully accomplishing a feat which has heretofore been considered impossible by the Americans, a feat in which at least a dozen men have lost their lives. Where the Big Horn River breaks through the mountains in the terrible canyon, the Indians, many years ago, gave it the name of the "Waters of Death," and the fearful gorge has deserved that name both in looks and in fact.

W. C. Harmed is the Canadian who made the successful trip. Harmed was for many years a boatman on the rapids in the St. Lawrence river, and was known as the most proficient of all the guides there. But he drifted west and settled down in Thermo. He had been in the business for some time when he started through the canyon which lies between that town and Thermo.

Harmed secured the assistance of an old frontiersman and guide, now a business man of Thermo, in the name of the boatman on the rapids in the St. Lawrence river, and was known as the most proficient of all the guides there. But he drifted west and settled down in Thermo.

IS BADLY SCARED

BURGLAR CAUGHT BY FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

Girl Turns on the Hose and Drenches Him With a Chemical Fluid.

Edinburgh, Aug. 3.—A remarkable story of a girl's pluck and resource comes from the far north of Scotland. Sackville House, Bownby-Wick, the residence of Mrs. Sinclair, Wemyss, was broken into by a tramp, who is believed to be of German nationality, while the family were at dinner.

The first to discover the intruder was the butler, who, after a great struggle, was knocked down and rendered unconscious.

Two other servants attracted by the noise were awakened by the tramp, and during the scuffle the daughter of the house, sixteen years old, rushed out of the dining-room, and at once took a patent fire extinguisher which was hanging on the wall from its hook and squirted the chemical contents into the face of the burglar.

The man, utterly unprepared by this unexpected attack, and believing, probably, that he was blinded for life, gave shriek and bolted out of the front door.

He was however, captured later on and is now lying in the local jail awaiting trial.

The extinguisher was a cone-shaped apparatus with a knob at the top. When the knob is struck on the floor the extinguisher can be held horizontally, and a powerful jet is thrown a distance of thirty feet. It was this jet which settled the burglar.

A FAMILY SKELETON

Forced to Reveal Stepmother is Negress.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Vespasian Warner, commissioner of pensions, who has just returned from Clinton, Ill., where he filed an affidavit in court, said that he had made every possible effort to shield the family skeleton from public view. He expressed regret at the fact that he was forced to reveal the existence of the ante-nuptial agreement by which his stepmother was to receive $10,000 in cash and $500 a year for life, in addition to a legacy of $50,000, Commissioner Warner said.

"After my father's death my stepmother charged that she had been deceived when she agreed to accept the contract. She therefore renounced the contract, and the contract and sought to receive a larger share of the estate. As executor I refused to grant her demands and she carried the case to court. I tried to keep the matter secret, even to my own family, but my father is of negro birth, being one-fourth colored. Mrs. Warner shows little signs of being of tainted blood, although the kinky hair is noticeable. If one's attention is called to it, my father saw her parents only for a few minutes on the day they were married, and in the excitement of the day, he did not notice the color of her hair. The case is simply a lawsuit to break aside a legal contract and break a woman who was guilty of deception in concealing from her the extent of his fortune, contrary to the Illinois law. My father made me his executor and let particular directions that I should see that the ante-nuptial agreement was carried out, with the addition of $50,000 worth of real estate. I think that he did not know his wife had negro blood, but that for some reason he did not wish her to have dower rights in the estate. The entire lower rights in the hands of the court, and I don't know how soon a decision will be made. If it is decided unfavorable to me, we shall take an appeal to the state supreme court.

Warner's estate amounts to about $150,000, and the widow's dower rights would be one-third of this sum.

MILLIONS FOR CARS.

G.T.R. Will Soon Have Spent $7,000,000.

Montreal, July 24.—With the daily delivery of engines, passenger coaches and freight cars, the Grand Trunk railway is rapidly approaching the day when the stock of nearly $7,000,000 worth of rolling stock will have been received by them during the present season. There were in all about sixty passenger coaches ordered, costing about $12,000 each, laid down in Montreal, which makes a total of $720,000. Thirty of these have already been delivered, and the remainder of the order is being received. The average cost is $15,000 each, or an aggregate of $1,500,000.

The tremendous increase in freight traffic may be imagined by the delivery of 4,500 up-to-date cars. The order was for 5,200, and the average cost is $850 each, so that the great sum of $4,125,000 is being spent for freight cars alone. With the wide delivery of many of these G. T. R. people are hoping to get well on the way to lift the present congestion.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Indictments were returned in the United States district court against Booth & Co., generally known as the "Fish Trust," the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company, and the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, charging them with violation of the first provision of the Elkin's law prohibiting rebating.

EMPERORS MEET.

They Come Face to Face on the Sea.

Swinemunde, Aug. 3.—The Emperor put to sea on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, on Saturday morning, and met Emperor Nicholas, who had come down from Kronstadt on the Standard, the Russian imperial yacht. Emperor William was advised, by wireless telegraphy, of where the Standard was cruising, and the yacht met at Swinemunde, and the two emperors reviewed the German fleet. The German emperor paid his return call to the Russian sovereign on board the Standard in the afternoon, and the two sovereigns had a long talk. Prince Von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor, and M. Jawitzky, the Russian foreign minister were present, and took part in the conversation. During review Swinemunde harbor was closed by German torpedo boats and special harbor police watched all the boats along the wharf.

Face Justified Murder.

Vidua, Aug. 5.—A Hungarian peasant, charged at Nausamie with murdering his eighteen-year-old daughter, admitted the crime, but pleaded justification. He declared she was so ugly he had no chance of getting her married.

The jury decided that the plea established extenuating circumstances, and brought in a verdict of manslaughter. The court sentenced the prisoner to three years' imprisonment.

REMARKABLE STORY OF ESCAPE FROM PRISON.

Baden, Aug. 5.—The German police have captured a man named Schaarschmidt, who escaped from the Gerz jail three weeks ago.

The manner of his flight makes one of the most remarkable of all those told in the romance of prison breakers. Crossing the one window of his cell within was an oak beam seven by seven inches square. Outside the window was another beam nine inches thick. There were only two bars beside the massive masonry of the building.

But the wood, toughened by age, was enough to make any prisoner without tools despair. Schaarschmidt had not even the metal shank of his shoes to make a saw of, for he had only felt slippers in his dungeon.

He got to work with his teeth, however, upon the inside of the beam. It took him three months to gnaw through this formidable barrier. He worked through the hole which he was certain that the guards were out of sight and hearing. Before their expected return he always covered up the ravages of his work with a stick of straw, as his teeth had made with a stick of straw.

Schaarschmidt spent seven months in the same patient toil, gnawing like a rat through the outer bar. One night he judged that the apertures were large enough and he squeezed through. The space was so small and the sixteen inches of jagged ends of the beam were so rough that he tore his body frightfully.
