UNION MEN WON OUT IN BASEBALL MATCH WITH YARKER NINE.

Defeated Visitors By a Score of 6 to 3, at the Cricket Field on Saturday Afternoon.

Before one of the largest crowds that has turned out to a baseball match at the cricket field this season, the Union team on Saturday defeated the Yarker nine by a score of 6 to 3. The match was an interesting one, and although the visitors were defeated, they played a good game. Their weak point appeared to be in batting, failing to connect with the ball when there was a good chance to score. Samuel Arnel, one of Kingston's "finest," was the umpire, and he gave both teams a square deal, although a few of his decisions were questioned by some of the spectators. However, Sam had the law to back him up, and everything ran smoothly.

Yarker did not make a tally until the seventh innings, when they managed to mark up two. The Union men scored one run in the second, third and fifth innings, and then made a grand stand finish in the eighth, their last innings, by chalking up three runs.

Yarker went to bat first, and Warner, who holds down the first bag, was the first to pick up the willow. He had a chance for three awful smashes at the ball, but failed to connect with any of Lumb's twisters. It was a poor start off for the visitors. Deare knocked a fly which fell into Doyle's mit, and Shultz knocked a nice fly to Lumb and the team retired. Kingston's stay on the job was as brief as their opponents', Davison had the nerve to fan out, Doyle was caught out on a fly to the infield, and Lumb also fanned.

Scott was hit in the next innings, and given a pass, but was caught when stealing second. Shultz was retired, and Wood was put out when stealing third. Tilson succeeded in scoring Kingston's first run in this innings, making a good base hit, and stealing the other base. In the third innings, Yarker again failed to get a "look in." Rose made a good hit, followed by Skinner, who fanned out. Gordon was given a pass, Warner knocked a fly to the second baseman, and Gordon was nipped stealing second. Nolan scored Kingston's second run in this innings. He made first on a nice hit, was passed to third on Young's hard drive in right field, and then reached home on Davison's hit. The team was then retired in quick order. Neither Doyle, who was out on a fly to the second-bagger, nor Shultz, who was out at third, the team being retired before he was given a chance to score. There was nothing doing then until the seventh, when Yarker gingered up. Wood fanned out, but Shultz, who followed, made a two-bagger, and scored on Rose's drive, Rose being assisted home on Gordon's hit. The visitors scored their other run in the eighth, and this ended the fireworks until Kingston had their trial in the eighth. In this innings, Doyle started the rolling with a two-bagger, and Nicholson ran the bases for him, and by some timely hitting three runs were scored. Tilson, Nicholson and Stokes crossing the home plate.

The line-up was as follows: Yarker-Davison, 1b.; Doyle, 2b.; Lumb, p.; Stokes, 3b.; Tilson, cf.; Pount, ss.; Nicholson, cf.; Nolan, 1f.; Young, 1b.; Warner, 1b.; Deare, lf.; Shorts, cf.; Scott, ss.; Wood, p.; Shultz, 2b.; Rose, c.; Skinner, 3b.; Gordon, 1b. The score by innings was as follows: Kingston 1 0 1 1 0 0 3 5-6 Yarker 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0-3

Notes On The Game. Young is a good one in stealing bases. Tilson was the only man to score two runs. What's the matter with the Union team? Shultz and Rose did the scoring for Yarker. In union there is strength, and the union team won in the fourth. Nicholson was a case of the union men going on strike and winning out. Nicholson is a winner when it comes to running around the bases. The Yarker boys know the game, and play it for all they are worth. Nolan is quite an acrobat. He turned a fine somersault when stealing second base. It is rumored that Sam Arnel has been offered a job with the Eastern League. Sam Arnel will get the whole police force in the game next summer. "Baseball for mine," says Sam. Sam Arnel has a case for police court as a result of the game. Some of the players are to be charged with stealing bases. Lumb's twisters did some fine work. "Do you want a basket?" cried one of the kids when Yarker's second baseman dropped Stokes' high fly.

Sporting Notes.

The Toronto ball team have only eleven more games to play at home this season. It is now an assured fact that there will be no Canada cup races until 1909 at the very earliest. "Tom" Coley, of the Irish-Canadians, has started in twelve races, this season, ranging from one to ten miles, and has won all except one. The entries for the dog show at the Canadian National exhibition, Toronto, September 2nd to 6th, number 1,627, against 1,344 last year. Lester Patrick, captain of the Montreal Wanderer Hockey Club, and its manager for the past two years, is going to Nelson, B.C., to go into the lumber business with his father. It is altogether likely that an eastern division of the Canadian Association of Amateur Quomen, embracing clubs from Ottawa, Montreal and Brockville, will be organized in the course of a few weeks. Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, has been asked to accept the position of physical director in the school.

RACE ON SATURDAY

THE CHIRIYA WON ON THE FIRST ROUND.

The Course Covered Was Only Six Miles—A Foul and the Thistle Was Put Out of the Race.

Another keenly contested race for the Bruce Carruthers trophy took place on Saturday afternoon. The wind was blowing very strong from the west, but nevertheless the local yachtsmen went out. On account of the late hour at which the yachts started they went around the course once.

The course was from the yacht club, around the black buoy of Snake island, all buoys to port, a distance of six miles. At 4:08 the following yachts crossed the line: Chiriya, Kathleen, Heather and Teppi. Before the yachts crossed line the Thistle, sailed by Haloway, Waddell, fouled the Heather, the Gannogque yacht, and was counted out of the race. The Heather was standing on the starboard tack, and had the right of way. The Thistle was on the starboard tack, and had the right of way. The Thistle was slightly damaged, the bowsprit of the visiting yacht struck through it.

The yachts crossed the line after the first round as follows: H. M. S. Chiriya 1:04.4 Kathleen 5:12.45 Heather 5:16.40 Teppi 5:18.23 Corrected Time. H. M. S. Chiriya 1:04.4 Kathleen 5:07.12 Heather 5:13.44 Teppi 5:13.42

The Chiriya took the race. Three races have been run for the cup this year, but the first one was not run because of a blizzard. The Heather and the two minutes and twenty-seven seconds. The Tanager was out on Saturday afternoon and showed excellent form. She is a fine sailor in heavy weather. The new yacht is eligible for the Carruthers trophy, but would be held some time on account of her size and lines.

FIRE AT THE PRISON.

An Alert Watchman Caught It in Time. On Saturday night about ten o'clock an alert watchman on duty in the prison saw a sudden flash of light in the passage-room of the binder twine department at the penitentiary. He summoned aid and with haste the fire was subdued with little damage beyond scorching the woodwork and blackening the walls. Spontaneous combustion, among the oil and waste about the engine, is thought to have been the cause, as no fire had been in the building for four or five days, and the department had been closed down that time, owing to a shortage of material. The promptness of the watchman averted what might have been a serious conflagration.

Newspapers Picked Up By Reporters On Their Rounds.

Price's chocolates are made fresh every day. William Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at McAuley's, "Phone 778. The line-up was as follows: Yarker-Davison, 1b.; Doyle, 2b.; Lumb, p.; Stokes, 3b.; Tilson, cf.; Pount, ss.; Nicholson, cf.; Nolan, 1f.; Young, 1b.; Warner, 1b.; Deare, lf.; Shorts, cf.; Scott, ss.; Wood, p.; Shultz, 2b.; Rose, c.; Skinner, 3b.; Gordon, 1b.

HAD A LEG BROKEN.

An Accident to Trainer Hayes, on Saturday. Alexander Hayes, trainer at Catabara driving park, had the misfortune to fracture his leg on Saturday. Shortly before noon he was driving home with Robert Reeves, and at the corner of Princess and Alfred streets, he fell off the wagon, both wheels passing over his body, breaking his left leg below the knee. A little over a year ago, Mr. Hayes had the same leg broken in a collision on the race course here.

Change Of Time.

A change of time in the running of the steamers Kingston and Toronto, of the Richelieu and Ontario line, came into effect to-day. The boats will leave Kingston and all points east as far as Prescott, one-half hour earlier than the schedule which has prevailed all-summer. This change is made on account of the shortening days, which makes it necessary for the boats to leave earlier in order to run the rapids by daylight.

Builder Of The Mills

They Were Reared Long Before Stuart's Time

Had Been in Use Fifty Years Before Recollection of Mr. Stuart—A Sketch of the Builder of the Mills.

"John Stuart is wide of the mark in saying that Mr. Clarke did not build Kingston Mills mills," remarked a citizen. The fact is that the mill was over forty years of age when Mr. Stuart was born—in 1827—and possibly fifty years old by the time he remembered the mills. If the fact of Mr. Stuart's facts are as reliable as the one I am discussing then I cannot accept them as truth. It is history and the documents are forthcoming that Robert Clarke, great-grandfather of J. E. Clarke, of this city, built the mills in 1783. Here is a sketch of the builder.

Robert Clarke was born in Quaker Hill, Dutchess county, in what is now the state of New York, 16th March, 1744. He owned two farms in that county. They were confiscated on the success of the revolutionary party in the American war. He joined General Burgoyne's standard, and, at his request, accompanied those at Nanapanze, in the province of Canada. The day after he left, Burgoyne surrendered. Having served two years in the H. M. Provincial regiment (the Loyal Rangers), he was discharged on the 24th September, 1783, and next year, having learned the business of millwright, he was employed by the government to erect the mills at Kingston, and subsequently those at Nanapanze. In 1785 he was joined by his family, and moved with them to lot 74, in the 1st concession of the township of Ernestown, which had been recently surveyed and allotted to the second battalion of the 84th regiment. In July, 1788, he was appointed a justice of the peace for the county of Mecklenburg, and captain of militia in 1809. He died 17th December, 1823. His wife, Isobel Ketchum, was native of Long Island, in the state of New York. They had five sons and one daughter.

Matthew Clarke, grandfather of J. E. Clarke, was a native of Dutchess county, N.Y. He was born 3rd October, 1771. He was the eldest son of Robert Clarke and his wife, Isobel Ketchum. In the year 1784 he accompanied his mother and her other children to Canada. He became a colonel of militia and justice of the peace, and by his wife, Anne McCoy, step-daughter of Col. Johnson, had twelve sons.

"These sketches," said the citizen, "are authentic, and have been known as history in this section for years."

LATE PETER O'BRIEN.

Former Well Known Resident of Gannogque.

Peter O'Brien, who for many years was prominent in business and municipal affairs in Gannogque, died at Kingston, last Thursday, aged eighty-two years and ten months. He was the eldest son of the late Ignace O'Brien, and was born in Pennsylvania, Ireland. When he was five years of age he came with his father's family to Canada, settling at Gannogque, where he grew up and lived for over fifty years. He learned the cooper's trade, and worked at it as journeyman for some years, afterwards owning a cooper shop, and employing a large force of hands. At that time the mill was known as "the Gannogque Mills," the largest then in Canada, was in operation, running night and day the year round, and more than half the men in the village were engaged in "making barrels for the flour. They also made potash barrels, pork barrels, butter tubs, and other wooden ware. Afterwards, when the mill was stopped, Mr. O'Brien got out hoop stuff and racked hoops, heading and staves, the same shipped to Oshwego. He also kept a general store and shoemaking business, in a wooden building that stood where Mr. Rogers is now building an opera house. Then he purchased an old oatmeal mill, and water power at west side of the upper dam, and equipped it as a grist mill, which he ran for a number of years. He was a member of the first village council, when the village was incorporated and separated from the township; and served at different times afterwards, both as councillor and reeve. He was also for some time a school trustee.

For many years he was prosperous here, being active, industrious and enterprising; and was a popular man in every way. But he met with reverses in business, and became financially involved so that he had to curtail his operations. Finally, about twenty-five years or more ago, he sold out here and moved to Escott, fifteen miles east of here, where he first rented and then purchased the mill property. He remained there till sickness and old age rendered him unfit for work, when a few years ago he was removed to Kingston.

He was married when a young man, to Miss Bridget Loney, who died about four years ago, and had a large family. His eldest son, Terence, continued the milling business at Escott and McIntosh's Mills, and has now a mill at Lansdowne. Patrick, another son, became a priest, and died young. One daughter, Mrs. R. J. Bowes, lives in New York, and four unmarried daughters in Kingston.

The village of North Gower was visited by the worst storm in its history. Fences were levelled, trees uprooted, and scores of windows were smashed to atoms by the hailstones, which were unusually large. A Holstein cow belonging to Samuel Trevelton, of Sibley, fell into a well and was drowned.
