"DEAD" MAN ALIVE

FATHER RETURNS AFTER HAVING BEEN BURIED.

Astonishing Story of a Man's Double—There Were Several One-Eyed Men in the Community.

Astonishing is the story of a man's double, and with marks so distinctive as to deceive his own wife and family, which has come to light at Bickley, Kent. Arthur Albert Steer has just returned home to discover that, according to the records, he is dead. In a quiet spot in Bromley Cemetery his grave has plants and flowers growing upon it. Steer, who is between fifty and sixty years of age, belongs to Bickley, North Bromley. That place, however, was not large enough to hold his freedom-loving soul for long, so, now and again, he has gone out into the world, and it was while he was on one of these excursions that his family identified someone else's body as his and buried it with lamentation. In April a man's body was recovered from the Thames. He had fallen in the water from Chelsea bridge, and there was nothing to indicate his identity. A description appeared in the press under the heading, "Mystery of a one-eyed man," and Steer's eldest married daughter, Mrs. Seats, who then lived at Penge, felt convinced that it was her father. Nothing had been heard of him for five weeks, and he was depressed when they last saw him. The news was conveyed to Mrs. Steer's large family of grown-up sons and daughters, six of whom went to Horseferry road Mortuary and pronounced the body to be that of their father. The deceased had one eye missing—so had Steer; he had an exceptional ginger-colored moustache—as had Steer; he had a slightly broken nose—so had Steer. Also there was the evidence of a split toe and of spectacles in a coat pocket. The suit, marked "AP 100," was the only difficulty; but the family thought he might have acquired it recently. Mr. John Steer, the eldest son identified the body at the inquest, when the jury agreed that deceased was Arthur Albert Steer, and returned a simple verdict of "Found drowned." The funeral took place in the cemetery of St. Luke's, Bromley common. It was a pathetic little ceremony. The coffin, with Steer's name and the record of his birth and death on a breastplate, was covered with wreaths, carried in a hearse, behind which came two coaches conveying the sorrowing family. He was buried in a family grave, at each end of which a laurel bush was planted. Flowers have been placed upon it regularly ever since, and soon there would have been a tombstone. A fortnight ago some Bickley gasworkers were having a pleasure jaunt at Caterham, and in a public-house they met a man, who, hearing they came from Bickley, casually mentioned that a day or two before he had seen Steer. This provoked an offer of long odds. Wasn't Steer buried at Bromley? Being a man of great virtue, however, the stranger declined to take their money; it was a "cert," he said. Two of Steer's sons, John and Edward, made a cycle search of the district, and to add to the complications of the case they actually discovered another man named Steer, who was no relation, and was also one-eyed! Eventually the elusive Arthur Albert was tracked to Marden; but was not discovered. However, a butcher who knew him offered to tell him, when he saw him next, that a coroner's jury had pronounced him dead, and so it came about that the other night Arthur Albert Steer presented himself once more at the familiar portals of a Bickley public-house—and the apparition nearly gave the company apoplexy. Now he is at the house of his eldest son in Cannon road—a sad and apologetic man. The police were informed at once of this remarkable reappearance of the "dead," and the facts are to be laid before the coroner. Meanwhile, no one has the faintest idea who the man who was buried really is.

Elephants' Terrible Revenge.

The following exciting episode is translated from a native paper "Mambhum" for the "Amrita Bazar Patrira," Calcutta, from which the extract is taken:—"In Agrahayan last, a khera of the village Dalma, Pargana Barahabhum, having gone to his paddy field to inspect it, found a herd of elephants destroying his crop. Naturally he got enraged, and began to shoot arrows at the animals from behind a neighboring tree, which resulted in the death of a young elephant. No sooner did he notice this than the khera ran away, and took shelter in his cottage near by. Maddened at the death of the young elephant, the animals made a furious dash at the cottage, and surrounded and razed it to the ground. The khera, however, somehow or other, escaped with his life, climbed up a peepul tree, and took shelter on its topmost bough. Failing in their attempt, the animals roared in anger, and made another dash with aggravated fury toward the tree and surrounded it. Their strength was increased by a fresh contingent which responded to their roar. The revengeful elephants had the sagacity to fetch water in their trunks from a neighboring bund, sprinkled it around the foot of the tree so as to loosen its hold in the ground, and, ultimately succeeded in uprooting it and avenging themselves in the blood of the unfortunate man."

Wizard's Warning.

The traditions connected with the historical residences of the British aristocracy are many and varied, but none perhaps is more curious than that related about Yester, the Scottish home of Lord and Lady Tweeddale. The old castle—now a picturesque ruin—referred to by Sir Walter Scott in "Marmion, contained a wonderful vaulted hall which Hugh Gifford, the magician, is said to have erected with one stroke of his wand.

But it was not a case of "easy come, easy go," and the wizard solemnly vowed that any man who attempted to tamper with the fair building should swiftly and violently die. The old tradition was recalled when the present Lord Tweeddale's eldest brother, Lord Gifford, was crushed to death by a falling tree. A short time before he had done some clearing operations that interfered with Hugh Gifford's Hall.

PRICKED THE HORSE.

Fined For Using Battery to Make Him Go.

Milwaukee, Aug. 26.—Because he used an electric battery on his horse to make him go fast, Jacob Rapp was fined $1 and costs on complaint of the humane society.

Rapp is a rural mail carrier and is fond of going at a good clip. A year ago Superintendent Clayton of the humane society warned him never to use his whip on his horse. Rapp then got a battery, attached it to his horse and whenever he thought the steed needed a little ginger he turned on the battery. That was why Rapp could cover his route faster than any one else in the service.

Perth Road Happenings.

Perth Road, Aug. 23.—Harvesting operations are about completed in this vicinity, and J. Clough has commenced work with his threshing machine. The dry weather has made pasture very scarce. Our school has re-opened for the fall term, with a fair attendance. The brass band picnic held on the 21st was a success in every way, the main feature of the sports being the football game. The Perth Road team maintained its name of being invincible by defeating the Sydenham players by the score of two to one. A very pleasant lawn social was held in the evening following the picnic. People travelling to Kingston now have to go around the head of Loughboro Lake, as the bridge is being rebuilt. Mr. and Mrs. A. Ennis have returned to Port Hope after visiting relatives here for a few weeks. Mrs. Donaldson and daughter, Dakota, are spending a few days in the neighborhood. Miss Ethel Rae has returned to Manitoba after spending three weeks with relatives at Maple Leaf. R. Ritchie and A. Babcock left, this week, for the Silver City. B. Simpkins made a prolonged visit at W. Ritchie's. H. Ackroyd visiting at Mrs. M. Nellis'. The painters have have finished work on J. Raymond's new house. The many friends of Frank Voteary were much grieved to hear of his rather sudden death in Watertown, on the 21st. The funeral service will be held in the Methodist church here on Sunday. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the community.

Successful Lawn Social.

Lombardy, Aug. 23.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held a very successful lawn social here, last evening. After an excellent supper, short addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Wood and J. H. Ross, Smith's Falls, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Styan. The Citizens' band of Smith's Falls furnished a good programme of music. The proceeds, amounting to about $125, will be devoted to the building fund of the church. Miss Anna Dooher was the guest this week of Miss Balfe at Alexandria Park, on the Rideau. Carl Topping, Perth, is renewing old acquaintances here. Declan, the young son of M. Dooher, had his face and hands badly burned while playing with gunpowder the other day. Dr. Hogan, of Smith's Falls, dressed the wounds and the young patient is all right again. Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, New York, are here to spend a week with Mr. Ryan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ryan. Miss Annie McDonald, Rochester, N.Y., is visiting the Misses Sinnott. Miss Annie Nolan, Perth, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Connell. Master Gordon Neville, Ottawa, is spending the holidays with friends here. Miss Sadie O'Meara, of this place, has been accepted as pupil-nurse in Boston City hospital after three months' probation, and has entered on a three years' course of training there.

Wagarville Wafts.

Wagarville, Aug. 22.—School has re-opened after the long vacation. Farmers report grain as very thin. The people around here received quite a scare last week, over the bush fire. But no serious damage was done, except for the fencing on Allan Wagar's farm and a field of grain. The cause of the fire is unknown. D. McCumber is home from Mishawaka, Ind., also Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond. Mrs. S. Knowlton and children of Gananoque, are visiting at her sisters, Mrs. H. J. Wagar's. Harvey Cronk and Thomas McCumber are home from Brownville, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. B. Raymond, of Penn, Ind., spent a couple of days at William McCumber's. Miss Carrie Barr and Miss Gertie Bertram spent Sunday at C. Barr's; Mr. and Mrs. W. Tacey and children, of Brownville, N. Y., are visiting friends here; W. Barf, at Ashley Wager's; Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond are spending a couple of days at Mississippi; Miss Gertie Barr is home for a few days. Quite a number from here took in the 12th, at Long Lake. A dance was given in the I.O.O.F. hall in the evening; all report a good time. Wilson Cronk is home after spending a few days in Kingston.

James Schrum Of Dartmouth Makes Valuable Discovery

Says the Most Obstinate Case of Stomach or Liver Trouble is Quickly Curable.

Dartmouth, N.S., Aug. 26.—There is a strong moral in the statement of Jas. Schrum, of Pleasant street. Like thousands of people he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away, he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave the tone and strength to my stomach that it craved for. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly enervated man and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable, the ingredients coming from the great storehouse of nature, they can't help but heal, strengthen, cure.

"THE OLD SCRATCH."

How the Evil One Came to Be Popularly Known as "The Old Scratch."

One of the many familiar names of his satanic majesty is "The Old Scratch." It is undoubtedly due to the fact that scratching is so disagreeable that people thought it no worse than the evil one. A scalp full of dandruff keeps one scratching all the time; not only disagreeable but considered very indelegant in polite society—as it should be—because one ought to keep the scalp so clean that it would not itch. To cure the scalp of dandruff effectively use Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the germ that creates the dandruff, which is preliminary to falling hair, and, finally, baldness. No other hair preparation kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide also is a very delightful and effective hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicides Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c. and $1. G. W. Mahood, special agent.

Harlowe Happenings.

Harlowe, Aug. 23.—A number from here enjoyed the Methodist picnic at Clyne, to-day. F. Hillier, Huntsville, spent a few days at his father's recently. He was accompanied back to his home by his sister, Mrs. C. Miller. Mr. Wheeler, Parry Road, is at her daughter's, Mrs. A. Palmateer's. Miss Cousins, Plevna, and Mr. Mallory, of New Ontario, were the guests of Mrs. White on Sunday last. Miss M. Morrison intends going near Flinton to teach. Misses L. M. Johnston and P. F. Taylor have returned to their schools after their holidays. A few of our young people spent a pleasant evening at Mrs. A. Marshall's, on Wednesday evening. Miss D. Spicer, Parry Road, is at her grandfather's, O. Cole. Mrs. E. Bishop is spending a few days in Kingston. Master E. Perry, Parry Road, has returned home from his sister's, Mrs. E. Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Wingham, are at her father's J. Critchley. A little girl has come to brighten the home of Rev. Mr. McMullen. Some from here attended the English church picnic at Flinton, on Wednesday last. Miss H. Critchley leaves to-morrow, for her school at Clarendon Station. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whiteman are moving in their new home. Joel Thompson, Lost Channel, at J. Thompson's.

A Wedding Predicted.

Maple Grove, Aug. 24.—Dr. Snider' family, Norfolk county, spending a few weeks here with friends, was accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. Charles Snider. Miss Vera Burgess, spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Elgin Parrott, York Road, has returned. Miss Florence Joyner, Lapum, and Miss Flossie Martin, Sydenham, were guests of Miss Bertie Snider, Tuesday afternoon. Harold Snook, Westbrook, was recently a visitor at W. H. Frink's. O. A. Snider and wife, and Mrs. Charles Jones, of Rochester, N.Y., with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cambridge. Miss Florence Joyner, Lapum, and Miss Flossie Martin, Sydenham, were amongst the invited guests at the party on Wednesday afternoon, given by the Misses L. and V. Burgess. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hartman are making preparations to attend a number of fall fairs. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Frink visited friends at Sydenham, last week. Mrs. Nicholas Hicks, St. Catharines, with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Snider. Rumor says a wedding will shortly take place here. Dennis Lucas is having some repairs done on his buildings. Henry Bush, Lapum, is doing the work.

Pickpockets reaped a rich harvest at Ogdensburg, on the street cars running to and from the circus grounds. There were many reports of losses. James Moore touched for $460; another gentleman visitor lost over $100; Benjamin Dickson, of Morristown, was loser of $26; an Ottawa man lost $15, and a man from Massena missed $16.

THE PARAGRAPH PULPIT

Unitarian.

REV. C. W. CASSON, OTTAWA.

The Inexorable Laws.

We must sooner or later discover the existence and complete dominance of inexorable laws in the realm of spiritual life. The natural world, so called, is not more under the domain of law than is the spiritual, so called. As a matter of fact, these two realms are one and the same, and the law which is manifested in the one is also dominant in the other. In so far, therefore, as your religion is based upon the cognizance of law, is it in accord with the highest wisdom. If you are relying upon any supernatural suspension of law by the mercy of God, you will sometime have cause to regret your mistake.

Address, Mr. Casson for free literature.

Thomas Lawford, Smith's Falls, aged seventy years had his first ride on a steamboat on Tuesday last.
