Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about vourself. She is the daughter-inlaw of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twentyfive years has been advising sick women free of charge. Dear Mrs. Pinkham :-

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stepped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor Philadelphia, 1-5. At Brooklyn, 3-2: and would have to undergo an operation.

'Boon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods examined once more and I am entirely riods around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chesnut Street Bradford, Pa.

HIS PRAYER ANSWERED.

Baptist Preacher Asked For Rain

to Spoil Fair. Worcester, Mass., Sept. 9.-The power of prayer is a general topic of comment because rain spoiled the New England fair, after the Rev. Orson E. Mallory had prayed for such event, because some of the concession-nires worked on Sunday. The officials, who admit the fair will end with a $6,000 loss, are very unhappy. The farmers and the general public, disappointed at not being able to see the fair, are criticizing the clerical petition for rain. The concessionaires, who paid for ground privilege, and whose work last Sunday in getting their tents and booths ready called down the wrath of Mr. Mallory, are also disturbed.

Mr. Mallory says he did pray for rain, the rain came, and he is glad of Mr. Mallory, who is postor of the Dewer Street Bantist church, heard early Sunday morning that the men were hard at work on the fair grounds. He offered a prayer at the morning service that the Lord would send rain to spoil the fair and punish the officials for allowing Sunday de-Rain came promptly on Monday, and on Tuesday there was more fain. The downfall came in a perfect flood Wednesday, and Thursday the fair officials admitted the enterprise was a rain-soaked failure.

Manufacturers Preparing Tweeds of Startling Shades. London, Sept. 9.-The editor of the Tailor and Cutter, the recognized authority in matters of English masculine dress, outlines the men's fashions for the coming winter. It says that the success of the introduction of green tweed has induced manufacturers to prepare other colors, such as light blue, bright brown, and various shades of purple and green. If these should be generally adopted, the streets would become radiant with many rainbow hues. The latest style of evening dress is a swallow-tail coat the king has set the fashion. It is cut rather long, and made to define figure at the waist.
