CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD

A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

A mother should come to her child's aid at his critical time and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without gain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole, of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"When fourteen years of age I suffered all the time with nervousness, and for two or three years I had nervous and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think I saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood. I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs timely advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

YOUNG AGE PENSIONS.

Eminent Doctors Say More Money Should Be Spent.

London Daily Mail.

Much argument has been aroused by Sir Lauder Brunton's suggestion, as stated in the Daily Mail, that it would be a deal cheaper to spend money on children than pounds on paupers. In urging "youthage" rather than "old-age" pensions the eminent physician declared that if more money were spent on guarding the welfare of young people it would minimize the number of helpless old people; children given a sound bodily health in their infancy would be able to take care of themselves in later years.

Sir George Livesey said: "What seems to be far more important than bodily health is mental health. We ought to do more towards inculcating principles of honesty and industry, and then we would have fewer old people asking for pensions. It is not an easy teaching, but it is a principle, and some of them are too independent already. But our schools do used to be more persistent in making young people honest and enterprising. Let us go in for more of that, and then, with good health, the start in life will be founded on solid rock."

The Hon. J. P. Whitney, premier of Ontario, is a proponent for children's physical welfare are imperative. "It is useless to try to inculcate moral principles when physical principles are neglected," he said, speaking at Whitechurch Hall, where the condition must be looked after along with the other."

The Export Apple Trade.

Trade Bulletin.

Liverpool apple importers who have just arrived to commence the new season, state that the prospects are good for a profitable export business. If buyers here will take care and not repeat the mistakes of former seasons by rushing in and paying too high prices for the fruit. It is feared, however, that too high figures have already been paid in a number of instances to net a profit on the other side. As regards the late apples they are two or three weeks late, which does not mean that they will be lost for their consumption, as when that portion of the season is passed the demand passes with it. Parties just returned from the principal apple sections of Ontario and New York state that they found apples wherever they went, not in abundant quantities, but of good quality. The late apples were the cop appeared to them to be more generous than usual. That there will be sufficient for both home and export requirements, without resort to extravagant prices, is not doubted. The late rains, which do not seem to have done much in swelling the fruit and transforming the small apples into fair sized ones. For the winter fruit different prices have been paid, ranging from $2.50 to $3.00 per bushel. Local buyers in Ontario as to quality. American buyers have been looking around in the west for winter varieties, but they assert that no business can be done there, as their market, as prices are too high in Ontario to admit of paying duty into the states.

Former Crown Princess Manages Business.

London, Sept. 18.—The Countess Montignosi and Signor Jonselli, the Italian pianist, whose former Crown Princess of Saxony, have been married shortly by special license, drove away from their hotel in a hansom and didn't return till late last evening. As usual they avoided speaking to anyone and anyone who inquired their room. Since their arrival they have received neither visitors nor correspondence. So it is believed the countess has kept her whereabouts a complete secret, and her lawyer, in the meantime she apparently is in no immediate need of funds. This morning before starting on her drive, she changed a thousand lire note into English money, and she carefully counted and placed in a silver handbag. The countess, in fact, seems to manage all business affairs herself, while Jonselli plays the role of spectator. The day of their arrival at the hotel, the countess who stated that they wanted a room with bath and asked the price. When told this would be eight pounds, she promptly handed over the money, and she finally secured an apartment for fifteen shillings. Then, turning to Jonselli, she smilingly informed him in Italian that she had struck a bargain.

The princess, up to the present, has had an annual allowance of (six) $9,000. By the terms of the agreement she will lose this on re-marriage. Jonselli is believed to be practically penniless.

St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 18.—The steamer Advance was held up in the Welland canal, at Thorold, by High Constable Boyle, who compelled Capt. The case was heard by Police Magistrate Confort, and the men told a story of wretchedness inflicted upon them by Capt. Daust, who finally discharged them because they were English. When the evidence was taken, MacFarlane swore with the crew and paid the costs and the boat proceeded.

And they are well worth seeing, all kinds of shapes are shown, tall and broad and flat and large and small, to suit all faces, and the colors were never richer, beautiful Wood Shades, Soft Greys, Berry Shades, Bright and Dull Reds, with some pretty shades of Blue and Pink. Purple too is a leading shade. One model was made of Purple Pannies shading from Pale Mauve to deep Dark Purple. Another coming model was made of Wine Colored Velvet, which fitted down pretty over the hair in the back and was trimmed with Cock's Feathers of the same shade. The effect was very jaunty. Another pretty hat was a Soft Grey Felt fitting down close in the back and with three large Grey Plumes falling over the brim on the left side and the rest of the trimming being of Grey Silk to match the hat and large headed plumes. Any number of Black Velvet Hats are shown too, trimmed with Plum, Cock's Feathers, or Wings. Taken all together the showing will well repay a close inspection.

Cost Less than Stoves

A Hecla Furnace, installed on Hecla principles, will keep your house comfortable throughout the winter at less fuel expense than it would cost you for stoves. It is the old story, of course, of concentration meaning economy.

Hecla, you get all the heat from the coal where you want it. The whole house is evenly heated and ventilated.

To-daytime's Best.

T. A. Daily in Catholic Standard.

To-daytime is the time for me
To walk and grow and bloom.
I wish To-day could always be
And never go away.
It is so pretty and so wide,
And it can stretch so far,
I can be lots of places beside
The places that you are.
For once when Pa had taken me
A-riding in a train,
I followed every place that he
Was at and home again.
To-daytime runs out anywhere,
It is so queer instead
Of running out to stay upstairs,
Where is my little bed.
One time I was so active there
Because I had a pain,
And Mr. Brock rode me in a chair
Till I'm asleep again.
And when I waked again and spied
To-daytime here and gone,
To-daytime ran away to hide
Behind the closet door.
Ma says To-daytime gives her rest,
It keeps so quiet and so true,
And so she likes To-daytime best,
I'm sure I never will.

In Warm Weather

Vinol is as delicious as a fresh orange, and as soothing as can be to the weak, irritable stomach. It comes back lost appetite, improves digestion and creates strength throughout the whole system. We strongly recommend Vinol to all who are weak and run-down from any cause,—particularly to delicate women and children, old people and for those who have pulmonary troubles. Money back if you try Vinol and are not satisfied.
